PARIS, March 14.—Since February 25 the Germans have gained practically no important position; nevertheless, since March 2 they have been delivering powerful blows at various points along the front between Bethincourt and Fresnes, with local successes here and there. The French also have counter-attacked successfully at certain points.

The latest and fiercest fighting has been in the Bois des Corbeaux, north of Malancourt, which the Germans took at last, in the region of Vaux, where the battle, after swaying to and fro for several days, seems to have left the Germans in possession of the greater part of the village. But, as I said before, these successes are of very local significance.

The German offensive has been vir-

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 14.—Edwin R. Spencer, a negro, arrived here tonight from Hachita, N. M., and said he had been a captive of Villa's men before their raid on Columbus last week. He said he escaped when the retreat started. Spencer declared that before the attack Villa made a speech which so inflamed some of his men that they wept and shrieked. A few, he said, got down on the ground and beat the earth with their fists.

Expedition.

ADVANCE GUARD INTO MEXICO MAY LEAVE IN A FEW HOURS.

EL PASO (Tex.) March 14.—Through the thick veil of censorship which has been established by Gen. Funston, sufficient information came today to confirm the belief that the advance guard of the first expeditionary force may start in pursuit of Villa in a time to be measured by hours. The main force may not start for two or three days.

While the border waited in keen expectancy for word that United States soldiers had crossed the international line reports flowed in from Mexican sources that Mexico's arch bandit had already been surrounded by the troops of Carranza. The "first chief" was apparently making strenuous efforts to anticipate the Americans and was reported from several sources to have concentrated more than 10,000 troops at different points about the Casas Grandes region in Chihuahua, where Villa is supposed to be.

The officers of the Tenth Cavalry left here today for Columbus shortly after it was learned that the passage of transport trains between here and the scene of the Villa raid had ceased. They were practically the last of the corps of officers who were stationed here. The stoppage of transport trains was regarded as particularly significant, as their movement had never ceased, night and day, since the news of the Columbus raid was flashed through the country. Their stopping now is taken to mean that the concentration of supplies at Columbus has been practically completed.

CENSORSHIP.

On account of the censorship the little definite news that has reached here from Columbus was brought by incoming passengers. They reported that while military activities were being carried forward at feverish speed the indications were that it would be some days at least before the main punitive force moved. It is considered likely, however, that some advance scouting parties may cross the border within the next twenty-four hours.

DISAPPOINTMENT.

A number of moving picture men who hurried out of here early today in the belief that the crossing was about to be effected, returned here disappointed. They reported that Gen. Pershing, in command of the expedition, had issued positive orders that no pictures could be taken.

EXCITEMENT.

The strong undercurrent of excitement along the border was stirred today by news that a Southern Pacific train had been fired upon at Belen, Tex., seventeen miles east of here. Conductor Rogers, in charge of the train, saying that several shots had been fired from underbrush near the station.

MEXICANS ARRESTED.

The local police continue to arrest Mexicans who were supposed to be in communication with the Villistas and eleven, all former officers, generals or Cabinet Ministers of Villa, are now in jail here. While there has been no disturbance of any kind here, the apprehension felt by the American population was indicated by heavy sales of guns and ammunition in the last few days. Gun stores reported today that they were almost completely sold out of ammunition.

CHASED BY MEXICANS.

Two dust-covered automobiles were towed in here today from Lanark, twenty-eight miles west on the border. They were the cars three railroad officials had attempted to drive from Columbus here on Sunday. They were chased by Mexicans and boarded a train after distancing their attackers.

Mrs. J. J. Moore, wife of a rancher who was killed in the retreat of the Villistas from Columbus, left for her home in Bucyrus, O. Mrs. Moore was wounded in the leg by a pistol shot and had her rings torn from her fingers by the bandits. She was left for dead near the corpse of her husband.

Joint Resolution.

TO INCREASE REGULAR ARMY TO FULL FIGHTING STRENGTH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A joint resolution authorizing the President to bring the regular army up to full strength by adding 19,447 men to existing organizations was passed in the House late today without objection or debate and with only one dissenting vote.

Representative Hay, chairman of the Military Committee, had asked for immediate consideration of the resolution, saying the step was necessary owing to demands of citizens along the border for additional protection during the march of the punitive expedition into Mexico. There was no objection and the resolution was passed in five minutes.

On the viva voce vote one "nay" was heard. Minority Leader Mann demanded a rising vote, which resulted 236 to 1, Representative London (Soc.) of New York voting in the negative.

Representative Hay told the House the administration had recommended this plan rather than call for the militia or volunteers. The President wanted to allay any suspicion, he said, that the government sought to accomplish anything in the Mexican expedition except the pursuit of Villa.

The resolution will be called up in the Senate tomorrow.

WORKING IN HARMONY.

Republicans and Democrats worked in perfect harmony for adoption of the resolution despite the fact that their leaders on the Military Committee disagreed as to the exact meaning of it.

Representative Hay held, and War Department officials agreed with him, that under the resolution the President is authorized to raise the army to a fighting strength of 129,947 men. Including all divisions, such as the Medical Corps and the other nonfighting units, he says, the total number of men in the army under the resolution might reach 135,000.

Mr. Kahn, the ranking Republican member, insisted that a total of not more than 102,000 fighting men might be maintained under the provisions of the resolution. He contended that the outside estimate of the total strength that could be mustered under the resolution would be about 120,000.

The one point upon which all agreed, however, was that the resolution would add at least 20,000 men to the fighting strength of the army.

Preparation of the resolution began soon after a conference between Representatives Hay and Kahn and Secretary Baker at the War Department. They hastened back to the Capitol, consulted Republican Leader Mann and Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, obtained a special rule for immediate consideration of the resolution and were ready to present it in little more than an hour.

It had been planned to send the resolution to the Senate for concurrence today, but on account of the death of

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

Just at the time the French are announcing their growing conviction that it is all over with the Germans at and around Verdun, comes the news of a strong and renewed offensive by the Germans at that very place. Information from a variety of sources indicates that the Germans mean to state their peace terms more clearly after they capture Verdun. The object of their attack on this stronghold, it is said, is to make it clear that they can take anything they want and thus prepare the world for the statement of terms of peace.

Censored border dispatches alleged that the movement of the American punitive expedition into Mexico to capture Villa dead or alive may start across the line this morning. Rumors and fears that the Carranzistas and Villistas are hatching a plan to coalesce their forces and make common cause against the United States are contained in Washington dispatches.

Rioting Among Carranzistas at Ojinaga Brings Call for American Cavalry.

Reports from Presidio and El Paso Indicate that Villa Marauders are Near the International Line at Marfa, Tex. Senator Fall Fears Constitutionalist Troops and the Outlaws will Make Common Cause.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 14.—Points near Columbus, N. M., where the American expeditionary force is gathering, reported tonight that preparations were under way indicating that part of the American troops were in readiness to cross the border by tomorrow morning.

PRESIDIO (Tex.) March 14.—A troop of the Thirteenth Cavalry is on its way here from Marfa on rush orders following a report that rioting has broken out among the Carranza troops at Ojinaga, across the border from here and that Gen. Rojas, the Carranza commander, has been assassinated.

PRESIDIO (Tex.) March 14.—A number of Mexican farmers who arrived here tonight bringing farm products to market from Chihuahua to Presidio and Ojinaga, say they were intercepted at two different times by Villista bands, who seized all their guns, ammunition, saddles and extra horses. The last time they were held up was about fifty miles southeast of Ojinaga. Beyond being robbed they were not disturbed by the bandits, who said their headquarters were at Agua Chile.

The leaders of the bands, which numbered about sixty men each, on learning of the location of Presidio, announced they intended to make an attack on it within a few days.

EL PASO (Tex.) March 14.—A report received by Gen. Gavira from Corralitos today stated that five Mexican ranchers, all members of one family, had been murdered there by Villa when he reached that town in his flight from Columbus.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 14.—Part of the Carranza force now reported from the border to be surrounding Villa can better be depended upon to hail Villa as their real leader than to aid in his capture, according to Senator Fall of New Mexico. The Senator declared that the two garrisons of Villistas who were turned over, for so much money, to the Carranza colors after the defeat of Villa by Obregon last November, are being counted in this surrounding force.

"The garrison at Juarez," said Senator Fall, "consisting of 800 men, was turned over to Carranza while I was on my way to Congress last November. I heard all about the transaction while I was at El Paso. I was reliably informed that the deal by which the garrison was to be turned over was held up for several days because one Villa general was insistent that his share of the price, the total of which was $30,000, was not sufficient. This was finally adjusted, and the surrender made.

"Virtually the same thing, without the delay incident, happened at Casas Grandes, where about 500 Villistas went over to Carranza after the defeat of their chief. I do not know what the price was there.

"But the point is that the Carranza surrounding force cannot be counted upon to crush Villa. Whenever I hear anyone talking about that I am reminded of a story, the truth of which can be attested by affidavits of the American trainmen involved. A government expedition started after a bandit from a small town in Mexico. After the train had proceeded for about an hour it was discovered that the parrot of the wife of one of the private soldiers had been left behind, so the cord was pulled, the train stopped and the whole expedition backed to the town to get the parrot."

Senator Fall declared he has been severely criticised for holding that the reciprocal agreement was unconstitutional. He quoted tonight from the Mexican Constitution to the effect that the Congress should have power (section 13, paragraph 3,) "to approve the treaties, agreements or diplomatic conventions which the Executive may make."

The Senator also quoted from article 9 of the Protocol of Agreement, July 29, 1882, regarding the pursuit of Indians. This is the treaty under the spirit of which, Secretary of State Lansing says, the present reciprocal agreement was made. The section, showing that the approval of the Mexican Senate was obtained even for that agreement proves, Senator Fall holds, that the present reciprocal

BIG JUAREZ GARRISON MAKES EL PASO UNEASY.

Citizens of Border Town are Wondering Why Additional Troops are Being Sent There Rather than to the Country Where Villa is Known to Be—Moving Picture Men are Not Wanted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL PASO, March 14.—El Pasoans are wondering tonight why the Carranza government, which is claiming to be sending 15,000 men in pursuit of Villa, should find it necessary to send the troops to the border while Villa admittedly is more than 200 miles from the border.

The arrival in Juarez today of Gen. Luis Gutierrez with 500 men, following the arrival of as many more of his army, two days ago, and the failure of Americans to learn that any troops are being sent from the border to pursue Villa, leads to the belief that Carranza officials are massing troops on the border for a purpose which has nothing to do with Villa's pursuit.

From the best information obtainable with war-time secrecy being maintained in Juarez, there are 1500 Mexican soldiers in Juarez and more are on the way there. In Juarez the only information given out is that the troops are to be sent into the Galeana district in pursuit of Villa, but Carranza army officers are very careful to omit any intimation that the troops are to aid the American army in running Villa down.

OFFICIALS RECONCILED.

Apparently the Carranza officials in Juarez and Gen. Gavira, the commander there, are reconciled to the sending of American troops into Mexico, but there is little in their actions or attitude to indicate that they intend to co-operate with Gen. Pershing's or any other force of American troops. The hope of every Mexican on the border is that Carranza troops may capture or kill Villa before the Americans get to him. This is freely admitted. No moving pictures of the American chase of Villa will be permitted say arrivals today from Columbus. Moving picture operators who went to Columbus expecting to get pictures of the start of the chase and the assembling of the army of invasion, found the censorship against this even more strict than against news of troop movements, and most of them were getting out to other points, the arrivals said.

There was no indication here today that any movement into Mexico through Juarez is imminent. Mexican residents of El Paso, numbering more than 20,000, and the 5000 or more Mexican refugees here show now by their actions that they are not convinced the United States is in earnest about going after Villa. No open antagonism is shown by the Mexicans on this side; instead, they are apprehensive. Few Mexicans were on the streets today, and tonight scarcely any are to be seen.

To allay apprehension among the American residents, city officials let it be known that abundant precautions have been taken to provide against the possibility of an outbreak, adding that it is not believed there will be the slightest danger.

Policy.

PLANS TO CAPTURE VILLA CONTINUED WITH VIGOR.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—While there were indications in official dispatches from Mexico today that the de facto government was making a supreme effort to capture Villa and his bandits with its own forces, there was no sign that Gen. Funston's orders to proceed on the same errand had been modified in any way.

Word that American troops had crossed the border was still lacking, the War Department itself not having been advised as to when the movement would begin.

TO INCREASE ARMY.

Congress took active notice of the border situation today for the first time. The House passed a joint resolution late in the day, authorizing the recruiting of the mobile regular army to full strength. This means the addition of approximately 20,000 fighting men to the infantry, cavalry and field artillery. The Senate is expected to concur tomorrow and the necessary orders will be issued immediately to fill up regiments on border duty.

The step was suggested by the Army General Staff. It is urgently desired now because of the weakening of the border force by the expedition after Villa, but ever since the patrol of the border began the army has been greatly handicapped by the skeleton organization of regiments, companies, troops and batteries. The force that occupied Vera Cruz had similar difficulties, some of the companies there being less than forty men strong.

CONFERENCE IS HELD.

Secretary Baker conferred today with Senator Chamberlain and Representative Hay, chairmen of the Congressional military committees, and later Representative Hay returned to the War Department, accompanied by Representative Kahn, ranking Republican member of the House Committee. The resolution was introduced by Representative Hay immediately upon his return to the capitol. Its consideration was expedited by unanimous consent, and its passage followed with only Representative London, Socialist, voting against it.

At the State Department, steps were taken to make it certain that distorted versions of the American purpose in sending armed forces across the border were not given wide circulation in Mexico. By cable, telegraph, radio and mail, full statements of all that has transpired since the raid upon Columbus and of the attitude of the United States government and its reciprocal agreement with the Carranza government went forward to consuls and State Department agents throughout the southern republic. The intention is to keep these officials fully informed in order that they can correct immediately and authoritatively any misstatements or misapprehensions in their districts. Also they will be able to advise Americans with a full knowledge of the situation.

A PUBLICITY BUREAU.

In effect, the United States has established a publicity bureau in Mexico to make clear its peaceful purposes toward every resident of Mexico with the exception of Villa and the bandits who raided Columbus.

The situation along the border was explained in detail to the Cabinet today by Secretary Baker. Troop dispositions so far as they are known to the War Department were indicated on military maps, displayed in the Cabinet-room. The Secretary, it is understood, outlined the natural difficulties which Gen. Pershing and his expedition will have to overcome, the adverse climatic conditions, lack of water, great stretches of territory to be searched and poor communication lines. The Cabinet also discussed the proposal to increase the army to full strength. The President has power to do this by executive order, but with Congress in session, it was deemed wiser that Congress should act on its own motion.

The Cabinet considered also advices from many parts of Mexico, all of an assuring nature. There were no indications among these of an anti-American feeling because of the determination to pursue and capture or kill the bandits.

THE STATEMENT.

Later the State Department made public the following message from its representative at Queretaro, where the Carranza government is now located:

"Reply of the United States to de facto government's note of March 10, Columbus border situation, received at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Personally presented this important communication orally and in writing to Foreign Secretary Acuna at 5:30 p.m. He read same in my presence and afterward said:

"'I am pleased to receive a reply of this character from the government of the United States. It will relieve the very delicate situation that has developed owing to the Columbus affair. I will immediately transmit this reply to the Chief Executive and am of the opinion that there will be a reply to this courteous note expressing appreciation of same. In this event I shall deliver it to you immediately for transmittal to the government of the United States.'

"It was plainly evident that the reply created a most favorable impression."

OTHER REPORTS.

Official reports from Monterey, Matamoros and other points said good order prevailed and conditions were unchanged although the people had full knowledge of what had transpired at Columbus, and the plans of the American government dealing with Villa. From the west coast navy advices said the people of the Mexican towns appeared undisturbed by reports that American troops were to move across the border. Admiral Winslow said the situation was greeted with satisfaction by a great majority of the people.

Meanwhile the censorship over movement on the border was drawn tighter and few messages relating to troop movements were allowed to filter out either there or here. It is understood the department has cautioned Gen. Funston against too full a publication of his plans or of the purpose behind orders to various units of his force. Four newspaper correspondents were officially designated during the day to accompany the expedition and orders were issued for their credentials.

FUNSTON'S DECISION.

In announcing Gen. Funston's decision that no more than four correspondents could accompany the troops, Secretary Baker made it plain that there was no disposition to limit publicity as to what was done beyond the border. Only the military aspects of the matter were considered, he said; the problem of providing suitable accommodations with a comparatively small force. It is understood Gen. Pershing, who will lead the expedition, fixed the number of correspondents to go along.

A GIRL'S COMPLEXION

These may be due to indigestion resulting from improper diet. If so they will quickly disappear when the proper food is adhered to. If they are accompanied by pallor and listlessness you must look to the condition of the blood.

Because these eruptions on the faces of school girls are so common they seldom receive the attention from parents that they require. When they indicate thin blood or anemia there is a ready remedy in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These tonic pills, free from harmful drugs, are pretty sure to help growing girls because they build up the blood at a time when the demand on it is greatest. As the blood is made rich and red, fickle appetites become normal, lassitude gives way to vigor, the cheeks and lips show the glow of health and the whole system is toned up. The nervous system is invigorated and with proper attention to diet many dangers are averted.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. The pamphlet, "Building Up the Blood," is free on request.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO OR PAIN FROM BACK

Ah! Pain is gone!

Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your painful back and like magic relief comes. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless backache, lumbago and sciatica cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin.

Straighten up! Quit complaining! Stop those torturous "stitches." In a moment you will forget that you ever had a weak back, because it won't hurt or be stiff or lame. Don't suffer. Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from your druggist now and get this lasting relief.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen, and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated, waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

EASTERN RAILROAD EARNINGS INCREASE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Revenues of forty-three railroads operating east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac increased by about $3,800,000 during the month of October, 1915, under the new rates authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission in the 5 per cent. case.

In an estimate made public today the commission says this increase is estimated by taking the traffic actually hauled in October and applying both the old and new rates.

On freight traffic the increase was about $2,700,000, and on passenger about $936,000.

CONVENTION DATE FIXED.

WATER POWER BILL DEBATED.

Myers Measure is Vigorously Discussed in Senate.

Authorizes Fifty-year Leases on Our Public Lands.

Charges will be Assessed on the Net Results.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Debate on the Myers bill to lease public lands for water-power sites began today in the Senate. Most of the Senators in the Rocky Mountain States which would be most affected by the bill are opposed to the measure, and it is predicted it will be as vigorously discussed as was the Shields bill providing for water-power sites on navigable rivers, which passed the Senate a week ago after more than a month's discussion.

Western Senators oppose the principle that the central government has any control over the waters of the State other than relates to their navigability and are against the leasing system.

The Myers bill would authorize the Secretary of the Interior to grant leases for fifty years, after which the Federal government, upon payment of a fair value, might take over the property, extend the leases or release the improvement to another applicant.

Charges for leases would be assessed on a basis of the power created, 50 per cent. of the proceeds to go to the State in which the improvement is located, and the remainder into the reclamation fund.

RATES ON STEEL TO WEST ADVANCED.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Transcontinental railroads were authorized today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to establish a rate of 65 cents a hundred pounds from Pittsburgh territory to Pacific Coast ports on iron and steel articles now taking a rate of 55 cents per hundred pounds from Chicago to the same ports. The commission points out that Pittsburgh is the real center of the steel industry and that the rail rate adjustment from there to the Pacific Coast should be such as to in some measure cope with the rail and ocean rates via the Panama Canal. During 1914, it says, the rate from New York to the Pacific Coast was 80 cents a hundred pounds, a rate which the railroads in this case argued as the normal water rate which the rail lines must meet.

SENATOR SHIVELY DIES AT CAPITAL.

THOMAS TAGGART OF INDIANA MAY SUCCEED HIM.

Senior Representative from the Hoosier State was Long Known as a Tariff Expert, but has been Unable to Perform Duties Due to Complication of Diseases.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Benjamin F. Shively, senior Senator from Indiana, and for years a prominent figure in Congress, died late today at a hospital here. He had been ill many months from a complication of diseases and for more than a month has been unable to perform actively his official duties. He was 58 years old.

During three terms in the House and the seven years he had been in the Senate, Senator Shively had devoted his activities particularly to foreign affairs and tariff legislation. At the time of his death he was ranking Democratic member of the Foreign Relations Committee, of which he had been acting chairman during the critical period preceding and following the American occupation of Vera Cruz.

In the House he had been regarded as a tariff expert, serving conspicuously on the Ways and Means Committee and later as a member of an important subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee, exerted a powerful influence in the framing of the Underwood-Simmons tariff law.

The announcement of Mr. Shively's death was received with many manifestations of sorrow in both the Senate and House. Senator Kern, his colleague, in announcing it in the Senate, said he was performing the saddest duty of his official life. Both there and in the House resolutions of regret were adopted, committees were appointed to attend the funeral and adjournment was taken as a further mark of respect.

Senator Shively had suffered from diabetes for nearly fifteen years, and a resultant cancerous growth in the throat confined him to his bed February, last. He improved under treatment, but was not able to attend the present session of Congress except on the day he took the oath of office for his second term.

His condition became more critical last night, but toward morning he rallied. Today he suffered another relapse, and Mrs. Shively and a son and daughter were in the sick room during his last hours. The body will be taken to South Bend, Ind., for burial.

TAGGART MAY GET JOB.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 14.—Gov. S. H. Ralston has the power to fill the vacancy caused by the death of United States Senator Shively until his successor can be elected, which will be next November.

Since the primary at which candidates for nominations for United States Senator were voted for, was held last Tuesday, the nominations will be made in the State conventions held in April. While no one in authority would make any comment, it was generally believed that the Governor would appoint Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman for Indiana.

FISHERIES BILL FOR THE COLUMBIA.

DR. COOK MAINTAINS HE FOUND THE POLE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook appeared today before the House Education Committee in support of the Helgesen and Smith bills for a Congressional inquiry to determine whether he or Rear-Admiral Robert E. Peary discovered the North Pole. Dr. Cook said he was the man.

The committee took no action other than to tell Dr. Cook that he might be given a chance to prove his claims.

LOOK OUT FOR BAD FIVE-DOLLAR BILLS.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The secret service today issued a warning against a counterfeit of the five-dollar note of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank which appeared on the Pacific Coast. The counterfeit is printed from zinc etched plates, poorly executed and readily detected. Five persons have been arrested for passing the counterfeits.

COUNTERFEITERS ARRESTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—Secret service agents here said that the circulation of the counterfeit five-dollar Federal Reserve Bank notes has stopped with the arrest recently of George Smith, Harry Welch, John Meade and another man in San Francisco and Elmer Todd in Seattle. It was said that only a small number of the notes had been loosed and were readily caught up because of their inferior quality.

The counterfeit paper was printed in San Francisco, it was said, but the location of the "plant" was not found.

DREADNAUGHT 44 TO BE CALIFORNIA.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary Daniels announced late today that the name California will be given to dreadnaught No. 44 to be constructed at the Mare Island navy yard, instead of to the dreadnaught No. 40 now under construction at New York. Dreadnaught No. 40 will be christened New Mexico, after the only State for which no battleship or armored cruiser has yet been named.

The name of No. 44 was changed in response to requests from members of the California delegation in Congress.

LANSING WORN OUT, TAKES A VACATION.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary Lansing was on his way to Pinehurst, N. C., today for a week's vacation. For many weeks the Secretary has been working steadily in a heavy pressure of diplomatic affairs and feels the need of a rest. Taking a vacation at this time was regarded here as indicative of how completely the State Department regards the Mexican situation in the hands of the army and that the understanding with Gen. Carranza is complete.

AMERICANS REACH HAITI.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Arrival of the cruiser Tennessee at Port au Prince, Haiti, last Saturday, was reported today to the State Department. The American delegation aboard, which is headed by Secretary McAdoo, were received by the Haitian President and continued their voyage to Buenos Aires to join the International High Commission.

SHOALS IS PARDONED.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Wilson today commuted to expire at once a life sentence imposed by a Federal court on James Shoals, at Atoka, Indian Territory, in October, 1904, for the murder of Henry Dolman. Shoals has served more than eleven years in Leavenworth penitentiary and Atty.-Gen. Gregory recommended commutation of his sentence.

WAR CRUISERS BADLY NEEDED.

Capt. Sims, Says We Should Have at Least Nine.

Also Declares We are Short on Torpedoboat Destroyers.

Characterizes Present Naval Berths as a Snap.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Immediate construction of eight or nine battle cruisers to provide an element of strength now lacking in the American fleet, was urged before the House Naval Committee today by Capt. Sims, commanding the battleship Nevada.

The captain advised also the building of many additional destroyers. He said that, while much had been accomplished toward making armored ships less vulnerable to torpedoes, there had been no solution of the problem of protecting a fleet against torpedo attack in open sea.

The witness said it was important that any great expedition against the United States would start from either side of the Atlantic, but that some point in the West Indies probably would be used as a base. He indorsed the Navy Department's proposal to promote officers by selection and not by seniority.

Before the hearing today Chairman Padgett conferred with President Wilson, who urged speeding up action on the naval appropriation bill. The chairman said he expected the hearings to be concluded within two weeks.

NAVY HILLS TO PASS.

Representative Padgett announced the President that a working majority of his committee favored substantial strengthening of the navy, and that he expected no trouble in getting through the House a naval programme to meet with the approval of the administration.

Thomas A. Edison will be heard by the naval committee tomorrow.

Mr. Edison, with other experts, will urge the necessity of a great laboratory here for working out naval problems.

Capt. Sims told the committee the prime necessity of a policy of promotion by selection for the grade of lieutenant, lieutenant-commander, commander and captain, so as to give younger men in command of ships.

Capt. Sims pointed out that in the British navy officers may attain a captain's rank at 35 years and become rear-admiral at 45. The present commander-in-chief of the British navy, Admiral Jellicoe, he said, is about 55. American naval officers under the present system are close to 60 when they become rear admirals.

NAVY BERTHS A SNAP.

"The navy is a soft snap for those who are not ambitious," he said, "but deadly to the ambitious ones. From a military proposition this age limit is absolutely rotten; from a social standpoint it is excellent, and as a soft snap it is a peach."

Capt. Sims said Secretary Daniels was the first Secretary of the Navy upon whom those favoring promotion by selection had made any impression.

"If he puts it across," said the captain, "he will stand out above other Secretaries of the Navy, for it will mean a tremendous increase in naval efficiency."

The witness referred to what he called frightful mistakes in the designs of the Kentucky and other pre-dreadnaughts, whose sloping armor-belt designs made them particularly vulnerable to long-range fire with the changed gun fire conditions of recent years.

HOPE FOR SUFFRAGE VOTE IN THE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Suffrage still may come before the House for a vote this session. By a unanimous vote the House Judiciary Committee today decided to reconsider on March 28 the vote by which it recently postponed consideration of the suffrage proposals until December 7.

The decision followed a long hearing in the committee. In some quarters it is feared the administration's drive for a prompt disposal of preparedness legislation and an early adjournment will prevent the issue coming to the floor this session.

STILL NEUTRAL.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Wilson today signed a proclamation giving notice of the neutrality of the United States in the war now existing between Germany and Portugal.

CARRANZA'S MEN CURSE AMERICA.

Tension Along the Border is Noticeably Easing.

Election of Obregon to War Ministry Well Received.

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) March 14.—American refugees who arrived here today from Nacozari declared that they had run a gauntlet of curses hurled at their train by Carranza soldiers who lined the tracks at Cabullona.

Refugees from Cananea reported that Gen. Calles has placed that town under martial law. A decree had been posted in all public places, they said, stating that no person would be allowed to remain who is not engaged in business there or who could not give a satisfactory reason for his presence.

Police patrols armed with rifles and revolvers pace the streets night and day and have orders to disperse crowds and prohibit loitering. The refugees asserted that several men had been shot on the streets for not moving as quickly as the patrols thought desirable. They also maintained that the majority of the people of the town were sympathetic with Villa. The mines and smelters were said to be working full force.

TENSION EASED.

Tension in feeling on both sides of the border was noticeably eased today, Gen. Calles is only awaiting official confirmation from Carranza of the agreement between the American and Mexican governments before cooperating with Gen. Funston's punitive force.

It is known here that Calles probably had grave fears lest his troops get out of control, owing to sensational and often entirely unfounded reports from Douglas.

After learning from American sources the news of the amicable settlement, Calles last night took a special train to Cabullona, where he intended troops and gave orders for their concentration, returning to Agua Prieta today.

All foreigners that could be got together at Nacozari will arrive at the border on a special train today. The management of the El Tigre mine is said to be encouraged by the sudden change in feeling within the last twenty-four hours that it has canceled orders for all employees to leave and will continue working.

The appointment of Obregon as Minister of War for Carranza is received with the greatest satisfaction by the Mexicans here, as they believe the appointment means the entire reorganization of the Mexican army and strengthening of its loyalty.

BLAMES COL. SLOCUM FOR OVERCONFIDENCE.

DENVER, March 14.—In a letter written to her brother, Hugh L. Coffin of Denver, Mrs. Belle R. Poole, a Denver woman now residing at Cooper, N. M., claims that Col. Slocum of the Thirteenth United States Cavalry is responsible for the killing of American citizens by the Villa bandits in their attack on Columbus last week. Mrs. Poole claims the cavalry commander was overconfident and refused to accept as genuine a warning of the approach to the border town. Mrs. Poole writes in part:

"People are sure wrought up as Col. Slocum of the cavalry was warned but would do nothing, he thought it was a hoax, and did not take enough precautions."

According to Mrs. Poole more than twenty Mexicans were killed which is considerable more than the estimate given in press dispatches. She and others saw these bodies burned. Her letter was written last Friday, the day following the raid.

PESQUEIRA LEAVES FOR A CONFERENCE.

ILLINOIS BATTERY CALLS FOR HORSES.

EL CENTRO, March 14.—In a telegram received from Chicago today, Luther Wright, a valley cattleman, was ordered to ship a string of twenty horses in his charge immediately. They are the property of Battery C, crack artillery company of the Illinois militia, and have been pastured in the valley during the winter.

It was not expected they would be shipped to Chicago for several weeks yet, but because of the Mexican situation Mr. Wright was ordered to start them immediately.

Many prominent Chicagoans are members of the company, which yesterday advised the War Department it would be ready to entrain for the border on four hours' notice.

Foss and Sulzer Attract but Little Attention.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) March 14.—First scattering returns from today's Presidential preference primary in Minnesota indicated Albert B. Cummins, United State Senator from Iowa, had been declared the Republican choice for the Presidential nomination over Henry D. Estabrook of New York and William Grant Webster of Chicago.

With the exception of a few counties where factional fights in the Democratic party had added interest to the delegate contests, the vote throughout the State was light. Woodrow Wilson was unopposed for the Presidential nomination on the Democratic ballot the contests for election as delegates being waged between forces allied with National Committeeman Fred B. Lynch and the so-called anti-Lynch contingent. Early returns tonight gave no definite indication as to which faction would control the delegation to the national convention, but the Lynch adherents claimed victory.

Neither Eugene N. Foss, former Governor of Massachusetts, nor William Sulzer, former Governor of New York, had a decided advantage in the first returns on their contest for the Prohibition candidate for President.

Contests for the Presidential nomination were limited to the Prohibition and Republican ballots, the Progressives, whose delegate candidates were unopposed, having no Presidential candidate in the field.

VILLA'S SURPRISE MOST COMPLETE.

HOW IT WAS POSSIBLE NOW A PUZZLE TO OFFICIALS.

Details of Early Morning Attack Begin to Leak Out and it Now Develops that Intentions Were Known to Everybody but the Columbus Garrison.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

COLUMBUS (N. M.) March 14.—That the surprise of the American garrison under Col. Slocum by the Villa bandits here was complete was indicated by details of that early-morning attack which were learned today. No official explanation has been made yet as to how such a surprise was possible. It was not such a surprise to others.

One feature of the fatal night was that a representative of a news agency had made the trip from El Paso to the little side-track station of Columbus the day previous so as to be there for "big Villa developments that night." A telegraph operator had accompanied him in expectation of a bigger story than the regular telegraph operator at Columbus could handle. Their preparations were justified in less than twelve hours. Whether their presence there was a coincidence or foresight, the garrison did not happen to make the same advance preparations, or possibly the lives of several Americans would not have been lost.

That the raiders captured ninety-two cavalry horses is admitted by the army. That they captured a machine gun is denied. Instead, it is said that two of Villa's machine guns were captured.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

An especially fine shampoo for this weather can be easily made at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothing, cooling lather that dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on a glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem very much heavier than it is. After a canthrox shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.

LOVE YOUR WIFE OR GET DIVORCE.

Says Man Who Quarrels with Spouse is Poor Workman.

Must Make up Quick or Lose His $5-a-day Job.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Henry Ford, who tried to bring peace in Europe and failed, has carried the Oscar II idea into the control of his employees, according to revelations made today before Judge Denis E. Sullivan of the Superior Court.

The peace leader's rules provide that employees and their wives who quarrel either must "get out of the trenches" and hoist the white flag or obtain divorces, or quit the service of the company, and lose their $5-a-day wages.

Henry Carter, a porter, who is paid $5 a day by the company, received a divorce from his wife here on a charge of desertion, and his witness was Walter G. May of Evanston, formerly superintendent of the sociological department of the Ford works.

May revealed the idea of the manufacturer that the workman who quarrels with his wife in the morning makes a poor workman all the day. He was questioned by Carter's attorney and said he found that Carter was not living with his wife.

"Am I to understand that a man in Mr. Carter's predicament will lose his position unless he is able to separate himself from his wife?" the lawyer asked.

"Exactly," May said.

"I'll give him a decree," Judge Sullivan said.

York, Pa.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found it to be all you say it is. I was so sick that I could not stand at my sink to wash dishes and I could not sit without a pillow under me. I had the doctor every few days but since I have taken the Compound I don't have to send for him. I have had three children and could not raise any of them, but since I have taken the Compound I have a bright baby boy. I advise every suffering woman to try it and get relief. It has done wonders for me."—Mrs. CATHARINE GOODLING, 138 E. King Street, York, Pa.

When a medicine has been successful in bringing health to so many, no woman has a right to say without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." QUESTION OF PERJURY TO BE DECIDED TODAY.

Motion to Dismiss Indictment Against Former Warden of Sing Sing on Ground Member of Commission Exceeded Authority is Argued in New York Tribunal.

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) March 14.—Upon Supreme Court Justice Tompkins's interpretation of the section of the prison law defining "visitation and inspection of institutions" depended tonight whether the perjury indictment upon which Thomas Mott Osborne, former warden of Sing Sing Penitentiary, has been on trial here for two days, would be dismissed tomorrow or whether the defense would be forced to submit its case to the jury.

After the prosecution had rested late today, George Gordon Battle, Osborne's counsel, moved to dismiss the indictment on the ground that the law did not give Dr. Rudolph Diedling, a member of the State Prison Commission, the right to conduct an investigation of Sing Sing Prison without authorization of the commission as a whole. The perjury charge against Osborne is based upon his alleged denial during this inquiry of knowledge of certain cases of immorality of the prison.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. William J. Fallon, arguing against Mr. Battle's motion, asserted it was Dr. Diedling's right to investigate. Justice Tompkins reserved decision.

Awful!

"BACK, BACK, GET OUT OF HERE," CRIES JUDGE PAGE.

May Ollie's Realistic Interpretation of Fancy Steps in Artistic Attire, Chiefly of Beads, is Too Much for Milwaukee Jurist, but, Manlike, He Later Relents.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) March 14.—"Back, back. Get out of here," shouted Judge Page in District Court and covered his eyes with his hands today, when he beheld before him May Ollie, accused of doing an immoral dance in a local theater. Why he shouted so excitedly the rest of the courtroom occupants did not learn, for it was facing Judge Page alone that May stood when she threw open a coat and disclosed what the judge said afterward was a dancing costume, chiefly of beads.

Contempt of court was declared, but while the girl in the judge's private room alone was divesting herself of stage attire, and putting on ordinary clothes, the court decided to remit the jail penalty he had threatened. When she reappeared, clothed, May told the judge she was only planning to show him the dance she had done ever since she made her debut in her home town of Springfield, Ill., seven years ago, to prove to the court that her dance was not too wiggly or too naughty for public presentation.

"Why, even in Springfield they called my Thebian dance artistic, and no one ever insulted me by calling it immoral, or 'tummy twisting,' as this horrid detective described it," said May.

She said that in all dances she had all the esential coverings even if they were chiefly of beads. The police say her real name is Mary Ollinberger of Springfield, Ill.

SEVERE BATTLE NORTH OF AISNE.

Infantry Forces the Fighting Northwest of Verdun.

French Guns Most Effective in Forest of Argonne.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, March 14.—Extremely heavy infantry fighting has taken place northwest of Verdun and on the outskirts of the Bois des Buttes, to the north of the Aisne, with the Germans in both regions the aggressors. Elsewhere along the line artillery duels of great proportions are under way.

On the sector between Bethincourt and Cumieres northwest of Verdun, the intense artillery bombardment of the Germans was followed by an infantry attack, but over the entire front of three miles it was repulsed by the French with serious losses except between Bethincurt and Le Morte Homme, where the Germans gained a footing at two points in the French trenches.

EFFORTS OF GERMANS.

The Germans to the north of the Aisne threw their troops, three times against the French positions northwest of the Bois des Buttes but none of the attacks proved successful.

In the forest of Argonne the French guns effectively shelled German positions. North and east of Verdun the artillery duels continue. To the north of St. Mihiel, in Lorraine, and in the Vosges Mountains, the guns of both sides have been active. A large number of fights in the air have taken place around Verdun in which four German aircraft have been brought down. French aviators again have bombarded the station of Brieulles, behind the German lines north of Verdun.

The British evidently are breaking up the opposition of the Senussi tribesmen, led by Turkish officers, in Western Egypt. An official report received from Maj.-Gen. Peyton, commander of the British forces, says the occupation of Solium, on the Egyptian-Tripoli frontier, is imminent, that the Sheik Harun has surrendered and is in the camp of the British, and that the head men of Aulad Ali tribes are asking for pardons.

RUSSIANS ARE ACTIVE.

Russians still are harassing the Turks on the Caucasus front, and have made further progress against the Teutons in East Galicia. They entered German trenches in the region of Riga, killed the occupants and returned to their own positions without suffering any loss.

The Italians are keeping up their strong infantry offensive begun several days ago on the Isonzo front. Especially fierce have been the attacks around San Martino. Here, Rome says, the Italians captured Dante del Crovigio, the pivot in the Austrian defenses, and in the same region stormed two other places and seized Austrian trenches.

Vienna, on the other hand, declares that near San Martino the Italians seven times attempted to storm the Austrian positions, but were repulsed with heavy casualties.

FOUR DUMMY GUNS SCARE U-BOAT AWAY.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Four dummy guns made of spare spars and mounted on the after and quarter decks of the Harrison line steamship Director saved that vessel from becoming a submarine victim, according to C. A. Rivers of Santa Fe, N. M., a horseman who arrived here today on the steamship Cameronia from Liverpool.

Mr. Rivers said that he was on the Director when the incident occurred. "The ship left Pensacola, Fla., on January 15, with cargo for Liverpool," he said. "On January 25, when about 200 miles from the Irish coast, a submarine was sighted several miles astern. It immediately gave chase and for two hours it hung on to us. Finding that the submarine was gaining, the Director's captain had a spare derrick spar sawed into four lengths which were mounted in a conspicuous manner on the decks so that they would resemble guns.

"It was evident the dummies were immediately noticed by the U boat, for it slackened speed and began to maneuver, evidently so as to present a difficult mark. Our captain, to keep up the deception also did some maneuvering. Our bluff succeeded, for the submarine soon gave up the chase and disappeared."

REACTIONARIES REACTING AGAIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—The Progressive party will have a complete national delegation ticket in the field at the Presidential primary election, May 2, according to an announcement made here today from party headquarters. The allotment for California is thirty delegates and it was said they will go to Chicago unpledged.

Nominating petitions for the delegates will be put into circulation within a few days, selection being made "by the Progressives of the respective districts," according to the announcement.

Lost Cause.

tually stopped, and there is no reason to believe that their march toward Verdun can be resumed.

Some persons seem to have the impression that the Germans could take Verdun mathematically by expending sufficient men and shells, but this view leaves out of consideration the probability that the French are willing to spend as many men and shells as are the Germans. Indeed, there is some indication that the initiative already is passing into the hands of the French. The battle, perhaps, is even now entering on a period of counter-attacks.

HEAVY CANNONADING.

Late bulletins mentioning French activity also mention heavy cannonading by the French along the whole front. Such a cannonade heretofore has preceded the taking of the offensive.

Any possibility of the allies making a general assault on all fronts this season rests with the allies' war council, composed of high officers of the French, British, Russian and Italian staffs, which is now meeting here. Its decision doubtless will be of the highest importance, as they affect the future conduct of the war.

FRENCH CONFIDENCE.

Confidence prevails among the French civil population. While the German strength is in no way underestimated, the feeling is that the scales of battle are steadily turning in France's favor. Moreover, the mis-statements in the German communiques, such as the report of the capture of Fort Vaux, which, according to the statements of the French staff never has been even attacked, have created the impression here that the Germans feel the psychological need of announcing victories. This need, if it exists, is considered a sign of weakness.

FILES LIBEL SUIT ON APPAM CARGO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NORFOLK (Va.) March 14.—Capt. Harrison, British master of the steamship Appam, brought into Hampton Roads February 1 as a German prize of war, has filed a libel against the Appam's cargo.

A libel for possession of the steamer already has been filed. Because of the cargo's perishable nature the proceedings will be expedited.

DEFENSE PLANS PUZZLE JAPAN.

America's Military Scheme is a Worry to Tokio.

Correspondent Issues Warning to Avoid All Disputes.

Sinister Suspicions Fed by Nipponese Newspapers.

BY ERNEST W. CLEMENT.

[SPECIAL FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

TOKIO, Feb. 2.—In their policy and relations it seems necessary that both Japan and the United States avoid even the appearance of evil. I write thus because of the misunderstanding, whether accidental or intentional, on the part of some American newspapers concerning the American military and naval expansion plans.

On January 7, I sent a dispatch concerning the suspicions entertained by the Nichi Nichi Shimbun over the proposed military expansion in the United States. The paper could not believe that the expansion was directed toward Europe, but suspected that it was aimed toward the Pacific for the purpose of enhancing American prestige in the Far East, especially in China. In that case, said the paper, America was likely to come into collision with Japan, because both nations are ambitious to extend their sway and Japan's policy aims at the preservation at any cost of the position it has attained through great sacrifices.

About a week later the same journal published a report from America to the same effect, a report from its own correspondent. And only a few days ago it reiterated more at length and more strongly, the same points, saying in part:

"There must either be a compromise or a conflict in interests. But Japan has nothing to compromise. The only thing that can be done is to see that America gives up her ambition, which is extraordinary."

BOLLINGER BABY CASE LEADS TO EXPULSION.

Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, Who is Charged with Refusing to Operate and Allowing the Child to Die, is Expelled by the Chicago Medical Society Because of "Unethical Conduct." No Defense is Offered.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 14.—Dr. Harry J. Haiselden was expelled tonight from the Chicago Medical Society because of his deportment during and following the case of the Bollinger baby.

He refused to operate on the infant because surgery could never repair its defects. The child died. Charges of unethical conduct were filed against him with the Ethical Committee of the society. His expulsion was recommended because he permitted publication of a serial story under his signature of the unusual case in a newspaper; he also posed for motion pictures. Dr. Haiselden told the committee that the story was written by a reporter to whom he gave the facts.

He appealed to the council of the society which tonight ruled against him at a hearing at the Hotel Sherman. Dr. Haiselden did not appear. He sent a telegram from Avalon, Wis., stating he had received a call which he could not ignore. Dr. Frank Deacon, Dr. A. Paul Heineck and Dr. Otto T. Freer spoke in his behalf.

A month ago when the council considered the charges against him Dr. Haiselden pleaded that he had received but three hours' notice, that was too brief a time in which to prepare a defense. The matter was continued a month. Members of the council who would not permit the names to be used asserted that Dr. Haiselden should have been present tonight to offer an explanation.

"The council felt that it had been treated discourteously," said Dr. Heineck, who was formerly on the staff of the German-American hospital with Dr. Haiselden. "It was the general opinion that Dr. Haiselden should have not permitted anything to interfere with his opportunity to appeal."

Dr. Haiselden may come before the council at its April meeting and request a reconsideration of his expulsion and friends said they believed he would do so.

In case further consideration is favorable to him he may appeal to the Illinois Medical Society and in the event of an adverse decision to the American Medical Association, from members of the council, who are presided over by Dr. A. Augustus O'Neill, called attention to the fact that instances are rare where findings are not upheld.

BRANDEIS UNFIT FOR JOB IS DECLARATION OF TAFT.

Six Other Former Presidents of American Bar Association Join in Opposition to Confirmation of Wilson's Appointee to the Supreme Bench—Hearing is Continued Before the Senate Committee.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Former President Taft and six other former presidents of the American Bar Association today protested to the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee against confirmation of the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis for the Supreme Court. The others were Simeon E. Baldwin, Francis Rawle, Joseph H. Choate, Elihu Root, Moorfield Story and Peter W. Meldrim.

The first six sent a letter stating that "taking into view the reputation, character and professional career of Mr. Louis D. Brandeis, he is not a fit person to be a member of the Supreme Court of the United States."

Mr. Meldrim wrote from Savannah, Ga.: "My reason for refusing to approve was that the reputation of Mr. Brandeis at his home bar makes him an unfit person to be appointed."

Both letters were read to the committee today by Austen G. Fox, attorney for the opposition to the confirmation, at the reopening of public hearings.

William F. Fitzgerald, a Boston broker, testified as to the alleged connection with the Old Dominion Copper Company case. He said, Brandeis was employed by Towle and Fitzgerald to help get proxies to gain control of the company. They were successful and in electing new directors it was found necessary to raise more funds. Finally, Fitzgerald testified, it was decided to consolidate with the United States Mining Company adjoining and to give the Old Dominion stockholders some of whom Fitzgerald represented a two to one interest.

An engineer employed by the Old Dominion directors to examine the properties recommended that the Fitzgerald testified that the old Dominion stockholders should receive a four to one interest. Fitzgerald said Brandeis counteranced the report in concealing this report from the stockholders and the public for two or three weeks. Fitzgerald added that when he protested to Brandeis the latter responded that he had better go in with the merger or get on the bandwagon.

Edward F. McClennen, Brandeis' law partner, testified that he was not familiar with the plan for merging the Old Dominion Company, but could not conceive of any immorality in the affair.

WAR TALK BRINGS SHOTS.

Two Austrians Discussing Europe's Affairs are Mistaken for Would-be Burglars and Woman Chases them with Fusillade of Bullets.

Maria Carasco ended a debate over the war between two Austrians in such a spectacular manner she was reprimanded by Police Judge White yesterday, and given a suspended sentence of twenty-five days in jail.

Mrs. Carasco keeps a store at No. 1550 San Fernando street, and was disturbed Sunday night when two strangers talking in a strange tongue, passed by her store several times, talking excitedly. She thought they were planning to rob her.

They were two Austrians, Leo Erovich and Emil Mikelvich. They were discussing phases of the war, and it chanced their path led around and around the store in which Mrs. Carasco was on watch with her 10-year-old son.

She took her revolver out of the drawer, waited until the pair passed once more, and then she took after them, shooting as she ran and shouting.

The men fled. Mrs. Carasco held flight as positive evidence of guilt. So she emptied her revolver at the fugitive pair, filled it again, and shot more.

The men complained to the police. Later Mrs. Carasco was arrested for having discharged firearms without a permit. She told Justice White how it happened, and got a suspended sentence.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, March 14.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.98; at 5 p.m., 29.96. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 55 deg. and 62 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 94 per cent.; 5 p.m., 73 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., southeast, velocity 4 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 10 miles. Highest temperature, 74 deg.; lowest, 53 deg. Rainfall for season, 19.26 inches; last season, 14.76 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—An area of low pressure covers the southern half of the United States and an area of high pressure the northern half. The precipitation was light and scattering, falling as a cold rain or snow in New England, and as light snow over some of the Northern States. The area of high pressure moved from the coast of Oregon to the Province of Manitoba in twenty-four hours, reducing the temperatures in Oregon and in its path eastward. Roseburg reports a temperature of freezing, and Williston, N. D., zero. The gradual reduction in pressure on the Pacific Coast favors continued fair weather and moderate temperatures in Los Angeles and vicinity, with clouds or fog at intervals Wednesday.

LETTER TELLS TOO MUCH.

Stiff Sentence is Given to Man who Steals Auto Tire, then Writes Freely to His Mother of Devious Doings of Himself and His Brother.

Tony Frank Parodoski told so much in a letter he forgot to seal and mail, he was fined $200 by Police Judge Richardson yesterday, for having stolen an automobile tire at Ninth and San Pedro streets two weeks ago.

While he was attempting to get away with the tire, his brother, Joe, felled a policeman who was about to arrest Frank. Joe was arrested, and Frank got away. He went to his room near by and wrote a long letter to his mother, in which he related a startling series of details of his daily life. The letter was worded in the most brazen and sophisticated vernacular, and stamped both boys as being guilty of things aside from which the police were prosecuting them.

The letter was found on the floor of Frank's room by his landlady, and by her was turned over to the police, as it was unsealed. When Frank appeared in court yesterday, he attempted to deny his guilt. Then Prosecutor Claude Morton read from the letter a complete confession of the man's guilt as he had told it for his mother.

He said: "That's enough. Give me my jolt." He was fined and given a jail sentence for 180 days, the latter being suspended while Paradoski keeps from drinking.

But the letter also told many indiscreet things about Tony's brother, and when the trial was over, and the find paid, Joe refused to speak to him, further than to warn him there was trouble ahead between them.

Defendant Says it was Plain Business Proposition.

Determined to protect the smaller stockholders of the company from what they believe to be a general effort to secure their holdings on false representations, the Los Angeles Investment Company, through its attorneys, Flint & Jutten, yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court against J. J. Aagaard, a stock broker, in behalf of Charles Buchanan. Charging fraud and deceit, the complaint alleges that Mr. Aagaard so imposed upon Mr. Buchanan that the latter exchanged 1433 shares of the capital stock of the Investment company for 1000 shares of the capital stock of the Union Car Company. At the time of the exchange Mr. Buchanan says he believed the car company stock to be worth $1 a share, but later, the complaint states, this is decided to 3 cents, with the result that the court is asked to compel Mr. Aagaard to pay the difference of $970.

Escapes Death.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO.

Manufacturer of this City, on Way to Riverside, is Seriously Injured at Ontario When Pacific Limited Hurls His Machine from Railroad Crossing.

Hurled many feet by the terrific impact, Robert C. Shepherd, 54 years old, of No. 146 West Twenty-second street, Los Angeles, narrowly escaped death shortly before noon yesterday, when the Pacific Limited, west bound on the Salt Lake Route, struck his automobile at the Campus-avenue crossing in Ontario. When the unconscious man was picked up by startled bystanders and the train crew, and hurried to the offices of Dr. J. H. Titus near by, it was thought he had but slight chance for recovery.

A hurried examination revealed a broken left hip, several dangerous cuts about the head, with the possibility of internal injuries. Dr. Titus administered first-aid treatment and late yesterday afternoon the injured man was able to be brought to his home in this city.

Mr. Shepherd, with his brother, C. F. Shepherd, owns and operates the Rex Machine Company at Washington and Main streets. It was decided early yesterday morning that R. C. Shepherd would make a hurried trip to Riverside to complete certain business negotiations there.

At Ontario Mr. Shepherd apparently was unaware of the approach of the limited as he started across the Campus-avenue tracks. Catching the car in the middle, the heavy engine hurled machine and driver off the track. Mr. Shepherd fell clear of his wrecked motor car.

EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN.

Church Federation Inaugurates Series of Meetings to Run Until Easter.

The Church Federation of Los Angeles at its meeting yesterday at the Y.W.C.A. planned an evangelistic campaign to continue until Easter. The campaign will begin with an evangelistic mass meeting at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Sixth and Hill streets, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The speakers will be Rev. E. Guy Talbot, executive secretary of the Church Federation, who will talk on "The Field;" Rev. James A. Francis, pastor of the First Baptist Church, on the subject, "The Forces," and Bishop William M. Bell on "The Power." Dr. C. C. Selecman, pastor of Trinity Auditorium and the chairman of the Evangelistic Committee of the Church Federation, will preside.

Last year a somewhat similar evangelistic campaign in Los Angeles resulted in over 4000 additions to the co-operating churches.

COUPLE FAIL OF RECONCILIATION.

Wealthy Pair at War Over Son in Midnight Conference.

Husband Makes Grave Charges; Gets Boy Temporarily.

Wife Refutes Dancing-master Story; Seeks Divorce.

A midnight conference in Hollywood last night between Emil Auerbach, New York tobacco man, and his wealthy and handsome wife, Mrs. Maud Mandell Auerbach, failed to effect a hoped-for reconciliation between the warring couple. Sensational charges were made by the husband yesterday in court when he succeeded in obtaining temporary custody of their 15-year-old son, Mortimer.

Mr. Auerbach names A. Cornelis, a New York dancing teacher, who is now serving twenty-five-day sentence in the City Jail on a charge of speeding. He further alleged in an affidavit filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday that Mrs. Auerbach, during the husband's absence, fled to California bringing the boy with her. The father stated that Cornelis and Mrs. Auerbach lived at No. 2002 Pinehurst road in Hollywood and that they visited cafes together, took joy rides, conducted themselves in an improper manner before the boy and posed to the neighbors as man and wife.

After Mr. Auerbach had deposited a bond of $1000 Judge Shenk gave the custody of the boy to the father and he, with an attorney, visited the public school in Hollywood and took charge of Mortimer. When Mrs. Auerbach called for the boy at 3 o'clock, as was her custom, she states she was served with a summons to appear in court March 20, and show cause why the custody of the child should not be vested entirely in the father.

Mrs. Auerbach received her first information of the court's action through a school teacher, she declared last evening. The teacher on being notified that the court was taking the child from the mother, sent a messenger to Mrs. Auerbach.

RECONCILIATION PROPOSED.

Late last evening, according to a statement made by Mrs. Auerbach, her husband called her on the telephone, proposed a reconciliation and they met and talked over the situation. She declared that the conference was an abortive one and that she would go into court, prove her innocence and show that she is a proper person to have the child. Her statement relative to her trouble with her husband was:

"I married Mr. Auerbach in Chicago, November 20, 1899. He was a good deal my senior. I was wealthy and he was a traveling salesman. All during our married life it was my money that kept up the house. We moved to New York. There the same story was repeated. A year ago we became estranged. Last October at a family conference of my people I was advised to move to California, take up my home, establish a legal residence and then apply for a divorce. I was following out this programme with the full approval of my family when I received this blow.

"I have considerable money and my son inherited a large fortune through me. The money was left to the boy by my father, who before his death was a merchant. When Mr. Auerbach called me on the telephone last evening he told me that if I would return with him to New York everything would be forgotten. I cannot even consider the matter. I shall remain here and carry out my plans to secure my freedom. The stories he tells are without foundation. The presence of Cornelis in California can be explained, but at present I have nothing to say about him. I did not pose as his wife and at no time will anyone be able to testify truthfully that I did not act as a good mother.

"I am confident that my son will, if permitted, testify in my behalf, and I have no fear of the outcome. When the entire matter is sifted down it comes to this: I would not support my husband and would not stay with him. I left home without his knowledge or consent, and for the sole purpose of obtaining a divorce."

Mrs. Auerbach has a beautifully-furnished bungalow at No. 2002 Pinehurst road, a fashionable street in Hollywood. She owns a valuable automobile and surrounds herself with luxuries that betoken large wealth. According to her statement and that of neighbors she daily took her son to school and called for him at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

GIVES HER ADDRESS.

On the 9th inst., Alfred Cornelis, who said he is the son of a wealthy New York manufacturer, but who, attorneys say, is a dancing teacher, was arrested with J. W. Lockett on Sunset boulevard for exceeding the speed limit. Cornelis, who gave his address as No. 2002 Pinehurst road, was fined $100 and given twenty-five days in jail. This severe sentence was published broadcast and it was from this source, it is alleged, that Mr. Auerbach learned of the presence of his wife in this city. He employed detectives, according to his statements, to shadow Mrs. Auerbach until he could reach Los Angeles. He at once instituted proceedings that yesterday resulted in his securing custody of the child.

Cornelis told two stories yesterday concerning his acquaintance with Mrs. Auerbach. He at first declared that if he made a statement it would greatly embarrass him in financial circles in the East. Later he stated that he gave the Pinehurst-road address at random and is not acquainted with Mrs. Auerbach. Cornelis is acting as an inside trusty at the jail, cleaning the corridors and acting as a choreman for the jailors.

Mrs. Auerbach is about 34 years of age. Even in the most trying ordeal of the day she did not lose her poise nor show any outward manifestation of discomfiture.

The case will come up for settlement on the 20th inst.

For Military Purposes.

KRUTTSCHNITT INDORSES RAILWAY BOARD PROJECT.

DECLARING that, if the railroads must stand an additional 100 per cent. strain through having to provide for military necessities throughout a long period of hostilities, the present railroad equipment must be operated on an efficiency basis which will increase its mobility proportionately, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific, last night gave hearty indorsement to the plan to appoint a railroad military commission from the traffic chiefs of the various important railways to work hand in hand with military authorities in solving the transportation problem.

Mr. Kruttschnitt, who arrived here from Riverside, said that the government has never taken the railroad men into its confidence, and consequently they are in the dark regarding what to expect. "There is ample equipment in the country to provide for military necessities without seriously discommoding commercial business, providing what equipment we have is judiciously used," he said.

"It is manifestly impossible for any one or two roads to handle all troop movements, supplies, etc. What is needed is a commission composed of the traffic department heads from all roads and a knowledge on the part of all concerned regarding what the government intends to do. If all the railroads get together on the proposition and pull together for the common object, the resulting high efficiency will be of as much value for military purposes as would a 75 or 100 per cent. increase in equipment."

Traveling in the private cars Guadalupe and Metropolis, Mr. Kruttschnitt and L. J. Spence, director of traffic of the Southern Pacific, left New York about two weeks ago on their annual tour of inspection. The party passed several days at Riverside, leaving there yesterday afternoon over the Pacific Electric in President Paul Shoup's private car.

Mr. Kruttschnitt says the past eight months' business on the Southern Pacific has established a record for volume. The only dark spot on the horizon, from the railroad men's viewpoint, is the lack of trans-Atlantic shipping facilities. New York is so congested, Mr. Kruttschnitt says, that it is almost impossible to get another car into the city. Piers are piled high with freight waiting movement to Europe, and not another foot of dock space can be had at any price.

The congestion there has affected the rest of the country, and many of the railroads are seriously hampered at other terminals. As an instance of conditions, Mr. Kruttschnitt told of the congestion at Galveston, where more than 5000 carloads of freight are held, because the docks are crowded and ships cannot be secured fast enough to keep up with the influx of business. From Galveston the traffic congestion has backed up to El Paso, and Mr. Kruttschnitt says conditions are rapidly becoming serious there. As a result of the congestion at the latter city orders have been issued not to accept any more freight for shipment from California to New York except under extraordinary conditions.

The party will pass two or three days here inspecting local equipment and that in neighboring communities, and will then go to San Francisco. Mr. Kruttschnitt expects to return East in about two weeks.

NEW SCENIC BOULEVARD TO PASADENA PLANNED.

Prominent Residents of the Crown City Behind Project to Build Great Paved Highway Through Chavez Ravine and Elysian Park, Verdugo Cany on and Annandale — Open Cut Figures Importantly in the Plan.

TO THE already assured new travel arteries destined to bring the enormous and growing traffic of west, northwest and north Los Angeles and their outlying territories on air-line courses to the west side of Bunker Hill will soon be added a brand-new boulevard to Pasadena, if plans now being actively fostered by leading citizens of Pasadena come to a successful issue. Ernest H. Lockwood, Pasadena realty and investment broker, and owner of extensive property interests both in the Crown City and Los Angeles, is the originator of the project and its principal spokesman.

The far-seeing advocates of the plan propose to do exactly what the people of the Glendale-Tropico-Burbank district have already done, namely, to create a wide paved thoroughfare extending southward to the Los Angeles River, where it will meet a like highway from the heart of Los Angeles. A plan by which Los Angeles, Pasadena and perhaps the county would unite in the construction of a bridge across the river is suggested.

From the river southward dedicated streets that are now in poor condition provide a continuous and almost straight right of way to Figueroa street. The putting through of the projected Bunker Hill open cut would result in swinging the traffic of the boulevard eastward from Second and Figueroa through the hill outlet into the business district.

The plan has all the simplicity and feasibility of the Los Angeles-Glendale route. The similarity of the new Crown City route, as projected, to the now definitely assured Glendale air line is, in fact, striking.

Alert to the possibilities of a direct highway shortening the old round-about routes to Los Angeles, Glendale and Tropico more than a year ago completed Brand boulevard as a 140-foot double highway down through the latter place, across the northern city limits of this city, and to the edge of the river. The property owners in Los Angeles, from Temple street north to Alessandro, showed that they were equally alive to their opportunities by widening and paving Lake Shore avenue for that entire distance, making that portion of the avenue north of Sunset boulevard of like width with

ST. PATRICK SHAMROCKS.

Thirty Thousand Plants Grown from Seed Direct from Emerald Isle to be Given Away by the Hibernian Savings Bank on Friday Morning.

The Hibernian Savings Bank will distribute 30,000 shamrocks on St. Patrick's Day, Friday. True Irish shamrocks in individual pots to any one applying at the bank, second floor, Hibernian Building, after 9 a.m.

The seed was especially selected by the foremost nursery of Belfast, Ireland, and was sent directly to the Hibernian Savings Bank here. By using special growing methods, F. R. Hills, local nursery expert, has succeeded in making the shamrocks grow upright in the pots. This is contrary to the usual growth of the plant, whose tendency is to spread. It is impossible to retain this upright growth permanently and after transplanting the shamrocks will revert to true Irish form and spread out.

Last year a great many applying for the shamrocks were disappointed, notwithstanding there was a supply of 20,000 plants distributed. This year 30,000 will be given out, but it is anticipated there will still be too few. It will be well for those wanting the plants to apply at the bank as early as possible Friday morning.

CITY AWARDED THE TIDELANDS.

Three-million-dollar Area is Taken from Salt Lake.

Decision Means Much to the Future of the Harbor.

Railway will Appeal from the Ruling of Judge Works.

By a decision of Judge Works yesterday the city wrested from the Salt Lake Railroad 249 acres of tidelands lying in San Pedro, mostly unimproved, but having an approximate value of from $5000 to $20,000 an acre. The suit to recover this land was hard fought before the court for several weeks. It meant for the city, if it won, harbor land of incalculable value for municipal purposes.

To prove title meant going back into the distant past, poring over survey maps and records, and tracing patents to the pioneer Domingues family. One survey map was made in 1859, showing San Pedro Bay as it then existed. Part of this bay has since been filled in.

The suit decided involved the examination and location of the ordinary high tide at the harbor. The city claimed the land under conveyance from the State of all the land in the harbor up to the high tide mark.

The Salt Lake claimed it under a Federal patent, conforming to an old Spanish land grant. This Spanish grant was for 8½ square leagues of land, known as the Rancho San Pedro, and was made to Manuel Domingues. The grant included the present harbor of San Pedro, but the government excepted the inner bay.

The lines of this patent which confirmed the grant did not exactly coincide with the ordinary line of high tide. The lines were irregular. As made by the surveyor, they zigzagged. The Salt Lake claimed they outlined the true boundaries of the grant without reference to the high tide lines.

The city held that the ordinary high tide line should be taken, and set up that the surveyor intended these zigzag lines to represent the high tide line. It contended that this method of survey was one usually pursued by surveyors. When this is done and shown to be the intention of the surveyor, the lines will not govern, but the actual water line will be taken.

The court held that the lines of survey were intended to indicate the high tide limit, and not the specific boundary. The Salt Lake will appeal from the judgment.

The land acquired by the city begins at the northern end of Terminal Island, extending from the Hammond Lumber yard to the east side of the island.

ORGANIZES FOR CITY'S SAFETY

Seeks Two Thousand Citizens for Emergency Work.

Anarchists Attempt to Excite Mexicans to Trouble.

Two thousand recruiting blanks for special policemen have been prepared for Chief Snively, and he is now sending them out to eligible persons, that he may have in readiness for possible trouble an organized force of 2000 special policemen, fully officered and equipped with shortarms.

Repeated threats, alleged to have been made by Villa supporters here, have suggested a possible danger which the Chief feels demands the strengthening of the police force by volunteers, to be in readiness for assembly within an hour after notice is given.

The cards, which are to be sent to a carefully-selected group of men, inquire of the individual whether he is willing to perform police duty in case of emergency. His address and telephone number are asked, and he is requested to mention if he will be able to respond at short notice.

Ranters occupied soap boxes at the Plaza yesterday, appealing to the anarchists among the Mexicans to arise and attack stable business and organized society. The letters of Jean Crones, the Chicago anarchist who poisoned the soup at a famous banquet recently, were read. In one of these letters Crones refers to the fact that each plate at the banquet cost $15.

TROUBLE MAKERS WATCHED.

The street shouters are trying to incite their auditors to take advantage of the present situation, place themselves on the side of Villa and strike against this city.

Agents of Chief Snively have attended every meeting and a complete record of the incendiary utterances is in the files of the department. The talks are made largely by irresponsible anarchists, and their influence is believed to be small.

Further reports in the hands of the police show of the 35,000 Mexicans living here more than 10 per cent are Villistas, in full sympathy with his cause. The more stable leaders of this element are co-operating with the police in an effort to subdue the inflammation that has arisen since the nation declared its intention of going into Mexico after Villa, dead or alive.

DEMONSTRATION SQUELCHED.

Sonoratown, where the majority of the Mexicans live and congregate, is provided with a triple patrol, and this trebling of the force in the district may be further strengthened today. A demonstration that was scheduled to develop yesterday afternoon did not materialize.

Officers of the police department will be placed in charge of the special police force which Chief Snively is organizing. Yesterday the Chief appointed Lieut. Emil Bloch of the department as captain of one of the companies to be formed. Lieut. Bloch is a veteran of the Franco-Prussian War and has seen service in several riots of a national character where he was in charge of the militia.

No Mexicans were arrested yesterday. The embargo against the purchase of guns by them is complete, and the saloons, to be on the side of safety in view of the Chief's orders of Monday, have discouraged Mexican trade and refuse to sell any Mexican more than one drink at a time.

ESCAPED PRISONER CAUGHT IN YUMA.

CHARGED WITH SWINDLING IN AUTO STAGE DEAL.

Local Men Complain They Were Induced to Put Money into a Venture Existing Only in the Mind of the Promoter—Arrested at Needles He Breaks Jail and Gets Away.

After escaping from the jail at Needles and eluding pursuers for several weeks, Henry Cunningham was captured in Yuma yesterday morning, according to advices received by Sheriff Cline, who immediately detailed Deputy Cochrane to bring the fugitive back.

Cunningham is alleged to have swindled a number of local men out of $250 each by a clever new plan. He advertised in local papers for drivers of machines on a stage route from Kingman to Oatman, in Arizona.

To those who answered the ad, he depicted glowing accounts of a great automobile business in the mining camp district and offered not only a good salary, but a fine commission to his assistants. In order to properly indemnify himself against carelessness on the part of the drivers, and possible dishonesty, he is alleged to have demanded a cash bond of $250.

As a guarantee of his own honesty, he gave for this bond a mortgage on the machine which the man was supposed to drive. Deputy Sheriffs Strong and Dickinson, who investigated his transactions, discovered among others who had paid their $250, O. P. Hopkins of No. 1800 West Eighth street, G. H. Wood of No. 559 South Vermont avenue, J. B. Dickerhoff of San Pedro and E. B. Henderson of Monrovia.

After having secured the money, Cunningham is alleged to have put his drivers off for several days until they became so insistent he was forced to leave town. Investigation developed that he owned no automobile and the mortgages were worthless. When the warrant for him was issued Cunningham escaped from the city and was finally located in Needles and arrested. Before a deputy sheriff reached there, he escaped from the jail and disappeared a second time. He was next located in Phoenix, and fled from that place before capture. Officers in Yuma identified him from descriptions and placed Cunningham under arrest and a heavy guard.

PUPILS FALL SHORT.

Thirty-seven in Polytechnic High will be Recommended for Suspension Because of Poor Scholarship, First Instance of Action of this Kind in the City.

Thirty-seven pupils of Polytechnic High School are to be recommended to Supt. Francis to be dropped from school, on account of poor scholarship and that they are a drag on the school. It will be the first time in the history of the city schools that students have been suspended for this cause.

The fate of the drones will depend entirely upon the decision of Mr. Francis, but it is thought that when he is made acquainted with the details of the cases the pupils will be dismissed. Several who are under the school age of 16 will have to remain in some school, and it is probable they will be demoted to a grade where they can make good.

The failing students were given notice five weeks ago that unless their scholarship was immediately raised they would be required to leave school. At that time over 200 pupils were on the failing list. Of the 200, the great majority have been able to attain a passing grade in their work. About fifty are still failing in one subject and thirty-seven have failed outright. A marked improvement has been noted in the scholarship average of the entire school since the announcement of the elimination.

OFFICIAL RULING DEFINES SOUP.

POLICE COMMISSION LEARNS WHAT IS A SAUSAGE.

City Prosecutor Renders Legal Opinion Which Settles Mooted Question Incidental to the Proper Conduct of the Saloon Business in Los Angeles.

For the edification of the Police Commission yesterday, City Prosecutor Williams presented an official interpretation of the substance known as "soup." This definition was formally adopted by the Police Commission and, the city records define soup verbatim as follows:

"Soup is defined as 'A liquid with something soaked in it, as a sop of bread; a liquid dish served usually before fish or meat at dinner. The basis of soup is stock, to which is added meat, vegetables, vermicelli, herbs, wine, seasoning or whatever is chosen; as, cream soup, tomato soup, turtle soup, etc. Therefore, a liquid to which is added particles of meat or vegetables would be construed to be a soup, its density or thickness being immaterial. It could not be construed to be 'a 'stew' unless the original meat product was prepared over a slow fire, the meat predominating.

With reference to the question of sausage, I understand that 'wienerwursts" are included within the term 'sausage' and can be served; but they cannot be served hot, as per your inquiry, for reasons that the service of all hot foods is prohibited, except soup."

The official report of the City Prosecutor was made in response to a request from the Police Commission which asked for a legal ruling on its rights, under its famous free-lunch resolution, to put a ban on soup containing pieces of meat and vegetables. In effect, the City Prosecutor says it depends entirely on whether the meat in a soup is cooked over a slow or a fast fire. The exact degree of heat permissible in preparing free lunch soup is not yet determined, but the City Prosecutor is looking up authorities in anticipation of a request for a legal ruling on the point.

The Police Commission also learned that a wienerwurst is really a type of sausage, and this information, together with the official Los Angeles definition of soup, was forwarded to the Chief of Police with instructions to govern his actions in free lunch inspections accordingly.

BIG SHOW OPENS TODAY.

More than One Hundred Exhibitors Already Registered Assure Pure Food Exposition Being Largest Affair of Its Kind Ever Held in the West.

"It's not so much what you cook as how you cook it, providing it's a standard quality product."

This is the philosophy of Chef A. L. Wyman, who will conduct the free cooking school in connection with the third annual Pure Food Exposition, which opens today in the old Boston Store building, No. 239 South Broadway.

Chef Wyman has the distinction of being the only cook who can prepare the national dish of every nation.

More than 100 exhibitors registered yesterday. The exposition is the largest of its kind ever held in the West. Manager Neal P. Olsen stated yesterday that more than 300 babies will be entered in the baby show, and that several hundred silver cups will be given away.

There will be special exercises St. Patrick's Day and orange day. Tuesday, March 28, will be movie day. The police department will have a booth and will be honored with a special night, Saturday, March 25.

Tomorrow will be especially assigned to the grocers of Los Angeles and Southern California. Members of the association will stop weighing sugar, coffee and other staples for the day and enjoy the events at the food show.

SUPPORT FOR DELEGATES

Vigorous Campaign Instituted on Behalf of Republicans Who will Represent California at the National Convention in Chicago.

A vigorous campaign in the interests of the twenty-six men and women who have been chosen as the Republican delegates to the national convention in Chicago has been instituted throughout the South, and Assemblyman Bartlett, who is in charge of the work, said yesterday there is little chance of formidable opposition.

The first action is to make sure that the names of the proposed delegates will appear on the ballot. To do this it is necessary to get approximately 1500 signatures to their nominating petitions, which are now being circulated. It is no little task to attach a signature to twenty-six petitions, but loyal Republicans are offering no objection to the extra labor and are volunteering their services at Republican headquarters, No. 631 South Spring street.

When the petitions are ready for filing the committee in charge of the campaign will conduct a speaking tour throughout the southern district and some of the best orators in the State will take the stump for the candidates. Among the latter are some silver-tongued speakers and they, too, will deliver a number of addresses.

So far as known petitions for the delegates picked at the rump convention which was dominated by the Johnson-Earl-Lissner combine are not yet in circulation.

For Democratic Delegates.

The Woodrow Wilson group of delegates to the National Democratic Convention are circulating nominating petitions this week. Anyone wishing to sign is cordially invited to do so. Sections of petition are at the headquarters of the County Central Committee, room 611, Security Building, and at the office of Miss Mary Foy, room 828, California Building. Signers must have registered since January 1, but party affiliation is immaterial.

Charges Desertion as a Grou for Divorce Asked.

Wife Failing to Win Decree Remained Away.

The opening paragraph in the e and chapter of the Burns fam drama was written yesterday wh Dr. Ralph Ellis Burns, through attorney, S. W. ALL EXPLAINED AWAY.

However, each incident brought o in the testimony of the complainin wife was explained by Dr. Burns an Miss Pierce satisfactorily to the cou and when Mrs. Burns admitted sh fully intended to make San Diego h home the proceedings were dismisse by Judge Monroe, inasmuch as t charges were not only unsustaine but also because his court had n jurisdiction over a resident of Sa Diego county.

At that time it was decided tha their young son would continue i school at San Diego with his mothe The father would pay $25 a week fo the boy's support and would be per mitted to see the child during vaca tions.

"We do not seek to change any con ditions of these arrangements," Attor ney Odell said last night. "We ar asking a divorce on a straight charg of desertion. Dr. Burns means busi ness. You know, Mrs. Burns has no lived with him for several years. Thi suit is in no way a counter-suit."

DR. BURNS SILENT.

Mrs. Burns, who is at present re siding in San Diego, has not as ye indicated whether she will contest th action. Dr. Burns, who has offices i the Wright & Callender Building, an lives at Ocean Park, declared last night he did not care to discuss the matter.

The divorce action brought by Mrs Burns was filed during November, 1914, but it was not until the follow ing spring that the sensational details of the allegations contained in the ac tion became known at the trial. It appeared from the testimony of Mrs. Burns that the first fly in the con jugal ointment became manifest in 1907, when Miss Susan D. Pierce, sis ter of the plaintiff, came to visit in Los Angeles.

According to Mrs. Burns, from the time of her sister's arrival Dr. Burns changed. A squabble over which she or would sit on the dentist's lap was followed by too much mistletoe and its consequences, the wife testified. In each instance her husband's prefer ence for the unmarried sister was evi dent, she declared.

Stories of nightgown parades, and the finding of her husband's night shirt in the sister's valise so startled the courtroom audience one day that Judge Monroe was compelled to clear the room.

Dr. Burns and Miss Pierce stoutly denied every allegation made by Mrs. Burns and at the close of the testi mony Judge Monroe ruled the charges not sustained.

CAUSES OF CRIME.

Lonely and Unloved Men Turn Vi cious, Says District Attorney.

"Men become criminals because they are lonely and unloved, not be cause they are vicious by nature," Dist.-Atty. Woolwine told the Tem ple Business Men's Club, in Berean Hall, Temple Auditorium, last night, adding: "I often wonder, when prose cuting men for crime, what I would have done had I been put to the trials to which the prisoners had been sub jected."

Mr. Woolwine told his audience there really was no mystery about the duties of the District Attorney, even though many seem to be uncertain as to what he is elected to do. He only is entrusted with the duty to enforce the laws. He said it would be a mistake to do away with the grand jury system. Unwilling wit nesses may escape testifying in a court, he said, but the grand jury has power to compel them to tell what they know about infractions of law.

Col. J. C. Haskell of Boston gave a short address on the importance of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, of which he was an organizer.

Miss Helen Newcomb rendered two vocal selections, the music being fur nished by Ray Hastings.

Two new members were enrolled in the club last night, which runs the total membership to 130. A campaign to secure 500 new church members, to be secured before Easter Sunday, was in stituted last night, when Dr. Brougher suggested the members of the club assist in the movement.

IN BANKRUPTCY.

F. E. Snowden, who claims to be an oil expert, filed a petition in bank ruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday, giving his debts as $158,877, without any assets. Of the amount $151,500 is secured, $30,753.- 60 is unsecured, and $17,423.40 is accommodation paper. The debts of the petitioner in a great measure grow out of the promotion and operation of the Watsonville Railway and Navi gation Company. The liability of the petitioner to the bondholders of that corporation is given as $100,000. There is also a debt of $45,000 due R. W. Eaton, Watsonville, also secured.

HUSBAND'S THE PLAINTIFF NOW.

Pendant in Sensational Burns Case Changes Role.

Charges Desertion as a Ground for Divorce Asked.

Wife Failing to Win Decree has Remained Away.

The opening paragraph in the second chapter of the Burns family annals was written yesterday when Dr. Ralph Ellis Burns, through his attorney, A. W. Odell, brought action for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Ruth Pierce Burns, charging desertion. The first chapter came to an abrupt close last September when Judge Monroe denied the decree of divorce sought by Mrs. Burns, who at that time charged her husband with cruelty and too much affection for her sister, Miss Susan Pierce of Pasadena.

Although the action filed yesterday according to Attorney Odell, nothing more than a business-like charge of desertion, with no thought other than to obtain a divorce as expeditiously as possible on that ground, the proceedings revive the sensational details that attended the trial when the present plaintiff was the defendant. At that time numerous nightgowns, silk stockings and many kisses vied with each other for prominent places in the testimony.

ALL EXPLAINED AWAY.

However, each incident brought out in the testimony of the complaining wife was explained by Dr. Burns and Mrs. Pierce satisfactorily to the court, for when Mrs. Burns admitted she had intended to make San Diego her home the proceedings were dismissed by Judge Monroe, inasmuch as the charges were not only unsustained, but were because his court had no jurisdiction over a resident of San Diego county.

At that time it was decided that the young son would continue in school at San Diego with his mother, for whom would pay $25 a week for the boy's support and would be permitted to see the child during vacations.

"We do not seek to change any conditions of these arrangements," Attorney Odell said last night. "We are suing a divorce on a straight charge of desertion. Dr. Burns means business. You know, Mrs. Burns has not been with him for several years. This is in no way a counter-suit."

DR. BURNS SILENT.

Dr. Burns, who is at present residing in San Diego, has not as yet decided whether she will contest the suit. Dr. Burns, who has offices in the Wright & Callender Building, and a home in Ocean Park, declared last night he did not care to discuss the matter.

The divorce action brought by Mrs. Burns was filed during November, 1914, but it was not until the following spring that the sensational details and allegations contained in the action became known at the trial. Dr. Burns and Miss Pierce stoutly denied every allegation made by Mrs. Burns and at the close of the testimony Judge Monroe ruled the charges unfounded.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

Assayer Accused of Receiving Stolen Jewelry from Thieves is Given Preliminary Hearing—Police Charge he Acted as "Fence" for Alleged Bandits.

George H. Pratt, alleged fence for the ring of local bandits now in jail awaiting trial, appeared before Justice Brown for a preliminary hearing yesterday morning, and was bound over to the Superior Court on bail of $2000, which late in the day was furnished by friends.

Pratt, who operated an assay and chemist's laboratory at the corner of First and Main streets, was arrested last week on a charge of receiving stolen property. In his possession were found several bars of fused gold.

Some jewelry was also found, and identified as property stolen from R. A. Thomas, Margaret and J. A. Mackechine, and several others. This was alleged to have been turned over to Pratt by Charles Giroln, who is awaiting trial on a burglary charge. Deputy District Attorney Powell developed these facts at the examination of Pratt yesterday.

LOST ORDINANCE ENTAILS EXPENSE.

COUNTY BOARD APPROPRIATES FOR HUMANE WORK.

Bill to Provide for Care of Animals by Health Department Mysteriously Goes Astray Before Completion—Forces Change of Attitude Toward Private Organizations.

The Los Angeles Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals yesterday secured a new appropriation from the Board of Supervisors for carrying on its work. The sum of $300 a month was granted after an hour of discussion of the situation, in which it developed that the recent ordinance providing for the appointment of a county humane officer, for some unknown and mysterious reason, had been shelved. The ordinance was passed last November, and provided for the appointment under civil service regulations of a humane officer who was to receive from $90 to $115 a month. His office was to be operated in connection with that of the county health department.

The county had been paying the Los Angeles Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals $6000 a year to carry on the work. This appropriation was to end on January 1. Yesterday morning James G. Strecher, one of the directors of the society, appeared to inform the board that the work of caring for abused animals was being continued by his organization, because the county had apparently forgotten all about the matter. He asked for an appropriation covering the expenses incurred in the work during January and February.

Considerable surprise was expressed at the apparent loss of the ordinance, and it was finally found on a shelf in the county counsel's department. In some mysterious way it developed that the ordinance, as far as it had been developed, called for control by the Public Welfare Commission. Not a member on the board could explain how this apparent change had been entered. Deputy County Counsel Bishop stated that he was not positive who had authorized the insertion covering supervision by the commission. He explained that the ordinance had been sidetracked as a result of too much rush work demanded by the board.

After much argument it was decided to come to the rescue of the Humane Society by an appropriation to be continued until such time as the county humane officer is appointed. Supervisor Hinshaw opposed the motion on the ground that the board had taken a firm stand last November against the support of outside organizations, and that it was going back on its resolution.

The county counsel was incidentally notified to resurrect the ordinance and hasten its completion.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) The best demand of the year was had for securities for investment purposes, and the volume of business transacted broke the record. All important branches of commerce and industry, as well as railroad earnings, are proceeding at an almost unprecedented rate of activity, with prices of products steadily mounting. An improvement in the car shortage conditions is greatly facilitating movement of goods.

(Abroad:) French credits required for the second quarter of 1916 amount to 7,500,000,000 francs. Daily war expenditures are now 87,000,000 francs. Total expenses of the war since August, 1914, to date, have been 47,000,000,000 francs.

AT FIRST HAND.

Having supplied Mexico with arms and munitions for the past four years, the United States will now have an opportunity to study the quality of its exports.

SAVE PAPER AND RAGS.

Though European embargos, American faces the probability of having a shortage in paper, and as an investment in economy the government has issued 1,000,000 circulars urging people to save all rags and papers. There is irony, indeed, in the possibility that America may be severely pinched in that product which has always been regarded as waste. There's scarcely a home in the country that doesn't look upon accumulated papers and rags as a nuisance.

POLISH-AMERICANS "UNHYPHENATED."

Sons of Poland, the Niobe of nations, who have found security in America, are attesting allegiance to the country that has welcomed them by organizing a military school at South Bend, Ind., for the training of officers who can, in the event of war, take command of Polish regiments. The Polish Falcons Alliance of America numbers 40,000 members, descendants of men who followed Sobieski to the relief of Vienna, and of those who marched with Kosciusko, and they are sworn to uphold the flag which Kosciusko himself fought beneath during the dark days when Washington was chief.

PRECARIOUS PASTIME.

Joking with a lady's heart is precarious pastime if we may point a moral from a breach of promise suit now engaging the attention of local attorneys. A merry luncheon, we are told, followed by a fifteen-minute acquaintanceship, led a local automobile salesman to propose to a young woman who seems to have become hastily and seriously enamored. An immediate proposal was followed by a trip to the license bureau, but after that the intended groom balked. "Just a little joke," he calls it. But she—ah, that fifteen minutes trifling with her heart seems to have been very deleterious to her happiness, and her suit asks for $25,000 with which to assuage otherwise inconsolable grief. Perhaps the salesman will find sympathy for a cynicism quite current among misogynists; that is, that women have no sense of humor.

THOMAS MOTT OSBORNE.

In exasperation we would like to demand an answer from some omniscient sphinx to the question: Is it not possible for a reformer to be honest? For many months we have closely followed the reform work of Thomas Mott Osborne, former warden of Sing Sing Prison, becoming more and more confident that his was an earnest, honest and intelligent purpose. Now he is on trial charged with something more disreputable than graft, or condoning and concealing immorality among prisoners. His friends claim it is a "frame-up," but that unfortunately is the lament we have known many rascally reformers to make. The intimate details of the case have not been made public, so it is not judicious at present to form an opinion. But we sincerely hope that the man is innocent and will be found so, for it seemed that he was doing honorable and valued work, untainted by political aspiration or demagogic inspiration.

"MUTUAL" INTERVENTION.

President Wilson has given Carranza permission to send Mexican troops to "chase" into the United States any American soldiers who might make a raid into Mexico, and, after murdering women and unarmed men and loading themselves with loot, seek refuge in Texas.

The "permission" will rank in history with the Pope's bull against the comet. There is no portable Mexican property in Sonora or Chihuahua available for Texas raiders, and American soldiers are not in the habit of being "chased" by Mexicans, and if a body of Texans marched into Mexico for any purpose they would not seek refuge by a return to the United States. They would keep on marching and they would be headed southward.

There is no particular objection to saving the face of Carranza at home by consenting to make intervention "mutual," only that it may give foreign nations an erroneous impression of the situation.

The correct thing to do is to cut the strings in the entanglements of which the War Department seems to be tying up Gen. Funston. He has discretion as well as courage. Give him carte blanche and he will do the rest.

A Chicago suffragist has sued her husband for divorce, but wants no alimony, saying that "women do not have to be supported by men." That's the stuff!

THE WAY NOT TO CATCH VILLA.

There are several ways not to catch Villa, but the most distinguished way would be to go after him with an imposing army, with flags flying, drums beating, long columns of artillery filing over the mountain passes and a regiment of press correspondents in the advance guard relaying information to the American public, and incidentally to Villa's spies.

It's well enough to go into Mexico with all of those things—correspondents included, for the American people have a right to know what is doing. And the chances are that there will be much suddenly appear on the programme that will make the mere pursuit of Villa a trivial incident. But an army can only be effectively used against another army; a sledge hammer is a fine thing with which to attack a husky foe, but is not much good for hunting a flea.

Unless Villa belies his reputation, he will prove elusive as any flea that ever roused a "dough boy" to search a blanket by moonlight. Villa is a mountaineer, a bandit of the hills, who for twenty-two years kept his head on his shoulders only by having an intimate knowledge of every trail, cave, waterhole and mountain pass in Northern Chihuahua. He's a conceited and reckless fellow, but he will never be foolish and bold enough to come out in the open and make a stand against a formidable body of American troops. If he and his men had the courage, which is doubtful, to meet armed Americans, man for man, it is certain they haven't the equipment. So Villa will stay in the high places, splitting his band into a score of gangs, dodging in and out of the brush, sniping, raiding, dashing in and out, doing all the harassing possible with the minimum of risk.

In warfare of that kind a big army is about as effective as a battering ram against a jack rabbit. The way to go after Villa is as the cavalrymen went after the Indian raiders a half century ago, as the Texas rangers went after their men. It's harder work and more risky, but what of that? It's a poor soldier who rides beneath the colors and counts the risk and very few of them present arms to the American flag.

It is Villa's game that Uncle Sam has agreed to play, and he makes the rules. The way to beat him is to meet him at his own game. We could put a half-million men into Mexico, keep them busy, and as long as they were divided into armies they would never get in rifle shot of Villa. But bands of cavalrymen scouting free, traveling light, and ever on the jump, would keep Senor Villa busy as an armless man with the itch. It is regrettable that the cavalrymen who dashed out of Columbus and across the border after the raiders were not able to keep going, pausing a few hours perhaps for reinforcements. But after a two-years' session on the border, it was a bold risk for them to even cross the boundary line. For two years there has been an order, emanating from President Wilson, that American sentries when fired upon from across the border were not to return the fire. Some months ago a lieutenant unintentionally crossed the border and was court-martialed.

After so long a period of inactive folly, the President is welcome to what credit may be his for developing firmness. And the United States has gone into Mexico to get Villa—to get him if troops have to force their way into Mexico City itself. But only by mountaineering tactics can they hope to effect the capture of the goat-like scapegoat Villa.

THE IRISH HERITAGE.

National unrest still agitates the Irish people even at a time when they are fighting so valiantly to uphold the British empire. Unlike Scotland, Wales, Canada and Australia, Ireland still clings passionately to the idea of a separate and distinct nationality. She still chafes at being but a part of an organization she at the same time is struggling to maintain intact.

For this spirit she has inherited. By searching the traditions of the Irish race—traditions inspiring and unbroken for eleven centuries—we can understand the difference in her attitude from that of the other members of the British family.

The Romans conquered England; they never conquered Ireland. England at the start was forced to accept the Roman system; Ireland at the start was free to reject it. Sentiment, religion and art were given a wild, free growth in Erin because her civilization was untouched by the Roman invasion. Roman ideas were forced upon the subjugated English while that nation was incubating. So the Latin idea of federated government that took hold of the English mind never touched the imagination of the unconquered Irish. And the instinct of tribal organism has never since left the Irish nature.

So because over a thousand years ago the invasion of Britain by the legions of Caesar never crossed the Irish Channel, today, though fighting shoulder to shoulder with Englishmen, Scots, Colonials and Welshmen, the Irishman refuses to admit the overlordship of either England as a senior partner or the British empire as a united family.

RAILROAD PREPAREDNESS.

From observations made on the spot the fact is patent that Germany's military organization tended to break down, or at least to lose its high standard of efficiency, as soon as military operations were stretched beyond the limit of carefully constructed railroads. Mr. B. L. Winchell of the Union Pacific informs us that our American railroads are entirely unfitted under present conditions to handle any sudden mobilization of troops, were we called upon to meet a first-class military emergency. We are not properly equipped in this branch of national defense.

The importance of the military transportation problem is one of the most striking lessons to be learned from the European war. It is the secret of Germany's success and was the result of years of carefully considered plans and specifications. If even so thorough a military system as that evoked from the scientific genius of the Teuton depended principally on efficient transportation facilities, it is surely incumbent on our government, in formulating plans for preparedness, to devote time and attention first of all to overcoming this initial difficulty.

We may arrange for sufficient men, sufficient guns, sufficient ammunition, a sufficient number of trained officers, and even then our system will break down unless we have worked out and tested a thorough scheme of military railroad transportation.

For the forwarding of commerce in times of peace we have in the United States the finest railroad system in the world. We handle traffic more cheaply and more expeditiously than the government-owned railroads of Europe can begin to do. Our railroads, however, are not designed—as those of Germany were—with an eye chiefly to the needs of a War Office nor are they equipped on a military basis. None the less, in case of hostile attack, our authorities should be ready with well matured plans to rush troops and ammunition and supplies to any threatened point as swiftly as Germany has been able to reach any position on her east or west boundary along thousands of miles of trenches.

This should be no very difficult feat or particularly expensive undertaking. We have to start with a railroad system splendidly organized to meet the demands of peace—it should readily be applied by a military board to cope with the exigencies of war.

The straits to which the British traveling public was put as soon as the government commandeered the railways for war purposes were severe and exasperating to an extent we in America should not very readily acquiesce in, accustomed as we have been to years of expeditious railroad service. A scheme of railroad preparedness carefully worked out beforehand will save us from the conditions that existed for nearly six months on the British railways after the declaration of war.

THE SHIPS ARE COMING BACK.

The National Chamber of Commerce of the United States, at its fourth annual meeting recently held in the city of Washington, unhesitatingly condemned President Wilson's plan of restoring the Stars and Stripes to the ocean. In the estimation of the committee having the matter in charge the shipping bill is fundamentally wrong, its provisions are contrary to the traditions of the country and the result of its operation would be anticipated with misgivings and alarm.

The greatest vice of the measure is its leaning toward government ownership of transportation facilities by rail as well as by water. The chairman of the Committee on Merchant Marine says: "The American people do not want government ownership and operation of shipping. American citizens will not care to enter into partnership with the government in a losing venture. By going into the shipping business the government will shut out private enterprise. The proposed appropriation, therefore, of $50,000,000 to be obtained by the sale of Panama Canal bonds will make impossible the securing of hundreds of millions of the people's money which might be devoted to the upbuilding of a merchant marine if a fair chance were given."

Since the promulgation of President Wilson's plan to restore the American merchant marine, shipbuilding in the United States has suddenly assumed proportions of unprecedented magnitude. The New York Herald reports that "every yard along the Atlantic seaboard is filled with vessels under construction, and enough orders are waiting to keep all busy for five years."

According to figures given out by Mr. H. L. Aldrich, editor of International Marine Engineering, there are now under construction in the shipyards of the nation 381 vessels of various description, more than 200 of which will be used in freight and collateral service and sixty-four of which are warships of all types. There are more than fifty freighters with tonnage running from 4000 to 10,000 and twenty-one oil tankers. Steamships for freight and passenger services are under construction with tonnage running up to 10,000 and a large number of colliers, some of which are as large as 14,000 tons. Eleven shipyards in New England, seven in Maryland and Delaware, three in California, three in Washington, three in New Jersey and seventeen at other points, are busy and running at full capacity night and day.

There are other factors which should be taken into consideration when the European war is over. The merchant marine of every belligerent country will be in a deplorable condition, which is bound to have its reflex in still another impulse to the shipbuilding industry in this country.

The interned vessels of Germany and Austria have been deteriorating to the extent of from 15 to 25 per cent. a year, and all the vessels taken over by the allied governments have been operated without any regard to their preservation. When restored to their various merchant marines they will be found to be in bad shape. All the warring countries have drained their merchant channels for vessels, and the experts say it must be plain to anyone that every foreign power will be looking to the United States for replenishing. With capacities for the construction of vessels as large as 35,000 tons, the ability of the shipbuilders of this country to duplicate practically anything on the ocean is not doubted.

Of the 381 vessels now under construction some are contracted for by persons or corporations in various foreign countries, including Spain, Argentina and Norway, but the vessels are mainly being built for Americans. Mr. Aldrich says:

"There is every probability that the shipyards will be running at 100 per cent. of capacity on legitimate business—that is, without war orders or outside work—for the next five years. Two years ago not many ships were under contract. The future of the American merchant marine looks brighter today than at any time in the last half century. Ships are being built as cheaply in this country as in any other. Another important point is that the war is costing fabulous sums of money, on which interest must be paid. The only way to find this interest is by additional taxation. It does not seem that there can be any question that great corporations like steamship companies will have their taxes enormously increased when peace returns."

From this taxation American ships will be exempt. The war has reversed conditions. American ships can now be built cheaper and run cheaper than European ships. Our mercantile marine will be restored to a foremost position in the world without government subsidies or the government going into the transportation business. All that is needed is to take the fetters off the limbs of our commerce. Repeal the seaman's bill that drove our ships from the Pacific Ocean and they will return doubled in number and efficiency.

[Pittsburgh Dispatch:] All the funny stuff doesn't appear in the school examination papers. A member of the House Naval Affairs Committee asked an admiral who was testifying: "Is a torpedo destroyer a boat that destroys torpedoes?" And the patriotic admiral never even smiled.

Just Chatter.

"Does Henry Watterson still think that 'this Hughes talk' is mainly chatter."—[The Transcript. "He does, he does, by golly, he does!"—[Louisville Courier-Journal. Well, that ought to settle it, because Marse Henry certainly is an expert on chatter.—[Boston Transcript.

AMERICA.

BY MARSHAL SOUTH.

The sky is dark with wrack of hurling cloud, and smoking wisps from reeking throats of guns,
Upon the sullen streams, towards the sea, the blood of warring nations redly runs,
The gloom is lit by glare of funeral pyres; Death's bat-like pinions ceaseless beat the air;
The gods are overthrown and in their stead, crouch those twin Harpies, Ruin and Despair.
The world is marshalled and gone down in arms to stand before that grim and sombre throne,
From the dread seat of which the god of Mars shall judge the nations by their strength alone.
The hour is past for pleas or vain regret, as stricken empires totter to their fall,
But, from the carnage, clear and clearer yet, the wailing notes of warning bugles call:

"America, America, Arise!
Thou Ruler of the Western World; beware.
For thee, in warning, flare these bloody skies,
Champion of Liberty! Awake! Prepare!"

America, prepare! Put dreaming by; those wild and lofty dreams which end in doom;
Those rainbow phantasies which deck the path that Nations tread towards Oblivion's tomb.
America, beware! Those golden webs which dreamers weave for thee in days of ease,
In peril's hour shall be as chains of steel whose weight shall drag thee fainting to thy knees.
Be not deceived. Through all the ages past have Dreamers and False Prophets loudly cried:
"Throw down the bulwarks; War's mad day is past"—and helpless 'neath War's heel their lands have died.
Their Empires are dissolved and but a name;—some shattered brick; a column by the shore;

"America, America, Arise!
Heed ye the call upon the trembling air
From fates of those who also veiled their eyes
Read ye the lesson. Gird thy sword. Prepare!"

America, arise! This is no time for chattering words to mock the solemn hour.
Strengthen thy ramparts; train thy sons to arms; let thy gray fleets ride watchful on thy seas;
That, safe behind thy walls of ready steel, thy homes and cities may remain at ease.
For thou art called to fill the Champion's role—not as the tyrant with the lust of hate—
But as the Angel of the Flaming Sword, who's powerful arm shall guard the outer gate;

"America, America, Arise!
Hear now the pealing trumpets warning blare
For sacred honor and thy children's sake

THE GRAND DUKE.

The Grand Duke Nicholas was canned some eight or seven months ago; his ill-found soldiers could not stand against the well-armed, full-fed foe. His men were armed with rusty guns, and had no powder and less shot; they could not face the fighting Huns, nor yet endure the German swat. Remarked the Russian ruler then, "Grand Duke, you fail to cut the grass; I'll send you with a bunch of men to guard some lonesome mountain pass." "All right, my liege," the Grand Duke cried, before the monarch bending low, "your orders I'll obey with pride, for what you say must always go." A tinhorn duke might well have cussed, and nursed a sore and aching head, and vowed his treatment was unjust, and grouched around till he was dead. But, smiling, Nicholas retired, and led his bunch of also-rans, a group of has-beens, worn and tired, to play before the bush league fans. But, oh, how Nicholas came back, and led his has-beens to the front, and gave the Turks a deadly crack, till Russia gloried in his stunt! Say, do you sit around and curse, when you've been taken down a notch, or grandly rise above reverse, till all the world your smoke must watch?

Famed Court Case has Insan Charge as Finale.

Mrs. Teresa Wurtsbaugh Tak into State's Care.

War to "Avenge" Daughter a Pathetic End.

Another leaf was added to the tra story of Mrs. Teresa Wurtsbaugh y terday, when the venerable wom was taken into custody on a compla charging insanity, sworn to by Cly Moody, third assistant United Stat District Attorney. The case will taken before the Lunacy Commissi immediately and disposed of.

The old lady appeared at the Fe eral Building more than a year a with a copy of a complaint brou against Earl Berry, then a resident Long Beach, and a host of defendan seeking to recover heavy damages f the alleged abduction by Berry of h daughter, Jessamine Wurtsbaug The charge against the other d fendants was conspiracy in assistin Berry, as was alleged, in bringing t girl from Owensboro, Ky., to Lo Beach.

The complaint was prepared by Mr Wurtsbaugh, as her own attorney, s having no money to retain an atto ney. She said she had studied fo years to grasp the necessary law. Sh was compelled to amend the bill, bu up to this time the complaint has no passed court muster.

Before the various courts of years of times, United States Distri Judges Bean, Cushman, Trippet an Bledsoe all passing upon the variou features of the litigation. Mrs Wurtsbaugh made an affidavit against Judge Trippet, charging that he was prejudiced against her, and he was barred from further action. The last appearance of the little woman was in Judge Bledsoe's court Monday when the case of "Wurtsbaugh vs. Berry, et al.," was marked "go over for a week." It was the usual entry.

MANY DEFENDANTS.

In the final amended bill she had among the defendants the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall. She alleged that Berry and the woman had come to California on a Southern Pacific train and that Vice-President Marshall was a member of a legal firm in Indiana who brought an action for divorce in behalf of Mrs. Wurtsbaugh's husband.

When the complaint came up on demurrers, Mrs. Wurtsbaugh appeared in her own behalf, and there was considerable interest in seeing an old gray-haired lady argue the law points.

She haunted the Federal Building like a wraith and there were but few her and motion days when the swift gliding form of the little woman, with wan, pinched face, and sorrowful eyes, was not seen about. But she made no progress with her case. It was not properly prepared, ruled out point after another.

But Mrs. Wurtsbaugh never complained and she was overruled in one motion only to come right back with another based on what she thought the law ought to be. The complaint judges, recognizing the tragedy of the situation, allowed her to proceed without hindrance, none of them having the heart to tell her that she was wasting her time.

FAMILY COMPLAINTS.

Finally members of the family with whom Mrs. Wurtsbaugh is making her home made representations on the matter to the office of the United States District Attorney. The complaint by Mr. Moody followed, not because he had any interest in the matter, but to seek to place Mrs. Wurtsbaugh where she could be better cared for. But the calendar of the Federal courts without the case, "Wurtsbaugh vs. Berry, et al.," will look like Hamlet with the Melancholy Dane out of the cast.

The facts in the case seem to be that Earl Berry married the daughter of the old lady and that they lived in Long Beach for some time, that a child was born to them, but that they have since returned to their old home in Owensboro.

Another tragic note was added to the tragic story of Mrs. Teresa Wurtsbaugh yesterday, when the venerable woman was taken into custody on a complaint charging insanity, sworn to by Clyde Ford, chief assistant United States District Attorney. The case will be heard before the Lunacy Commission this morning and disposed of.

The ill-fated lady appeared at the Federal Building more than a year ago on a writ of a complaint brought against Burt Berry, then a resident of Long Beach, and a host of defendants, asking to recover heavy damages for the alleged abduction by Berry of her daughter, Jessamine Wurtsbaugh. The charge against the other defendants was conspiracy in assisting Berry, as was alleged, in bringing the girl from Ossenboro, Ky., to Long Beach.

The complaint was prepared by Mrs. Wurtsbaugh, as her own attorney, she having no money to retain an attorney to frame the necessary law. She was compelled to amend the bill, but at this time the complaint has not yet met court muster.

Cases before the various courts a number of times, United States District Judges Bean, Cushman, Trippet and others all passing upon the various phases of the litigation. She charged Berry and the woman had married in California on a Southern Pacific train and that Vice-President Marshall was a member of a legal party of Indians, who brought an abduction charge in behalf of Mrs. Wurtsbaugh's husband.

When the complaint came up on demurrer Mrs. Wurtsbaugh appeared in her own behalf, and there was considerable interest in seeing an iron-haired lady argue the law before the Federal Building Monday and there were but few vacant seats during the swift fire of motion days when the swift flow of the little woman, with pinched face, and sorrowful eyes has not been seen about. But she made no progress with her case. It was improperly prepared, ruled one way and another.

Two Weeks' Session on Expose Oil Fraud Case Begins Here.

United States District Judge Bledsoe and a battery of lawyers representing the government and the Southern Pacific and other defendants began a two weeks' session here yesterday of the oil fraud hearings. This follows a three weeks' siege in San Francisco. At its conclusion the court and attaches will journey to Washington to inspect the original instruments on file in the Department of the Interior, which have to do with the government's grants to the Southern Pacific.

W. E. Yule, a mining expert of this city, was on the stand for the government to show the oil bearing nature of the sands in the vicinity of San Jose and Newhall. The witness has been in California since 1876 and claimed to be thoroughly familiar with oil conditions. His examination was to show that in the territory named the land is of an acknowledged oil-bearing character.

SOCIETY.

A smart dinner at the Los Angeles Country Club had for hosts last evening Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Spalding of No. 1606 Crescent drive, who entertained nearly thirty guests at the pretty rendezvous. Spring flowers formed a veritable bed down the handsomely-appointed board, banked in maidenhair fronds.

Frank Simpson, Jr., is to be host at the largest affair at the country club today—the initial dinner dance which the bachelors have been asked to take in tow.

These functions will take on new zest during the Lenten season, with the princely hosts at the helm, and it is hoped that in turn a limited number of society's favored "unattached" will manipulate the twice-a-month festivities quite to their own liking.

Bidden as Mr. Simpson's guests are Miss Elenor Banning, Miss Dorothy Lindley, Miss Marie Louise Bryant, Miss Louise Hunt, Miss Amy Busch, Miss Eleanor Workman, Miss Mary Hughes, Miss Katharine Torrance, Miss Cecile Call, Miss Elizabeth Parsons, Miss Jane Richardson, Miss Marjorie Tufts, Mrs. John Percival Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weeks Banks, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith, Messrs. Joseph Banning, Jr., William Kay Crawford, Asa Call, Frank Seaver, Clarence Hobiltzelle, Robert Craig, Neil Brown, Paul Herron, Arden Day, John Garner, Wells Morris, Wheeler Chase, Ninian Wolfe, John Rankin, William Van Fleet and Gonzalo Munos.

To Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Walter R. Leeds are members of the club indebted for the refreshing innovation in having the stronger sex assume hospitality for a limited time. The list so far numbers George Ennis, Carl C. Klokke, William R. Millar, Ygnacio Mott, Gurney E. Newlin, Henry C. Nutt, R. J. Cash, Jr., Adolph L. Schwarz, Frank Simpson, Jr., Alfred H. Wilcox, Dwight Whiting, Robert Thresher, Lieut. John Henry Newton, Charles Seyler, Walter Van Pelt, Leo Welsh and Charles Orr.

Notable Reception.

Bidden to meet Hon. and Mrs. E. G. Roberts, who, much to the joy of their friends, have come from their former San Bernardino home, to establish a residence in Los Angeles, Mrs. Stoddard Jess is to receive several hundred guests at her home on No. 2133 Harvard boulevard, tomorrow afternoon, between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock.

A large number of ladies are asked to assist, numbering in their personnel Mrs. George Reynolds of Chicago, wife of the eminent banker; Mrs. Charles E. Seaman, Mrs. James Tabor Fitzgerald, Mrs. E. S. Pauly, Mrs. H. M. Binford, Mrs. Willis H. Booth, Mrs. George I. Cochran, Mrs. Walter Perry Story, Mrs. George Goldsmith, Mrs. A. B. Jones, Mrs. Oscar Mueller, Mrs. Herman Baruch, Mrs. A. E. Edwards of Pasadena, Mrs. T. H. Phillips, Mrs. W. J. Washburn, Mrs. Sidney Haskell, Mrs. Lee Phillips, Mrs. E. J. Price, Mrs. J. A. Kerr, Mrs. J. O. Koepfli, Mrs. Josie Witmer, Mrs. J. E. Fishburn, Mrs. C. O. Nourse, Mrs. George B. Jess, Miss June Braun, Miss Victoria Witmer, Miss Helen Martin, Miss Angelita Phillips, Miss Elsie Baruch and Miss Ada B. Williams.

Mr. Roberts, former State Treasurer, has become identified with the First National Bank, as vice-president, and the coming of the family is to prove a great social acquisition.

Miss Rose Ella Kennard,

Brilliant Musicale.

The second morning musicale under the direction of Henri La Bonta attracted to the rose and gold ballroom of Hotel Alexandria a distingue audience of music lovers and society folk yesterday morning.

As at the previous artistic affair, the patronesses were conspicuous in their attendance and attention, most of them having invited friends for both the programme and luncheon in the main dining-room later.

Ante-nuptial Compliment.

Mr. and Mrs. Edrl F. Low gave a charming pre-nuptial affair at their home, No. 1101 Leighton avenue, Tuesday evening of last week, in honor of Miss Vera V. Sparks and John W. Dorrington, Jr. Covers were laid for fourteen at a table daintily artistic in smilax and jonquils surrounding a miniature bride and groom and officiating clergyman, all in proper attire. Present were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sparks, their daughter and honoree, Miss Vera V. Sparks, John W. Dorrington, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bisbee, Mrs. D. Webster, O. L. Bisbee and the genial hosts.

Our Own Bridge Club.

A St. Patrick luncheon, exquisitely appointed, was given yesterday by Mrs. Frederick M. Schussler at the Garden Cafe to members of Our Own Bridge Club, one of the oldest organizations of the city, formed for sociability, the afternoon being spent in auction bridge at the Engstrum. For the decorative motif white carnations and fluffy green tulle, smilax, snakes, Paddy's miniature pigs and pipes completed bewitchingly attractive St. Patrick appointments typical of the occasion. Covers were laid for Mrs. Fred D. Schildwachter, Mrs. Ray A. Swett, Mrs. Joseph Brown, Jr., Mrs. Sue Holden, Mrs. J. Floyd Leonard, Mrs. J. R. Becker, Mrs. Leonard Smith, Mrs. Carrol Holmes, Mrs. Guy Whittaker, Mrs. Teresa Hissem, Mrs. Guy West and the hostess.

At Home Today.

Mrs. F. L. Loring of sightly San Rafael Heights has issued invitations for an at home this afternoon, when the literati of Pasadena will hear Miss Kathleen O'Brennan in one of her Irish folk literature recitals.

Friendships Renewed.

Miss Helen W. Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Raymond Myers of No. 311 North Avenue 66, has as a house guest Miss Harriet Crawford, daughter of the secretary of the California State Board of Optometry, of Fresno. Miss Crawford is a former student of Occidental College and a member of the Delta Sorority, and many entertainments are being given in her honor. Last Wednesday evening Miss Myers entertained with a dance at her home to fifteen members of the Delta Sorority and their gentleman friends.

For Bride-elect.

On Thursday Miss Maud Barker was hostess at a luncheon given at the Sierra Madre Club in honor of Miss Dorothy Davis of Pasadena, whose marriage is to be an important society event of the Crown City this week. Covers were laid for seven, at a table of unusually pretty pink decorations—a mass of fragrant sweet peas and smilax forming a high canopy suspended from a pink parasol. The favors were ivory frames for Miss Davis's photograph and were tied with pink ribbons, the ends of which extended to the parasol. The guests were Miss Davis, Mrs. Samuel Bierbauer, Miss Ethel Thompson, Miss Esther Weaver, Miss Laberta Miles of Pasadena and Miss Minnie Barker of Los Angeles.

GRACEFUL ENSEMBLE.

ALDA AND LA FORGE FURNISH A DUO OF ENJOYMENT.

By Edwin F. Schallert.

Applause was divided into three parts last night at Trinity Auditorium. The first of these went to Mme. Frances Alda for her exquisite art; the second to Frank La Forge, pianist and accompanist, and third to Frank La Forge, the composer. The honors were, however, shared equally by the sweet-voiced and brilliant singer and her popular assistant.

Mme. Alda is an artist of grace and finish, a finish that in its finer moments enables her to spin off the soft close in songs like "Je ne suis qu' une Bergere," and "Laddie," given for an encore, as if it were some delicate shining filament. She also brings the zest and brilliance of the operatic stage to her work in concert that lends a fascinating dramatic quality to many of her numbers, like the two Puccini selections from "Manon Lescaut."

Most of all, I believe, I like the subdued radiance of such numbers as the "Im Kahne" of Grieg, which had a touch of romantic softness that was exquisitely real. "Les Papillons" was the acme of loveliness, as interpreted by her, as was also her La Forge's own "I Came with a Song." She gave "Fantoches" in a broad, delightful way that won the admiration of her hearers, in connection with the superbly molded accompaniment, so that an encore was demanded.

Her "Nymphs and Shepherds," by Purcell, was a thing of fire and brilliance. The mood of the "Morning Hymn," by Henschell, and one or two other selections, did not, perhaps, seem as perfectly attuned to Mme. Alda's attainments, which are at their best throughout in the creations of brilliance and lightness. She is a truly pleasing singer, with gladness in her voice and vitality and the bright spark of life in her interpretation. You may prefer the coloring of her softer tones in spots to her full-voiced work of the same character, but her interpretations in both the quietly romantic or the scintillatingly vivid moments are both satisfying.

La Forge fairly breathes with the singer in his accompaniments that were all played from memory last night. Not a contrast, not a shade of meaning in tone or word is missed by his quick intelligence.

His compositions and his pianistic art are like a cool spring night after rain in their refreshing quality.

The two artists are to be heard in concert again Saturday afternoon.

Fingering Finery.

AMONG THE STORES AND ADMIDST THE SHOPS.

Along Our Dazzling Streets, where Dame Fashion's Shopping is Done.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

Now is the time to buy:

Your shoes for the entire summer, as nearly every shoe store and shoe department in town is holding a sale. The styles are well defined, too, so that you cannot go amiss.

The chiffon for the new, dainty blouse. The prices for real quality material, in that sale which inaugurates something of genuine value for you and for me, cannot be resisted.

The gift for Easter, for the friend either near or far, while the novelties in the shops are abundant to choose from.

Practical Suggestion.

When next you have spinach—that most wholesome of spring "greens," try slicing into it before cooking a single onion. The flavor is much improved, as spinach is rather insipid.

• • •

"To Potter."

The expression "to potter" will take on new significance to us, after watching the man at his wheel, making vases and jars, from clay, in that big household basement. It is fascinating to me to watch him deftly mould and shape as the wheel revolves. I cannot resist visiting the place whenever I am in the vicinity.

• • •

New Oldery.

"Patchwork!" The word always brings to mind the dear old grandmamma in her low sewing chair, piecing, piecing the squares which were to serve as covering for the bed, and, best of all, to serve to hold the attention of the child with measles, whooping cough, or some of the "nothing but" diseases of the early years, as she picked out mother's wedding gown, sister's first party dress, and so on. Well, the quilt materials are now in the fancywork departments of the stores, but patchworking has been transformed and modernized. There comes a big envelope containing a pattern for the entire quilt and the goods for making it, and you may, if you are thus rapidly inclined, sewing-machine the whole thing and complete it in an afternoon! But, truly, the quilts, when completed, are beautiful. On the counter, as an example, in one of the high-class art needlework sections, was a "coverlet" of white with yellow patches, and I felt almost like shoplifting the pretty thing.

• • •

Odds 'nd.

Two tables of odds 'nd ends in china, such as decorated bonbons, little legged dishes, quaint pitchers and the thousand and one small bits of china which are certain to prove alluring to the housewife, were seen in that big household basement where sales and demonstrations of all sorts are just now in progress. The articles offered were for the merest fractions of the dollar.

• • •

A Sweeterie.

Odd little baskets with crocheted covers attached bagwise were noticed in that big oriental store where there is always something novel. The Chinese must be very fond of sweets, since they expend so much ingenuity in devising different ways of housing bonbons and other confections.

• • •

Ramonas.

If you have attended and liked "Ramona"—and one is the equivalent of the other—you will be glad to find those Ramona heads right at hand, in the most conspicuous place in that high art needlework section of that store which does not speak of itself as "department," but refers to the various places as "sections," holding its head quite high while saying it.

• • •

Fairly infatuating are those bags made from oriental silk in wondrous shades of yellow and orange, such as we always associate with the Far East. There is in the pattern, too, a bamboolsh hint, in the shadowy background, which still further arouses the imagination and places the articles and the material of which they are made among the "must haves."

• • •

Your Photographs.

They may be made into the shade for a souvenir lamp! Thus, when resting by your own fireside on a long evening, you may con over in the lamplight the scenes which you have visited during the previous summer. "What fun it was, the day we picnicked there!" "Do you recall that lovely canyon, how the sunlight fell through dancing leaves, and how we girls took off our shoes and waded in the creek while the boys were away in search of specimens of rock?" You may turn and turn the lamp shade and it will be like turning the wheels of time backward to the scenes which were most happy. I think it a clever idea to preserve thus usefully those photographed recollections.

• • •

Made Papery.

Have you paid a visit to that place—in the store with the citified French name—where they are this week showing the possibilities of paper making? If not, you will not have learned to properly respect paper and its possibilities. Not only may you look, but you may actually learn how to make the wonderful and beautiful articles while there.

• • •

A Wee 'Fume.

Samples of a new oriental perfumery come in the smallest bottles I have ever beheld. While one may not desire to have the whiff of that delightful fragrance of such lilliputian proportions, so small a bottle is a novel possession. Then, too, the wee droppie of essence which even so small a bottle contains will delight the nostrils for long. Oh, yes, they are a giveaway.

• • •

Newly Cosied.

That delightful bookery, where the book lady holds forth, and where you may always learn the very latest thing in readables, has been newly cosied by a shifting around of cases and rearrangement of furnishings. It is more than ever inviting, and I defy you, if you are a booklover, to get past it without at least a small loiter to brouse and chat and—mayhap—to buy.

SAN DIEGO RACE IS NOW ASSURED.

SAN DIEGO, March 14.—It was definitely announced last night that there would be a fifty-mile boulevard automobile race held in the Panama-California Exposition grounds March 25. The event will be limited to five drivers by order of the representative of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, who inspected and approved the course last week. The exposition officials applied for the sanction classed as invitational and the drivers to be invited to compete in the event will probably be Earl Cooper, Bob Burman, Barney Oldfield, Cliff Durant and Teddy Tetzlaff.

Very Peculiar.

GREEK STARTS ROUGH WORK.

Santell-Demetral Match Ends Unsatisfactorily.

Three Cops Required to Loosen Strangle Hold.

Actions Come as a Distinct Surprise to Fans.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 14.—The wrestling match between Ad Santell and William Demetral, the Greek champion, ended in a very unsatisfactory fashion at Dreamland rink tonight.

The fault was with Demetral. After three-quarters of an hour's close and interesting competition on the mat he resorted to rough work. He was warned frequently, but persisted and managed to get the strangle hold, which was barred, on Santell, after one hour, five minutes and seven seconds. Referee Jess Westergaard was unable to make the Greek loosen his hold on his opponent and it required three policemen to step into the ring to separate Demetral.

QUITE RIGHT.

Then Westergaard gave a decision disqualifying the Greek. There was some work to quiet the Greek, but after ten minutes of rest Referee Westergaard told him he would permit the second fall to go on if Demetral would consent to wrestle clean. The Greek promised, but after five minutes on the mat it could be seen that Demetral was resorting to his old tactics and was trying to injure Santell. The referee promptly called a halt and announced it as a "no contest."

Why a "no contest" decision was rendered Referee Westergaard would not explain. The large crowd that was present expected he would follow up his previous decision and disqualify the Greek. Demetral was plainly the offender and should have been declared the loser.

STARTS OUT RIGHT.

The match in the early stages was a good exhibition. Demetral proved a fast and shifty performer and gave Santell a tussle all the way. If anything, Santell had a shade the first half hour, but the Greek was breaking holds with cleverness and was holding his own. Then Santell started to gain the upper hand. He went on the aggressive, and it doubtless influenced Demetral in getting rough.

The outcome of the match will likely have the effect of causing the promoters to exercise care in seeing that such wrestlers as Demetral will not bring discredit on the game that has been revived in San Francisco. The Greek, however, has had a pretty good record, and his actions came as a distinct surprise.

ENGLAND WANTS THE CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 14.—England is now in the market for the world's championship battle for the bantamweight title. Ertle or Kid Williams would represent the United States against Johnny Wilde of England. According to the conditions of the deal the boys must weigh in at the ringside at 116 pounds. This practically lets Williams out of the running, as he would be unable to make the weight. Ertle will accept the offer, according to present indications.

WILLARD WORKS WITHOUT CROWD.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The fact that only about fifty persons watched Jess Willard training yesterday and today at his indoor quarters, instead of the hundreds who paid admission to see him all through last week, did not detract from his earnestness in his work. He now weighs little over 250 pounds stripped, it is said, and expects to take off at least eight pounds more in the next ten days.

After his early morning run in and around Central Park, Willard rested until the early afternoon. His first indoor work today was with the pulleys. Then he boxed two rounds each with Hemple, Monahan and Rodel, the Boer. Instead of boxing an extra round with Rodel, as on yesterday, he took on the big Turkish wrestler Hussane and pulled him around for about four minutes. A brief session with the medicine ball wound up the day's activities.

Moran took it easy today after his early road run and light exercise. He said he felt fine, but thought he would rest up. Tomorrow he intends to do a full day's training and then take another lay off until Friday, with only a perfunctory jog on Thursday to fill in. Moran assures everyone who asks him about his condition, that he never felt better in his life.

Velma Leffler,
Whose photo will guide motor tourists to San Diego fair.

ALL THE DOPE ON THE COAST ROAD.

Accurate and authentic details regarding the condition of the coast route to San Diego were brought to Los Angeles yesterday by a scout car which left San Diego yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, arriving in Los Angeles at 1:15, after having stopped for an hour at points along the road to examine the new bridges and secure pictures of the new highway construction.

Keeping faith with the motorists of California and the Automobile Club, the State Highway Commission has rushed work on new bridges and temporary detours to such good effect that by Friday morning the famous coast route will be almost as good as new.

One of the most important features of the construction activities is the elimination of any necessity to ferry across the rivers. The day of the highway "Charons" is gone, and motorists going to San Diego over the week-end will use bridges instead of the old mud scows.

There is but one detour of any consequence, according to the Auto Club representative who made the tour yesterday, and that is at Del Mar, where automobiles must travel inland over a dirt road for a distance of about a mile and a half on account of the bridge being washed out along the shore. It was here that the ferry was necessary, but the completion of the new bridge yesterday improves that state of affairs.

While the detour was somewhat soft, the Auto Club scouts report that it was being scraped and widened so that there should be no trouble.

Maintaining an average touring speed there should be nothing to keep autoists from making the 138 miles to San Diego in five or five and one-half hours, it is stated.

Team Work.

RIVERSIDE POLO CRACKS ARE GOOD.

WALLOP MIDWICK AGGREGATION IN FAST BATTLE.

Splendid Generalship of Hugh Drury is Responsible for Victory. Carty Burke Shows up for First Time Since Busting His Collar Bone.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, March 14.—Riverside beat the Midwick four this afternoon at Coronado by a score of 7½ to 4½. As in Saturday's game, when Riverside beat Denver in the first game of the Pacific Coast junior championship contest, it was the team work of the Riverside men, under the splendid generalship of Hugh Drury that won the victory. Hillyard Lett, playing at back on Riverside, ably assisted Drury, the captain, who it goes without saying, played a brilliant game. Lett's marked improvement in the past year is remarked on by all who have watched his play.

Today was the first appearance of "Carty" Burke in a game since he had his collar bone broken some weeks ago in a bad fall. He played fearlessly and many times kept the Riverside men from scoring with his clever back strokes.

Today's game leaves the finals of the junior championship to be played Thursday by Riverside and the Coronado Country Club. The score stands: Riverside, 11; Denver, 3½; Coronado Country Club, 8½; Coronado Tigers, 1; Riverside, 7½; Midwick, 4½.

The line-up was:

Riverside—Harry Pattee, Frank Hudson, Hugh Drury and Hillyard Lett.

Midwick—Robert Neustadt, Reggie Weiss, Harry Weiss and Carleton Burke.

The score:

Midwick—Goals, Neustadt, 3; R. Weiss, 1; Harry Weiss, 1. Total goals, 5. Penalties—Harry Weiss, foul. Net score, 4½.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, thinks that his match with Fred Fulton Friday night will be a cinch. When told that Fulton was expecting a bout with Jess Willard in the near future Flynn appeared greatly amused. Flynn's victory over Jack Dillon has given him considerable confidence and he expects little trouble in walloping the hopeful Fulton.

PAN-HELLENIC GAMES HAVE BEEN CANCELLED

ATHENS, March 13 (via Paris, March 14, 10:40 a.m.)—The Pan-Hellenic Olympian games have been canceled owing to the mobilization of the Greek army.

At Elsinore.

POPULATION IS STILL GOING UP.

Groeling and Jackson Put in an Appearance at Camp.

Ralph Woods Shows Considerable Class and Speed.

Frank Chance Still Feels on the Bum.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ELSINORE, March 14.—The population of this muscular city continues to increase at the rate of from three to four ballplayers per day. If the spring training season lasted all year Elsinore would be filled to the mud guards with inhabitants. Even with the influx of the past three days it is said to be the second city in Riverside county, both in population and wealth. Other communities may dispute this, but we are going to boost while residing and eating here.

VERY EXCITING.

The noon hour was enlivened by the arrival of Messrs. Frank Groeling and Joe Jackson, Jr. They came directly from Los Angeles and indirectly from Middle West points.

Mr. Groeling comes to dispute the supremacy of third base with Messrs. Butler and Rapp, while Mr. Jackson believes that he can make himself useful in the Angel outfield either as a regular or as assistant to one of the regulars.

Still another would have arrived from Los Angeles at noon but for the fact that Polly McLarry neglected to get on the proper train. He seemed to think according to current report that all lines out of Los Angeles, both steam and electric, run directly to Elsinore. That explains how he happened to get on an Eagle Rock car, which in turn accounts for his not arriving at noon. This mistake compelled him to wait for the next train, and he is said to have passed a profitable and enjoyable forenoon inspecting the leading undertaking establishments in Los Angeles. He probably picked up some valuable pointers on embalming, cremating and other tricks of the trade, for the Los Angeles undertakers are right up to date and always are to be found in the vanguard of progress.

UNEXPECTED.

With Joe Jackson, Jr., and Groeling as the only noon arrivals, it was not believed that there would be any more arrivals until evening, because no other train makes this port until sundown. However, the city continued to grow just the same, Johnny Kane springing a surprise in that he arrived from Murrietta in an automobile. He considers Murrietta all right in the matter of water, grub and atmosphere, but, being the only ballplayer in the place, he decided to come here and mingle with the giddy throng. He was welcomed by all concerned. Mr. Kane is the picture of health, and shows plainly the benefits to be derived from nourishing food.

WORKS WORKS.

The bunch had a chance to get acquainted today with Ralph Works, former member of the Detroit Tigers. Works is believed to have recovered from the injury to his knee joint, which forced him temporarily to retire from the game. He showed a lot of speed in his first workout, and this gave rise to the report that he was "cutting loose." He denied this. In fact, he is too wise and experienced to ruin his arm on the first day. Since he threw the ball so fast when not "cutting loose," it is to be deduced that he will show even more speed when he does actually bring his arm to bear on the batters. Works, in addition to being an insurance agent and a baseball pitcher, is a lawyer. He had his shingle out in Detroit last winter. He took this down and brought it to the Coast with him, as he does not expect to return East.

GOOD FOR HIM.

"I have been hearing great things about California all of my life, and, believe me, I had some picture conjured up in my mind," said he. "But, even so, it is even better than I expected, and I hope never to see the East again."

Because of that speech it is understood that the Elsinore Commercial Club will make him an honorary member of that body.

Schoor, another latecomer, also got out and unlimbered his arm to a certain extent. If Mr. Schoor had whiskers, he would look like Alfred Tennyson, the late poet. In place of a beard he has a crossfire that will really bother the batters more than whiskers would.

Frank Chance passed a miserable day. When he arose feeling better this morning it was confidently believed that the crisis had been passed, but as the day wore on the temperature of his neck increased and he took to his Peerless bed. Dr. Finley still insists that the operation on Frank's neck was successful. Chance would like to agree with him, but seems unable to do so. This is the first time since the P. L. has been down here that he failed to don a uniform and direct the practice in person. Yesterday he acted merely as a spectator.

SAME OLD STUFF.

The boys went through their regular stunts, batting and fielding and climbing over the hills. This sure is the life. Tomorrow will be witnessed the first game of the training season. Having enough men here for two teams, Chance will have the athletes play among themselves tomorrow. It is not likely that they will go more than five innings. In no sense will it be a grudge fight. Saturday the Angels will meet the Elsinore Mud Turtles on the field of honor and the following day will engage in mortal combat with the Chocolate Shop team of Los Angeles. Tonight the athletes

MIDWICK GOLF TOURNEY STARTS THIS MORNING.

Elaborate Preparations Being Made to Care for Numerous Entries — Annandale First-round Matches are Completed. Women's Championship Matches to be Staged at Midwick—Redlands Team is Severely Walloped.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

THE Midwick Country Club's invitation golf tournament begins this morning with an eighteen-hole qualifying round which may be played either morning or afternoon.

Elaborate preparations have been made to take care of an unprecedented number of entries, which include players from all over the State.

AT ANNANDALE.

First-round matches have been completed in the president's cup competition at the Annandale Country Club. Here are the survivors: H. B. Ingalls from George Baer, 3 and 2; E. J. Bowes, Jr., from O. T. Barrett, 2 and 1; Don Dawson from Victor Kleinberger, 6 and 5; F. E. Day from C. S. Byington, 1 up; H. Jevne from L. W. Blankenhorn, 3 and 1; W. V. Brem from F. H. Gilcrest, 3 and 1; A. C. Volk from S. S. Wold, 3 and 2; Henry Newby from F. D. Tatum, 5 and 4.

The first-round matches for the J. B. Bryan cup are also completed. Messrs. Wright, McLaughlin, Graves and Jewett all defaulted their respective matches with Byington, Smith, Campbell and Nemeyer; Ben Leslie won from George Baer, 2 and 1; Kleinberger from Hines, 1 up; Brem from Tatum, 3 and 1; Braly from Wold, 3 and 1; Dawson from Volk, 2 and 1; Cameron from Gibson, 1 up; Carter from West Hughes, 4 and 3; Warner from F. E. Day, 1 up in twenty holes.

WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

Mrs. Dudley Fulton has charge of the women's Southern California championship meeting, which begins at Midwick Country Club next Tuesday morning. Mrs. Luther Kennett has entered from Coronado and her sister from the East, Miss Mildred Smith, who is reputed to be as fine a golfer as Mrs. Kennett, has also been invited to participate by special invitation of the president of the association.

Mrs. R. G. Field has also entered, and Mrs. Severance and Miss Katherine Williams of Redlands, several Riverside players and the majority of our local players will all support the tournament. There will be numerous ex-champions to covet Mrs. Henry Van Dyke's title — Mrs. E. R. Williams, Mrs. Luther Kennett, Mrs. J. V. Eliot and Mrs. Robert Pitcairn, three of whom have held it twice previously.

Mrs. Guy Cochrane has been playing so good a game of late—she won the Annandale invitation tournament two weeks ago—that she is regarded as a serious contestant for the title this year. And Mrs. Dudley Fulton, the runner-up in that event, who previously defeated Mrs. Henry Van Dyke, also has many backers.

MIDWICK-REDLANDS.

The Redlands team arrived yesterday and played Midwick in the afternoon. Midwick won on both counts, a stylish team awaiting the visitors. H. B. Lamb played and defeated Morris Phillips, 4 and 3 and 3 and 2; Hugo Johnstone played Raymond Hornby, and J. V. Eliot played Stauffen, each winning their matches on both counts; Alexander Macdonald played Burrage and Conde Jones played Gregory Palmer.

COAST TEAMS IN BIG BASKETBALL TOURNEY.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Opening games in the tournament for the National A.A.U. basketball championship begin tomorrow in the Illinois Athletic Club gymnasium. Thirteen fives are entered, including the Olympic Athletic Club of San Francisco, which won the championship last year.

In the opening matches the Columbian A. C. of St. Louis meets the Central Independents of Chicago, the Brandeis five of Omaha plays the Englewood Christians, Chicago; the Osage (Iowa) team meets the L.A.C. five; the Oakland Y.M.C.A. quintette takes on the First Regiment, and Ripon College plays the Grand Junction (Iowa) A. C.

JUNIOR COLLEGE WILL HAVE BASEBALL NINE.

Following a successful football season the Los Angeles Junior College has decided to go in for baseball this season. Upon looking over the roster of the Hilltop Highbrows much good material was discovered, and it seems that the college boys will have no slouch of a team.

Peet, a football star, has had experience behind the bat and will start the season as catcher. Vandercook, an old L. A. High heaver, is slated for the mound, and there is Varnum, a man from Michigan College, to cover shortstop. The other positions will be filled in by Kittle, Pitney, Magoery, Mohler, Lafferty, Harris, Smith and Knox.

Nebraska Grappler Won't Meet Demetral and Club Won't Agree to Another

STECHER WON'T WRESTLE HERE.

Impossible to Pick Out Really Good Opponent.

Big Nebraskan Works Out at the Club.

Spectators Think Gotch Can Beat Him.

BY HOWARD ANGUS.

Joe Stecher is not to wrestle in this city after all. His manager refused to let him meet Bill Demetral here. Both sides had good reasons for disagreeing. Joe Hetmanek, the manager, informed the club that Butte had offered Stecher $6000 for a match with the Greek. Of course, George Towle could not make any such bid for the match.

A SUGGESTION.

Hetmanek said that he would be perfectly willing to have Stecher wrestle two or three gentlemen of local talent.

"What are you giving us?" asked George Towle. "This city wants to see Stecher wrestle somebody of importance. It wants to see what kind of a showing he would make against the Greek whom Gotch threw. This idea of throwing two or three men of no importance goes clean over my head."

"Then," said Hetmanek, "I guess we can't get together. I'm sorry, but it cannot be Demetral."

ALL SAID.

There was nothing else to be said, so everybody shook hands, said he was sorry, and the little meeting broke up. With the match off his hands, Stecher will spend a week motoring in Southern California. Unless the machine broke down yesterday, he is in Redlands today.

The Nebraska wonder boy worked out at the club yesterday with his brother Tony. In his street clothes Stecher looks like a college man, but when he strips he's a great, big, powerful horse. His muscles do not bulge. He doesn't look like the statues of Hercules or the bill posters of Sandow. He does give one an idea of bigness.

POWERFUL.

The first thing he did was jog around the indoor track. As he pounded along slowly with those powerful legs of his, one expected to feel the building shake. Later he worked on the pulleys. This revealed the fact his muscles are the long, sinewy kind and not the lumpy ones.

This was followed by a workout on the mat with his brother. It was just such a workout as the advance notices predicted. Every move revolved around the scissor hold. Joe was either trying to get it or had it, while Tony was grunting under it or squirming away.

There were two very notable occurrences in this little workout that may throw some light on the coming Gotch-Stecher match. The first of these two instances showed the remarkable strength of the man. Joe was sitting on the mat when his brother put a full Nelson on him. The Nebraska wonder boy broke the hold by simply getting up and letting his brother dangle until his arms got tired and slipped off the broad neck. Usually a full Nelson twists the best of them on their backs. One naturally blinks his eyes and takes notice when a man gets up lazily and yawns while another has that hold on him.

The other instance was the scissors-the toe hold. The latter won. Joe had his famous scissor hold on Tony. The small brother rolled over on his side, grabbed one of Joe's toes and gave a regular Gotch yank. The big legs almost flew apart. The famous scissor hold was broken. Everybody wondered what Gotch would do to Stecher's toe.

WHY NOT?

If little Tony Stecher can break the famous hold by grabbing the toe, what will Frank Gotch do to it? Of course, Stecher did not have his legs pulling together in that tortuous, crushing grip. Tony was his brother and no ribs were to be broken.

Everybody who watched the workout spent the time comparing the Nebraska boy with Frank Gotch. That was to be expected in these days when cities are bidding $50,000 for the match. The opinion of all the clubmen who looked on was that Gotch would win. They were probably strongly prejudiced in favor of the champion. Gotch has been one of them for a matter of six weeks. Stecher was the stranger.

OPPOSITES.

Stecher and Gotch are opposites. The Nebraska boy went through his workout in silence yesterday, never speaking the whole time he was on the mat, not even to his brother. His face was not lit even once by a smile. Gotch is all life. Every move is registered in his face. He is always kidding his opponents along. Stecher goes at wrestling like a man does who has a load of hay to stack, very methodically and without much enthusiasm. Gotch wrestles with the same spirit that one goes on a picnic. He is kidding all the time.

Stecher works for a hold very definitely. He keeps tugging away until he gets it. Gotch pretends to get one hold and has his opponent roll blindly into the one he really wants. The champion is always scheming and trying to fool his man. Not so Stecher. He never fools. Stecher is the boy who, never was young. Gotch is the old man who never grew up.

When it comes to speed, Gotch seems to have it on Stecher. The latter didn't look particularly fast at any time yesterday. Gotch is like a bear on the mat, slapping and rolling his opponent around, all animation, as restless and as active and as mischievous as a kid. Stecher says that he works with his man and goes just as fast as he has to and no faster. Against a speedier and larger man than his brother, Stecher might have gone like the wind. His actions were listless yesterday.

As Stecher sprawled around on all fours with his brother behind him, the crowd smiled, "Wait until Gotch sits down on his leg." When Stecher began his scissor hold always by putting his arms around his brother's waist, the crowd whistled, "Whee, how Gotch will snap that hold apart with his elbows."

The crowd was doubtless prejudiced and Stecher was appearing to a disadvantage. The crowd forgot that it had never seen Gotch working with a man as big and as powerful as Stecher. Most anybody can roll a little puppy dog all over a mat, but an elephant is a different proposition. The boy from Nebraska is a human elephant stripped.

The world's greatest collection

Of tennis trophies. These cups were won by Maurice McLoughlin and Tom Bundy and come from all parts of the world. On these cups is inscribed the tennis history of the United States, for most of them represent three wins and are covered with celebrated names. Above, Bundy and McLoughlin are holding their national doubles trophies. The bowls on the top row all belong to McLoughlin except the center one, which marks the height of Tom Bundy's tennis career. That represents his victory in the national tournament in 1910. The others are the Pacific States, New York State, the 1911 national, the second prize last year, the famous Longwood Challenge Bowl and the 1913 national championships. The most famous cups in the second row are the first and last. The first cup was won by Bundy at Coronado and represents three victories over McLoughlin. The last is the national championship trophy, won by McLoughlin in 1912. On the third row the silver Casino racquet represents two wins of the national title by McLoughlin. The small cups are the Davis Cups. The one upheld by the winged figure is the All-Comers trophy, won by McLoughlin in England in 1913.

Star Attraction.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO STAGE FAST BOUTS.

YOUNG HODGINS BROTHERS WILL TANGLE THINGS UP.

Outdoor Field will Accommodate Men and will Probably be Filled. Fancy Device Used by Official Timer—Speedy List of Boxers is Already Signed Up.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, March 14.—Another star attraction has been added to the group that will stage an open meet tomorrow under the management of the Torrance Athletic Association at Torrance. The three Hodgins brothers, phenomenal little boxers for their age, will box three rounds. The boys are aged 7, 9 and 11, and the two oldest usually box, while the youngest referees. They have all been in training since they were old enough to walk.

Among some of the other well-known boxers who will be in the ringside for the sport fans will be Frank Riley, Steve Caponi, Sam Cox, Rube Jeffries, Dick Cox, Frank Bassett, Ed Morford, Kid Sandy, Lawrence Kelly and Frank Lopes. These men represent almost every class from the featherweight to the heavyweight.

The outdoor field will accommodate 800 men, and from present indications, every seat will be filled. Roger Corneil will referee, and the judges will be William Deckman of Redondo Beach and H. H. Dolly, president of the Torrance Athletic Association. The timer will be S. Sandwood of Torrance, who has a patent timer he uses connected to his ears, allowing him to witness the bouts, and keeping accurate time.

HOBO LEAGUE IS LATEST SENSATION.

Nine well-known ball players who are unfortunate enough to be out of a job at the present writing gathered at Washington Park yesterday morning. They formed a unique society which is to be called the Hobo League. Al Buemiller, Dick Bayless, Roy Brashear, Speed McDonnell, Lou Litschi, Harry Hughes and Dave Hillyard are the stars of the newly-formed aggregation.

The Long Island Athletic League, recently organized, is made up of sixteen clubs, mostly located in Brooklyn.

Interesting, Anyway.

CALIFORNIA-U.S.C. TRACK MEET APPEARS LOPSIDED.

Bears Expected to Walk Away from Southern Athletes. Stellar Attraction will be Hurdle Race — Thomson and Preble will Tangle in this Event and the Outcome is Decidedly Uncertain—Crippen may Win Mile.

NOBODY is going to pay much attention to the outcome of the California-U.S.C. meet, for, unless the Bears all fall down and skin their noses, it will be a victory for them. Everybody, however, is going to sit up and get excited over the races. There is going to be a stiff brush of some kind in most of them.

STAR ATTRACTION.

The stellar attraction, of course, is to be the high-hurdle race, when Kid Thomson, the long drink of water from Long Beach, comes into direct conflict with Capt. Preble of California.

Thomson covered himself with glory by defeating the famous Fred Kelly the other day in world's-record time. Preble never did make a world's record, but he always plugs along at about 15⅘s. That means that Thomson will have to be just right to beat him. Last year Kelly tried to run with a stomachache against Preble and the king-pin hurdler lost.

SPEEDY SPRINTS.

Another interesting part of the programme is to be the sprints. Capt. Bradley goes up against Claudius and Nelson. Bradley is in the sprints what Preble is in the hurdles—a consistent runner whom only the fastest beat. Claudius and Nelson have been running in 10⅕s. up north. They will probably have to go in 10s. flat if they want to do anything down here, for Bradley runs in that time rain or shine.

The Trojans are backing Crippen to win the mile. He has to meet Davis of California. The latter has run about ten seconds faster than Crippen has this season. The Trojan, however, has never been pressed. He has always finished without trying. One thing is certain: Crippen is going to stick with Davis to the end. He's that kind.

SOMETHING AWFUL.

The high jump will probably be a terrible tangle. U.S.C. has about seven men who clear 5ft. 10in. California has about the same number who are guaranteed to clear the same height. Thomson, Creighton, Bidwell or Tracy of U.S.C. may win. Again, they may not even place. The same can be said of Maker, Nichols, Bradway, Wolongiewicz and Jackson of California.

There are, however, several events in which there will be no contest. California has a couple of hammer throwers who toss the big weight over 150 feet. The Trojans have Whittemore, who is some tosser, but he does not figure against these two northern birds. For that reason, the hammer throw will be held away off to one side of the field almost out of sight.

BROAD JUMP.

In the broad jump Maker and Bradway also figure to step away with things.

George is a strong, little half-miler, but it is his luck to have to run against Searby and Veddar. The half-mile is a kind of a thorn in Dean Cromwell's side, any way. He has Beebe and Tipton hanging around with nothing to do and he cannot use them. Tipton is a four-year man; Beebe a transfer.

The Trojans are inclined to take an optimistic view of the meet. There

POMONA SQUAD LICKS CHAFFEE.

Avalanche Begins During Third Inning.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLAREMONT, March 14.—Pomona won another baseball game this afternoon when the varsity took the Chaffee Union High School into camp by a score of 11 to 3. The game was featured by hard hitting on the part of the Huns, who pounded the ball for eleven base hits, many of them for extra bases. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning. For two innings, Pitcher Studebaker of Chaffee held the Huns hitless and runless, fanning three out of the first six men to face him. In the third inning, however, the avalanche began. The Huns bunched three hits and two sacrifice flies, together with three errors on the part of the prep school fielders for four runs, and the inning ended only when one of the varsity men tried to steal home while the catcher held the ball in his hand.

RIGHT BACK AGAIN.

The Sage Hens came right back for more in the fourth inning. Pitcher Boone was touched up for six hits in a row, three of them of the extra-base variety, and six Huns crossed the plate before the third out was made. Pomona scored her last run in the fifth inning on a single and a three-bagger.

"Rowdy" Elliott started the game for the Huns, and fanned the first four men to face him. He twirled three innings of shut-out ball, allowing but one scratch hit while he occupied the box. Bell went in the box in the fourth inning, and three runs were scored off his delivery on two clean hits, a walk and some loose fielding by the Huns defense. After once getting started, however, Bell pitched nice ball.

REVENGE.

Tomorrow afternoon the Huns will meet Whittier High School in a return game on Alumni Field. This team managed to slip a victory over on the Huns early in the season before the varsity was fairly started, and the Huns are anxious to get back at them in tomorrow's game.

Shellenberger, the star twirler of the Sage Hen team will occupy the box. Tomorrow is the last game Coach Boles will be with the team this season, for he is compelled to join the Angels for spring training Thursday, and it will be the last time the varsity will have a chance to work under the leadership of their coach during the present season. The Huns seem to have hit their stride finally and from now on expect to win every ball game they play. Summary of today's game:

MOTOR RESERVE FEED IS OFF.

The military banquet scheduled to take place at the Bristol Cafe tonight has been postponed on account of the inability of the officers of the regular army, who were to have been guests of honor, to be present. The banquet was to have been the greatest military dinner ever staged in this part of the State, but the conditions on the Mexican border have made it impossible for the officers of the regular army to attend, and Capt. McKinney of the Los Angeles squadron, Automobile Reserve Corps, announced last night that out of respect to the officers the dinner would be postponed and the date announced later.

CALIFORNIA GOLF TRAIN WILL RUN OR KNOW WHY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 14.—Acting only after a thorough canvass of the situation, California's Golf Association today declined to withdraw its offer of a special train made at the last meeting of the Western Golf Association at Chicago and designed for the comfort of Middle Western contestants who expect to compete at Del Monte in July at the western championship. Very recently the directors of the Western Association, by means of a mail vote, asked the California body to withdraw its offer of a special train and it was in answer to this request that today's action was taken.

WILL STILL RUN.

Jack Neville, secretary of the California body, today dispatched a telegram to E. H. Bankard, secretary of the western association, stating that California would be unable to withdraw its special train offer, in view of the fact that such a large majority of the delegates at the recent meeting of the western association expressed their desire to accept it. History recalls the fact that 101 delegates, representatives of 30,000 Middle Western and southern golfers, voted to accept the offer at the January meeting and feeling that this was sufficient evidence of their intentions the California body bases its present contention upon these facts. In today's dispatch, it was stated to Bankard that it was hoped some new method of solving the present situation would be found and the suggestion made that the delegates of the western association be asked to take a new vote on the matter.

REASONABLE.

It was determined that the association would be willing to stand by any expressions of sentiment that might arise from such a vote or listen to any new proposals that the western association might desire to make.

All of which is taken to mean that California will stick to her guns. The general sentiment of golfers is that the western directors committed a breach of etiquette in requesting Del Monte to withdraw its offer of a special train. The offer was made in all fairness and the least that might have been done was to decline the invitation.

In the meantime no thought of abandoning the championship has been thought of. Plans are proceeding for the entertainment of a big assemblage at Del Monte and the course is receiving attention in the matter of expert weeding, redressing and rebunkering. It is expected that several of the holes will be lengthened, new grass tees placed and putting greens rolled, according to the best standards of the country.

The full text of the telegram sent to E. H. Bankard today by the California association follows:

E. H. Bankard, Jr., secretary Western Golf Association, Chicago. Answering your note of February 28, the California Golf Association regrets that it cannot withdraw its offer of a special train to bring the contestants to the western golf championship from Chicago to Del Monte and return in view of the fact that such a large majority of delegates at the last annual meeting of the Western Golf Association expressed their desire to accept the offer. We hope that some satisfactory method will be found to solve the present situation and would suggest, if we may do so, that a new vote of the clubs belonging to your association be taken in order to be certain whether those clubs have changed their opinion. We will be guided by their expression or will be pleased to consider any new proposal your directors might care to make.

JACK NEVILLE,
Secretary California Golf Association.

SCOTTY FINLEY "SOME SURGEON.

Has Two Chambers of Tortur... at Elsinore.

Chance Regards Him as Quit... Unexcelled.

Discovered Frank's Wandering Vertebrae.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ELSINORE, March 14.—Dr. Alexander Finley, the all-around surgical specialist of the Los Angeles baseball team, is truly making a name for himself here. It is believed that his fame in time will even spread beyond Elsinore.

Mr. Finley maintains two chambers of horror—one in the hotel and the other at the bath-house. These are splendidly equipped with all the implements of torture known to modern surgery and osteopathy. These include everything from knives, forks and probes to tongs, meat axes and wooden mallets. The mallets come in handy in readjusting a crooked spine. He probably has one of the finest collections of cutlery and other weapons in Riverside county. His two osteopathic and surgical plants here are marvels of completeness and convenience. No disease can hope to escape him.

Going beyond the mechanical part of the business of healing, it is found that Dr. Finley also is equally well equipped by nature and training to practice his chosen profession. He has attended some of our best-known schools, and even as a layman always has been a close student of the human anatomy. He can spot an invalid as far as the eye will carry, and can discover an injury which was not known to exist. That is, the injured or deformed person, had no idea that anything was the matter with him until the same is discovered by Dr. Finley.

Nearly every ball player coming into camp finds inside of twenty-four hours after arriving that there are a number of things the matter with him. He lands here believing himself sound in all departments, only to discover that he is sadly out of gear. In one his spine isn't all jammed out of shape he has a couple of hot boxes in his shoulder or his nervous system is all tangled up and must be unsnarled.

A man may look all right on the surface, but after Dr. Finley has viewed him from all angles, thumped him and stepped on him, the doctor climbs off the victim and announces a long list of things that are the matter with him. Seldom does he fail to compile a large and select menu of ailments during these scientific investigations. His particular specialty, however, is locating misplaced vertebrae. It seems that nearly every ball player goes along for several years accumulating a rare assortment of misplaced vertebrae without knowing it until he makes the acquaintance of Dr. Finley. Nearly everybody's spine, he would judge from observations made here, is either uncoupled in two or three places or is full of kinks.

Frank Chance, as stated in our last dispatch, had been suffering from a dislocated backbone without knowing it. He opined that he simply had the grip. He went to bed rather discouraged about his spine last night, but got up today feeling better, and the world looks brighter to him today. For a time yesterday it was feared that he might never bat .300 again. The doctor is not absolutely certain that he has succeeded in connecting the loose link in the back of the boss' neck, and continued on the job today. It looks like a long, hard battle, but the P. L. is standing well under severe punishment and may yet get a decision of the doctor.

Dr. Finley performed an unusual operation on Spike Larson's left foot today. Chasing around over the hills near Lakeview, Larson had carelessly carved a hole in the knuckle of his middle toe. He felt the pain, but did not realize that there was a hole in his shoe until he removed his young but promising sock. This revealed the injury. Dr. Finley obliterated the hole by filling it with something that appeared to be putty. Then he painted the surface of the toe with iodine. Presumably to keep the rain out. It rained yet, but may one of these days or nights. In the latter case the iodine would come in handy when Spike happened to be sleeping with his bare foot out of the window. To keep the toe from catching cold, Dr. Finley carefully upholstered it with cotton and bandages. It will be necessary to keep the toe in captivity for several days.

Clarence thinks that Finley is the best trainer now running at large. "I never saw anything quite as good as Finley in the big show," said Clarence, feeling of his neck. "A lot

It will be hard to keep the toe in captivity several days.

It looks like that Finley is the only man now running at large, who knows anything quite as good as he does the big show," said Finley of his neck. "A lot of these major league trainers could go to school to him and learn a lot of things that they never expected to know. When he gets ready to sign up with the big leaguers he won't have any trouble landing a job."

* * *

It is intimated strongly that an attempt will be made to place Larson, Arkenburg and Schallenback with a club in some smaller league between now and Sunday. Failing in that, it is probable that Chance will be compelled to let them go, as he is all loaded down with more experienced men. He also would like to place Oscar with some team elsewhere, but wants to keep a string attached to him. He believes that a year in the Texas League would enable Oscar to gain the necessary control, and with that it is believed that he would develop into a wonder.

* * *

It seems that Powers and Chance are never going to let up buying pitchers. Hardly had the news cooled that Zabel and Hogg has been purchased than Chance publicly stated that he believed Tinker would send him Pierce. Pierce is a wise and experienced pitcher, with much major league knowledge. Never has a minor league club experienced such an influx of major leaguers as is coming to the Angels this spring.

* * *

Because of these favors received from the Cubs, Tinker gets an option on the Angels—meaning the right to buy any player whom he desires at the end of the season.

* * *

Ralph Works, former Detroit heaver, who blew in last night, is a tall, clean-cut chap with the marks of a thoroughbred. An injury to his knee forced him into temporary retirement last year, but he believes that he has fully recovered. In fact, he is so confident of this that he paid half of his expenses to the Coast. Works has been in the insurance business all winter, and now he will endeavor to insure himself of getting a job pitching.

* * *

Beef Koerner has taken off ten pounds in two days despite the fact that he eats heartily three or more times per day.

* * *

T. Earl Ellis, who probably was responsible more than anybody else in this entire city for the Angels training here, is in constant attendance at the workouts.

* * *

Catcher Wallace, turned over to the Angels by Chicago, yesterday wired Chance from Shreveport, La., that he had arranged to get on with a team in the Southern Association, and would like to remain there because of his family and business. Chance gave his consent, as with Brooks, Boles and Bassler available it is doubtful whether he could have found a place for Wallace. Brooks is in the greatest condition of his career, while Bassler is much stronger than last season. Not a thing wrong with the Los Angeles catching staff as it now stands.

* * *

Johnny Williams shows signs of regaining the form which sent him to Detroit in 1913. His arm movement is much freer than last season, and he seems to be getting the old confidence back.

* * *

Rube Ellis yesterday gave his pocket watch its annual cleaning. It seems that the timepiece has slowed down, and Rube feared that unless he oiled up the pulleys and wiped off the bearings so as to speed it up he might be late to practice some morning. Rube's watch is now supposed to be the speediest watch in Elsinore. It now runs two hours faster than before, and in a couple of months it will be so far ahead that there won't be much danger of it running behind again for several years.

YANNIGANS WIN INITIAL GAME.

Vernon Ball Players Seem to be in Good Shape.

Carl Flick Does Some Nice Stick Work.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA SUSANA, March 14.—The Yannigans everlastingly trimmed the regulars this afternoon by a score of 10 to 5, in seven innings. The pitchers appeared to be in rather good shape and both Jack Quinn and Frank Arellanes had their splitters working to perfection. This was the first training camp game of the season for the Tigers and yet in spite of a hard workout yesterday few of the boys were stiff or sore when they turned out for the game.

A LITTLE BETTER.

The playing field was in slightly better condition than yesterday as a sprinkling wagon and roller were used on it to good advantage all morning. The outfield is still somewhat soft and the fielders had trouble in covering a great deal of ground. This in a measure accounts for some of the hits, and on a good field the two clubs would have battled to a much closer score.

Under the conditions the hitting and fielding were exceptionally good. Carl Flick, the Birmingham outfielder working out with the Vernon team, secured two life-sized blows in three times up, one of them being a double, and his work at second was good. Tomorrow afternoon practically the same teams will battle again. The two teams lined up this afternoon as follows:

Jack Bliss umpired.

Tomorrow morning Patterson will lead his squad over the hills in a short hike, and about 1 o'clock will have them out on the field again. After an hour of throwing and batting practice another game of six or seven innings will be played.

Warren and McCormick will represent the University of Southern California in tennis against the University of California Friday. These two stars are to tackle the northern gents on the local courts and hope to give them a strenuous run for their money. Misses Sherman, Freese and Beveridge will do the honors for the ladies.

COLLEGE MEETS PREP TRACK TEAM TODAY.

The L. A. High track wonders will hold a dual meet with the Los Angeles Junior College this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon also. Today the field events will be held on Housh field, and tomorrow the track events will be run off out on the Y.M.C.A. oval.

Capt. Sampson Siebert of the Junior College has a big list of "dark horses" on his squad. The college has a meet with Fullerton J. C. at Fullerton March 25, and this meet is in the nature of a tryout to select the men who will make the trip.

tripped the light fantastic at Hotel Elsinore, and Thursday night they are to be the guests at a dance to be given at the Hotel Lucerne. However, being overweight and unable to dance, these things do not interest us in the least.

NEARLY HUMAN.

Jack Ryan, the famous fat man, is doing the hardest work of his career, and it is believed that he will look almost human in another week. We predict that he will be practically unbeatable this year.

There was a heavy fog here last night, and as a result the day was somewhat cooler. This fog did not come from the ocean. Rather, it was a home-made fog. Elsinore does not have to send elsewhere for its fogs. They are brewed right here on the lake. They are the equal of any fogs which we have ever seen, even in cities of much greater population.

An important improvement has just been made in the Lakeview Hotel. Sunday night the discovery was made that there is not a bed in the house long enough to fit Jim Galloway. Immediately Martin Longo let the contract for building an extension onto the bed allotted for the exclusive use of Mr. Galloway. The extension was completed last night. Further expenditures, it has been found, will be incurred through the necessity of splicing out another bed for Ed Schoor, who covers even more territory than Galloway.

Mr. Daze, who owns a flock of motor boats, will take a bunch of the boys for a cruise around the lake Friday.

Harl Maggert yesterday indulged in his first mud bath. Harl being new to the business, allowed himself to settle too far into the mud, and accidentally swallowed about four-bits worth of it. He showed himself a thorough sportsman by making this right with the management.

The Proof

DON'T accept claims or opinions. Every man selling an automobile will tell you his car can be run at low cost.

He'll tell you this because he knows and you know that gasoline, oil and tires are costing more and more all the time. He knows and you should know that the operating cost of any automobile during five years' time is worth your careful consideration.

We don't give you any guesswork. We tell you what we know. We state the facts and figures—proved and verified figures. Here they are:

Maxwell World's Non-Stop Record Facts
Miles without a motor stop	22,023
Average miles per day (44 days)	500.6
Miles per gallon of gasoline	21.33
Average miles per tire	9,871

Most Maxwell owners get even better results than these but we are just giving the actual figures set when the Maxwell stock touring car broke the World's Motor Non-Stop Record.

When you get your Maxwell you can be sure it will give you economical service—probably far more economical than these figures indicate. But to be sure that you can get your Maxwell, ORDER NOW.

OAKS LOOK TO BE IN GOOD CONDITION.

BOYES SPRINGS, March 14.—Pat Callahan, the "forkhander" secured on trial from the Spokane club by Oakland, was turned back to Spokane today. Callahan's arm bothered him considerably and Manager Elliott informed him that he could go back to Spokane for repairs.

Charley Pruiett was out in uniform today, and he looked "hog" fat and in need of a lot of conditioning.

Morning and afternoon practice was freely indulged in and the athletes are beginning to show considerable form. So far no one has sprung a "Charley horse" and barring a little arm soreness on the part of Kenworthy and Barbeau, the "Oaks" look to be in good condition.

Oakland has a game scheduled for Sonoma next Saturday. The regular team will be in line against Sonoma. Middleton, Lane and Chabek are still missing. Elliott would like to have Chabek here, as he is counting on the Brooklyn recruit becoming one of his regulars.

BEE SQUAD STILL THREE MEN SHORT.

MODESTO, March 14.—The Bee squad is still three players short. Mullins, a pitcher, on the way here from Dallas; Tom Hughes, another slabster, and Thompson, an infielder, both en route to the camp, are still among the missing, but all are expected to report tomorrow.

"Lefty" Owen, a Modesto southpaw, was signed today by Blankenship. It is understood that Wolverton also offered Owen a proposition. After looking the crooked-arm hurler over Blankenship stated that he believed the lad would deliver the goods.

The Bee manager has also selected a provisional line-up to meet the Modesto Reds on Saturday. The men chosen to meet the Independents on Sunday at Fresno follow: Vann, catcher; Munsell, Fittery, pitchers; Brief, Eldred, Murphy, Orr, infielders; Shinn, Reuther, Nutt, Hall outfielders. The balance of the team will stay at home and play the Modesto Reds on Sunday.

GO-AS-YOU-PLEASE GAIT FOR THE SEALS.

SAN JOSE, March 14.—Twenty-nine players of the Seals put in an appearance for the opening of the training season at Luna Park this afternoon.

There was no set programme, the players taking a go-as-you-please gait, just so long as there was exercise. Particular attention, however, was paid to the pitchers to see that no attempt was made to overdo.

The roster of the club, as the men appeared on the field this afternoon, shows as follows: Pitchers—Steen, Baum, Fanning, Brown, Couch, Perritt, Machold, Harold Chase, Dutch Rock, San Francisco; Joe Corbett, Soldier Freschett and Nino.

Outfielders—Bodie, Schaller, Fitzgerald only.

SACRAMENTO, March 14.—Several days behind most of the rival Pacific Coast League clubs, Portland began its spring training this afternoon at Buffalo Park. It is said that Charley Graham still pays a monthly rental of $300 for the big amphitheater, reminiscent of old Coast League days before this well-meersechaumed burg was kicked bodily out of the circuit.

Only about one-half the Portland squad reported on time. To be exact, thirteen out of the twenty-six or twenty-seven players were here for the initial workout and Manager McCredie's disappointment was plain.

Mack, for the first time realizes now how his rivals have been "slipping it over" on him, to use the slang way of expressing matters.

Lush and Stumpf, veterans, and Smith and Derham, recruits, were the only athletes to greet the Beavers upon their arrival shortly before noon today. Smith is a dusky Indian boy of quiet mien. The complete list out for the initial calisthenics follows:

They Brighten the Flicker Flashes.

Adda Gleason and Capitan.

The former plays Ramona in the film at Clune's Auditorium, and the latter plays himself in the same photo drama. Anna Luther is looking pretty and is amusing her audiences in "The Village Vampire," at the Majestic this week. She also has appeared in person with other Keystone favorites.

ARMSTRONG PLAY TO FOLLOW THE "ARGYLE CASE."

By Grace Kingsley.

Paul Armstrong's "Romance of the Underworld" will be the next play at the Morosco, with Edmund Lowe and Ida St. Leon in the principal roles.

All for Art.

Eddie Lowe will play the part of the lawyer in the Armstrong play. As he studied law for three years at the university, knows that a habeas corpus is no relation to an undertaker, and once tried a dog-fight case in the justice court, he feels that he will be able to bring the right "atmosphere" to the role.

Harry to Warble.

Harry Williams, the famous song writer, author of "I'm Afraid to Go Home in the Dark," and other popular songs, will appear at the Majestic tonight, and sing some of his latest selections. His act goes on at 9:30 o'clock.

Tomorrow night Bessie Barriscale and William Desmond will entertain for ten or twenty minutes in a sketch.

Some Party.

It's simply awful how these theatrical people do cut up. Charlie Pike had a birthday Saturday, and Managers Behymer and Hirsch invited him down to the Bristol to celebrate the event. The head waiter rushed about to find them a good seat near the skaters, took his pad out with a flourish, even began writing, getting as far as the letters "cham—" when Charlie having fingered his brow reflectively, ordered:

"Crackers and milk!"

The waiter fainted. When he came to, Managers Behymer and Hirsch followed suit, and all consumed weak milk and denatured crackers. And the bill for Charlie's supper party was 45 cents (more or less) including the tip.

Love of Gallery God.

A certain galleryite has apparently become enamored of Miss De Mar's charms. He shows up every night, sitting away back, and waves to her until she gives him an answering wave of her lily-white hand.

Hello, Charlie.

Charlie Chaplin arrived in town yesterday afternoon via the Salt Lake. In spite of his $670,000 contract, he wore the same checked suit as when he went away, appeared destitute of diamonds, and ordered no more terrapin at dinner last night than usual.

He begins work at once at the old Kolb & Dill studio, Hollywood, where he will put on two-reel features of the type produced under the direction of the Essanay.

Home-made Songs.

Grace de Mar, at the Orpheum, writes most of her own songs. The street car monologue is her own. She got the idea on board a Bronx car in New York.

"There was the sourest-looking old maid opposite me one day. I chanced to glance up at the advertisement over her head and saw the word 'Pickles!'"

When Miss De Mar was a youngster she and her chum used to go into neighborhoods far distant from where they lived, sing songs and pass the hat, spending the proceeds for candy.

"Imagine what we caught when our mothers found it out!" exclaimed the fair lady.

Her Debut.

Miss De Mar made her first real appearance at Pop Fischer's show on First street six years ago. She went on for fun, one amateur night, and won first prize.

She claims to have an ambition to play in pictures, clasp her che-ild, and tear her hair in real drammer.

Nose Expert.

Billy McDermott, at the Orpheum, says he's an expert nosebuilder. He claims to have worn more different styles of nose than any living actor. He has played in the "legit" and as Fagin in "Oliver Twist," as Svengali in "Trilby" and as half a dozen other characters it has been McDermott's fate to possess a different type of nose. He says he just can't see a queer nose anywhere nowadays without wanting to go home and do it in putty.

Last week, up in San Francisco, he lost his nose in the middle of an act and was so taken aback that even his quick wit failed to think of anything to say to quell the joy of the audience.

Billy's Backfire.

"What's the matter?" retorted McDermott. "Is your husband a barber?"

In Times Gone By.

McDermott worked in moving pictures when the flickering photographs were first being made into plays. He and G. M. Anderson worked for Selig in Chicago. They did everything around the place, from directing and playing heroes and "Little Eva" to drying the films and digging up props.

Opportunity, Girls.

Won't some kind-hearted peach please write Billy a mash note?

"Never saw so many pretty women in my life as there are here and in San Francisco," said McDermott. "Which makes a fellow awfully sore to have to play a part with a make-up like mine, when I could be doing the Lochinvar stuff just as well as anybody. Say, just tell 'em, when they ask, that while I'm not exactly handsome, I'm very clean and neat."

Grace Darling.

Grace Travers saved Burt Wesner's life last Sunday night in "The Argyle Case." After the shooting scene, Wesner fell with his head directly under the descending curtain. Miss Travers noted the fact, and with one swift movement, pushed the actor's head out of the danger zone.

Don't Mind the War.

Hazel Moran, just back from Australia, dropped into the Hip yesterday. She says the war hasn't hurt vaudeville over there in the least, and she expects to return after her engagement here.

Sport Stuff.

Brandon Hurst improved a lay-off of a week from his Orpheum tour by a visit to Coronado. Hurst is a polo enthusiast, and he went down to have a look at the field there and the ponies. He declares that Eleanora Sears is the best sport on horseflesh there now.

Sam a Champ.

Sam Burton, at the Orpheum, used to be the champion bicycle rider in all the big events in the country. When bikes went out, Burton took a decrepit old wheel and went into the two-a-day.

Busy Bernard.

Bernard McConville has written a new play for the Fine Arts kid troupe. Norma Talmadge will be featured as the leading woman, and C. M. and S. A. Franklin will direct.

Some "Sumurun."

Gertrude Hoffman and her company of sixty to appear in "Sumurun" at the Orpheum next week, will arrive Sunday on a special train, which is required to carry the big production and its many sets. The costumes.

DILLON LICKS GUNBOAT SMITH.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis outfought Gunboat Smith in a ten-round bout in Brooklyn tonight. Dillon's punches, however, did not appear to have their usual effectiveness. Dillon weighed 170 1-4 pounds and Smith 180½.

ST. VINCENT'S WINS FROM RAILSPLITTERS.

The St. Vincent's baseball team defeated Lincoln High School at Downey Playground yesterday by the score of 5 to 4. The game was a seven-inning affair, cut short because of darkness.

Lincoln was in the lead until the sixth, when several errors and a couple of hits gave St. Vincent's three runs. The collapse seemed to be general on the part of the Railsplitters and not confined to Pitcher Joerg, who wobbled. Finally Foley sent in Frink and that ended the uprising for that inning.

Lincoln came back and tied the score in the seventh, but Frink fell victim to the same disease that attacked Joerg. Two hits ruined him and lost the ball game for Lincoln. The score:

ALLEN BREAKS HIGH BILLIARD RECORD.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Champion Bennie Allen of Kansas City broke the high run record of the present pocket billiard tournament today with a spurt of fifty-eight. This performance came in the tenth inning of his match with Joe Concannon of Jersey City, and was enough to round out Allen's century. Concannon managed to count forty-two points, but Allen previously had a run of twenty-nine.

Charlie Chaplin, the $10,000-a-week kid, shot on the hurricane deck of the Los Angeles Limited, as he blew into town yesterday. On his right are Leo White and Harry Caulfield, while the party below in the bashful suit is Fred Goodwins.

SPEED WAGONS PRACTICE TODAY

Free-for-all Should be a Decided Feature.

Ascot Course is in First-class Condition.

BY AD G. WADDELL.

Speed is to be resumed on the Ascot speedway this afternoon.

At 2 o'clock the first practice for the Ventura challenge trophy is to start and the course will be at the disposal of the drivers for two hours. There are to be approximately thirty-speed wagons on the circuit today, the greatest number of cars ever seen in action on a race course in Southern California at one time.

THE FEATURE.

The fifty-mile event, which is to be the feature of next Sunday's programme, is limited to five starters, and will call for elimination trials. This race was to have been a three-cornered affair, in which Eddie Pullen, Bob Burman and Earl Cooper, who finished one, two, three in the George Washington sweepstakes, were the only contenders for the Ventura challenge trophy which is now in the possession of Eddie Pullen. There were other challengers and, rather than discriminate against any likely driver, the management threw the race open to all hands.

FREE-FOR-ALL.

Instead of a class "E" invitational event, the fifty-mile race is now billed as a fifty-mile free-for-all under the class "D" non-stock classification. The race is limited to five starters, and there are a great many of the drivers who wish to get in the fast quintette. The fastest car in the official time trials will start as number one and have the pole.

The position at the start will be according to speed shown in time trials in all events with the exception of the ten-mile class "C" race. The drivers in this event are to draw for positions.

LOTS OF 'EM.

In the twenty-five mile free-for-all there are to be fourteen starters unless the field is cut down by the Technical Committee. The five starters in the fifty-mile event are not likely to appear in the twenty-five mile number. They will wish to have their cars primed for the classic and will not take a chance on breaking their cars up in the short dash.

Many of the drivers are to be seen in more than one event, provided they pass the speed tests. Cliff Durant is slated for two numbers. He has a new car, the Chevrolet Special and the Durant Special. The Durant Special is eligible for both the twenty-five and fifty-mile free-for-all events and the Chevrolet Special is entered in the ten-mile class "C" race.

Teddy Tetzlaff is to be seen in the ten-mile limited race and the twenty-five mile free-for-all, at the wheel of the Milac.

NEW DRIVERS.

The decision of the contest board of the A.A.A. to reinstate the drivers who appeared in the Redondo and Tropico races, which were run without sanction of the contest board, has brought in a flock of young drivers on fast light cars and the ten-mile race promises to be the classiest race of its kind ever staged in the West. More than a dozen of these young drivers and their cars have been registered and reinstated by the local representative of the contest board during the past week, and there will be a field larger than was anticipated when the race was announced.

The entries closed at midnight last night and will be made public today after the A.A.A. official and referee, J. S. Conwell, have passed on the eligibility of all contestants. The officials for the race Sunday are to be announced by George R. Bentel, speedway manager today also. There are to be many new faces among the officials on the job Sunday. The Hallowell brothers, who have timed and scored some of the greatest races ever held in the country are to officiate at the Ascot meet, and Councilman J. S. Conwell, the referee is well known in racing circles, having officiated as referee at the last Corona race.

The practice sessions are to continue today, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The official meeting of the drivers called by the A.A.A. representative is to be held immediately after the practice on Saturday.

The first army polo tournament since 1913 will be played at Washington, D. C., from April 18 to 30.

are several events in which there may be a landslide their way, and one or three others where they may ride on what looks like nine points in California.

U.S.C. has one advantage, in that it will have third-place men in every event, whereas in most of these California has only two entries.

Another point upon which the Trojans are banking is the trip north. That always throws the northerners off form and makes the breaks favor the southerners. There has never been a track meet in the north in which the breaks did not go all the way. The northerners always win the doubtful events in the north for the same reason. Condition is an important event in track.

SPRING TOURNEY NEARING CLOSE.

The semi-final round in the Hotel Raymond spring tourney for the Chicago cup will be played today with C. L. Watson meeting J. H. Stevens and W. A. Dawson playing G. E. Verity.

Nine Chicagoans, anxious to see the cup go to the city for which it is named, started valiantly in the tourney. Six dropped in the quarter-round and the other three possibly so there is woe in Chicago.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Although a very large number of tickets have been sold for the Willard-Moran battle, March 25, there are still many first-class seats. The sections reserved for women and their escorts have gone especially fast.

San Francisco wants Hannes Kolmainen to compete in the annual race up Mt. Tamalpais, which is known as the "mountain climb." The distance is four and one-half miles, with the finish at the summit of the mountain. There were sixty-seven contestors in the event last year, the winner being O. CARRANZA MAN ADVISES CALM

Former Representative Call Leader's Attitude Fair.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, March 15.—Richard H. Cole, the unofficial personal representative of Gen. Carranza at Washington at the time the United States formally recognized the Mexican leader, has just returned from the East and from a consultation had with Gen. Carranza at the border. At his home here yesterday Mr. Cole made the following statements concerning the present Mexican situation:

"Elimination of Villa from Mexico will leave Gen. Carranza and the Constitutional government without a single serious internal disturbing element.

"In view of the fact that the United States has extended full recognition to the Carranza government, it is only just and right that we should permit the troops of that government to operate on our side of the border with the same freedom that our troops will operate on the Mexican side, for the common purpose of putting an end to the brigandage of Villa.

"Even as Gen. Carranza is honest, truthful and a patriot to the core, so on the other hand Villa is an ignorant, ruthless, selfish and thoroughly unpatriotic cut-throat. I know from the inducements offered Villa by Gen. Carranza at one time that Villa has disregarded every interest of his fellow countrymen for his own selfish interests.

"Villa is the only disturbing element in internal Mexico, and he is a common enemy to both the United States and his native country.

"A revolution is a revolution, and Mr. Carranza must of necessity contend with many awesome problems in bringing to a near-normal condition a country that has been torn as has his country. We must be charitable and give to this man, his government and his country the help they need so sorely. This help has been given in a great measure and it is to be hoped that we Americans will not now permit a deplorable incident such as the Columbus affair, the work of a common enemy of both the United States and Mexico, to displace us from our present effective position of friendship."

MANY AT WEDDING.

In the presence of nearly 200 friends and relatives, Miss Dorothy Bell and Gehrett O. Stocking were married last night in the Pasadena Presbyterian Church, which was transformed into a miniature wooded dell, with ferns, palms and spring flowers. Dr. Matt S. Hughes, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiated.

Miss Maude Barker of Phoenix, Ariz., was maid of honor, while Howard Dorn served Mr. Stocking as best man. Preceding the ceremony a charming musical programme was rendered.

SMART COURT SCENE.

Police Court resembled a smart pink tea yesterday, when a number of people were forced to face the music and left minus several dollars. O. L. Livesey of Galina avenue left his machine too near one of Pasadena's green fire hydrants and was fined $2. J. Ingle of No. 1587 Morton avenue had to part with $3 because he ran his motorcycle with its muffler open. Paul Schuster was fined $10 because he traveled faster than the law allows, and W. L. Barnes had his ball fixed at $25 when he pleaded not guilty to exceeding the speed limit.

CITY BRIEFS.

Contrary to the usual custom of opening the plunge at Brookside Park in the late spring, guests at Hotel Green will this morning give the initial swimming party there.

For the protection of the Arroyo watershed this summer and next fall, the City Commission yesterday declared itself in favor of contributing the maintainance of four fire patrolmen in the watershed. The men will probably work under the direction of the forestry service.

HOBOS DEFEND "MOVIE" TRAMP.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, March 14.—Richard Johnson, a tramp, found several friends indeed today. Johnson was being stoned out of town by a group of irate citizens, who chased the tramp along the railroad track at Seventh and California streets. The crowd was closing in on the poorly-clad unfortunate when three other hoboes "hitting the rail" came upon the scene. Seeing one of their kind in difficulty they did not hesitate to "wade in" on the group of citizens.

It was some time and only after some of the "citizens" received severe beatings at the hands of the real knights of the road that it was explained the stones were only made of cardboard and that Johnson was a character moving picture performer.

The tramps who had "butted in" on the setting made up for their intrusion by lending some real "color" to the next scene, which called for a number of Weary Willies.

PETITION FOR BOND ELECTION IS HEAVILY SIGNED.

Instrument Filed with Commissioner Barretto Contains Nearly as Many Names as There Were Ballots Cast at December Election, When Purchase Proposition Lost.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, March 14.—A petition containing 2373 signatures was filed today with Commissioner Barretto, requesting the City Commissioners to call a bond election for the purchase of the four water companies now serving the city. Nearly as many names are on the petition as there were ballots cast in the December election, when the purchase proposition failed by thirty-one votes.

The petition was filed by Fred Eaton, president of the Municipal Ownership League, which organization strongly favors the purchase of the plants under a new agreement with the water companies by which more than $65,000 will be deducted from the price asked for the plants. The petition contains the names of over 40 per cent. of the voters at the last State election.

Mr. Eaton said today that he is now preparing a report that will show the city will have $150,000 available to make necessary connections to tie the plants together and make of them one large, efficient system. This, he says, will be done without the voting of additional bonds.

Declares Proposition is Now Going Forward that Ought to Make the Beach City Summer-time Mecca of the Whole Southwest—Asks Co-operation.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, March 14.—"We are only in the beginning in this matter of public education," said Superintendent of Schools Rebok today. Mr. Rebok was re-elected last night by the Board of Education for another term of four years, which will make thirteen years that he has served in this city.

"Santa Monica has only approached its opportunity and today we are working on a proposition that ought to make Santa Monica a Mecca for the best men and women of the whole Southwest in vacation time. With the co-operation and support of the good people of Santa Monica this can be done, and you can have an institution here in the summer that will be as famous for Santa Monica as the Chautauqua has become for Chautauqua, N. Y. It can be accomplished by the honest co-operation of all."

While Mr. Rebok did not disclose his plans it became known today that he and the Board of Education are working along the lines of special school work, a phase of education that is particularly adapted to Santa Monica's advantages as a summer resort.

Mr. Rebok will complete his ninth year as head of the Santa Monica schools on July 1. When he took charge of the schools the enrollment was less than [illegible]. Not only has the enrollment increased to 1800 for the day schools, but the high school alone now has about 450 in its night classes. The night school has been one of the advanced features of Mr. Rebok's work here.

Charges Against Superintendent Are Not Borne Out by Secret Votes of Teachers, and Incumbent is Quickly Re-elected by the Board.

LONG BEACH, March 14.—Ignoring a petition containing over 100 signatures, praying that the election of a Superintendent of Schools be postponed two weeks, the Board of Education tonight re-elected Supt. W. L. Stephens for another term of four years.

It was stipulated that his salary should continue at the present sum of $4500 a year for the first two years, and then be increased to $4750 a year.

The board first rejected a motion by Mrs. June McNee, a member of the body, to postpone the election two weeks, to give ample time for further objections to Mr. Stephens's appointment, if there should be any. Some had been heard.

The charges made by townspeople present at the meeting that Supt. Stephens worked the teachers too hard were not sustained. The members of the Men Teachers' Club took a secret ballot today, and out of forty instructors thirty-four voted in favor of the retention of the superintendent, and six against him. Of 186 women teachers 171 voted in favor of Mr. Stephens's re-election, and 15 against, by secret ballot.

SANTA BARBARA, March 14.—H. W. Smith of Morriston, Ill., reputed to be worth $8,000,000, son of the richest man of the eastern town, was arrested today by Sheriff Stewart on telegraphic instructions from Sterling, Ill., where Smith is charged with abducting his 3-year-old son and with desertion.

For two weeks W. H. Ward and W. B. Berlin, detectives from Los Angeles, acting under instructions of Attorney John Daly of Long Beach, have shadowed Smith, seeking to locate the little son. They dogged him all over Los Angeles, Pasadena and other cities and finally traced him here.

He stopped at a hotel with his son and a nurse, but though a daily watch on his movements was kept, it was not till the arrest that the child was found safely in charge of the nurse, at a beautiful house which Smith had just bought for his boy's home.

Judge Rogers made a hurried trip from Ventura, thirty miles distant, this afternoon, to hear the prisoner's petition for a writ of habeas corpus. This was brought for him by Attorney H. P. Starbuck and though the Los Angeles detectives were present, no contest was made. Smith was released on a bond of $500, his sureties being President R. B. Canfield and Vice-President H. P. Lincoln of the First National Bank.

When Smith was arrested $36,000 in bills was found in his pockets, and checks aggregating $30,000 more. He states that when he left Morriston he drew from the bank $100,000, and has a portion of that banked here and invested in a home.

"I settled with my wife by paying her $75,000. We could not get along together and decided to quit. We have two children, twins, and she took one and I the other. My arrest is only an effort to molest and annoy me," he said.

Montecito friends state he is not only extremely wealthy, but upright. They state he married a bank stenographer who was not of his temperament, and therein lies the trouble. His father is said to be worth $10,000,000.

America the Goose that Lays Golden Egg for Nippon, Says Consular Officer — Mikado's Soldiers Realize that Conflict Would be Grim.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, March 14.—E. C. Bellows, United States Consul-General in Japan for seven years, at the Chamber of Commerce banquet today at noon at the Casino cafe spoke on "Japan's Relation to the United States." Two hundred persons were present. Mr. Bellows said he believed the State of California and possibly the Federal government have a problem before them which should be handled in a different way, in regard to the present conditions of immigration.

Newspapers which treated Japanese immigration in a sensational way, especially a San Francisco newspaper, were blamed by the speaker for the agitation a few years ago. Today the United States buys more goods of Japan than of any other one country, he said, adding that Japan has no wish to kill the goose that lays the golden egg. Moreover, he stated, every Japanese soldier knows this nation would fight Japan for forty years, if necessary, should war ever be declared between the two countries.

Pomona Man Who was on the Steamer China when She was Held Up by British Cruiser near Shanghai Tells About Status in Orient.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, March 14.—Having experienced the thrill of being a passenger on a steamship which was stopped three miles out of Shanghai by a six-inch shell from a British battleship, G. B. Richmond of No. 265 East Pasadena avenue reached home today, safe and sound, but glad to get back from the Orient. He sailed from San Francisco January 6 on the China and drifted back through Golden Gate the morning of the 11th inst. All but fourteen days of the intervening time was spent on the water.

When the China pulled out of Shanghai it carried a number of Germans from all parts of Asia, who were anxious to return to the Fatherland by crossing the United States. An English cruiser had been laying for the crowd, and when the China passed outside the three-mile limit the cruiser fired one gun as a signal to heave to. The vessel did not stop, so another blank was fired. At that the China ran up the Stars and Stripes, but continued to plow the waves, whereupon the cruiser sent a shell screaming through her rigging. The China thereupon shut down her engines and threw over a ladder.

Eighteen officers from the cruiser boarded the China, lined up everybody who looked German and made each man and woman talk. The upshot of it was that thirty-eight men were taken off and held as prisoners, because England doesn't want them to return to Germany and join the army. Forty-eight German women were allowed to continue their journey toward Berlin. Upon arriving in San Francisco they were placed in one car and hurried to New York by rail.

Mr. Richmond stopped off at Honolulu and remained long enough to dispose of a piece of property. He says sugar stock is booming there and that real estate is selling briskly. Bank deposits in the city of 60,000 inhabitants amount to $25,000,000. His idea is that Japan contemplates no unfriendly move toward the United States.

"Japan isn't going to grab the Philippines," says he. "They are not going to bother us. The fact of the matter is that they need our help."

ATTEMPT TO POISON WIFE AND HER MOTHER CHARGED

SAN DIEGO, March 14.—Charged with having injected a poison into oranges, then giving the fruit to his wife and mother-in-law, Lesoy J. Crawford, a street-car motorman, was arrested by the police today. Behind the charge and the arrest of Crawford lies a long story of domestic troubles, attributable to the mother-in-law, according to the statements of the accused man.

Mrs. Sylvia O. Crawford, the wife, and Mrs. Mattie Parks, the mother of Mrs. Crawford, assert it was only by a fortunate chance, due to suspicions created by the behavior of Crawford, that they did not eat any of the alleged poisoned oranges. Some of the oranges were turned over by the women to the police and an examination of them is said to have revealed the presence of poison in large quantities.

Crawford asserts his innocence of the charge and to the police said that if any poison was found in the oranges that it had been put there by someone else, as he, himself, had eaten one of the oranges. Crawford and his wife have been married ten years and have two young children.

The charge of attempting to commit murder was placed against Crawford.

MENTONE, March 14.—A tragedy was the result of three small boys "borrowing" a horse and buggy this afternoon to take a ride. Lynne Lolmaugh, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Lolmaugh, of Washington street, Redlands, was drowned in the Santa Ana River below here when the buggy in which the boys were taking the joy-ride was overturned by the swift current of the mountain stream.

The Lolmaugh boy took the horse and buggy from the barn at the home without permission from the father. He picked up George Ordway and Boland Davis, 15-year-old boys, and all went for a long ride. They decided to drive to East Highlands and to ford the river at Church street. The stream is swift there and when one wheel of the buggy dropped into a hole, the vehicle capsized.

Young Ordway and Davis were thrown on a sand-bank and they say the last they saw of the Lolmaugh boy he was fighting in the swift current to save his life.

The boys spread the alarm and search parties were organized here and at Redlands. The body of the boy was found by William Morrison about a mile below the Orange-street bridge, near Redlands.

Chino People to Vote on Sewer and Paving Issues.

CHINO, March 14.—At a special election tomorrow the people of this city will vote on two propositions which call for the issuance of $55,000 bonds for a sewer system and $7300 for street paving. The bonds if issued will run forty years at 6 per cent. and probably not more than 20 per cent. of the present taxpayers will remain to see them retired. Secretary Dillon of the Chamber of Commerce, who has led an active campaign in favor of the bonds, thinks the sewer proposition will carry easily and the paving proposition by a safe margin.

A half-dozen boxes of exhibits in the case of the Union Tool Company against the Willard & Wilson Manufacturing Company, and Elihu C. Wilson against the Union Tool Company, went north yesterday, marked "Edward E. Cushman, Tacoma, Wash."

The consignee is the United States District Court judge, who for the past two weeks has been hearing the evidence in the joined cases involving the alleged infringement of a patent covering an under-reamer.

It is the first time in the history of the Federal court that a half-carload of exhibits has been sent 2000 miles for the personal inspection of a judge in arriving at a decision. An expert will accompany the exhibits, put the various parts together and demonstrate to the court just how the under-reamer works and whether anybody has been injured by the manufacture of a similar device.

DISCUSS IMMIGRANTS.

Sue D. Barnwell and Etta B. Agee, immigration and girls' work secretaries of the Young Women's Christian Association, discussed features of immigration and field work before the reading members of the Clark Memorial Home last night. Russian costume folk dances, esthetic dancing and other events were among the features of the programme. Folk dancing is one of the regular recreations of home like at the Clark home.

Nature's Guarded Secrets

Perhaps it is the avarice of the fishermen that accounts for the decreasing size and advancing price of the pearl; perhaps it is personal vanity or the greed of the producer that explains the deterioration in diamond quality: perhaps it is Nature's subtle rebuke to both.

Proposed scenic boulevard to Pasadena.

The route would be created by continuing Figueroa street northward through Elysian Park, across the river and the Arroyo Seco to Orange Grove avenue. The map shows both existing Pasadena routes with their railroad and street crossings, both to be avoided in the new highway. The proposed boulevard, like the now assured West First street and Glendale boulevards, would bring an enormous volume of traffic to the western side of Bunker Hill, where it would become the prize of the established business district by the opening of direct routes through that barrier on the lines of First and Second streets.

Brokers Sued.

the defendant, made prior to the time of the exchange, to wit: That the stock of the Los Angeles Investment Company was worthless; that the stockholders of said company would lose every cent they had invested; that the Los Angeles Investment Company intended to levy an assessment of 50 cents on each share of its stock in the near future, and so on."

"This is not the only instance of such representations to our smaller stockholders recently," declared William H. Harrison, assistant to President Flint, yesterday. "Half a dozen have complained of the same thing, and it is probable that many more have not as yet told us of their troubles.

"It appears that four or five brokers are working in the city, getting our small stockholders to exchange their stock in this company for all sorts of doubtful paper. In each case they have painted a dark picture of the future of the Investment company, telling of mythical assessments, of approaching crashes, and so on.

"As soon as our stockholder exchanges his stock, the broker immediately sells his acquired Investment company stock, either on the Stock Exchange or to the first buyer he meets.

"It is our intention to take up every case of this kind in behalf of our stockholders. As soon as we can locate the dealers court actions will follow.

"Although there is really no need to refute their stories, I will say that the affairs of the Investment company are in excellent shape, and there is not and never has been during my service on the board of directors even the slightest idea of levying an assessment."

Mr. Aagaard declared last night he is very much surprised that he had been made defendant in such a suit.

"It was a simple open-and-shut business proposition with a contract," he declared. "Everything was straight and aboveboard. I have nothing to fear from any such action, and will contest it to the limit."

Mr. Aagaard stated he would be represented by Attorneys Ford & Hammon. The broker has offices in the I. W. Hellman Building.

The actual linking of Brand boulevard and Lake Shore avenue, forming a street four miles shorter than the present Los Feliz-Vermont route, and three miles shorter than the San Fernando road route, will be completed within the next few months with the construction of a bridge across the river and the grading and paving of the two miles of dedicated right of way between the river and Lake Shore avenue. The bridge has been provided for in this year's municipal budget and proceedings for the necessary street work have been instituted.

SCENIC ROUTE.

Like the Glendale route, the projected Pasadena highway would follow the line of dedicated streets and would open a new and entrancing scenic vista for the automobilist. Its cost, it is pointed out, would be small, the bridge or viaduct across the river being the biggest single item. The necessary amount of street grading, widening and paving would be only slightly greater than that of the Glendale highway.

The route as planned would continue north from the northern end of Figueroa street, passing in a gentle curve through the old Chavez ravine road into Elysian Park, thence following a natural depression in the hills, already well improved, and an old county road through the park, and dropping by easy stages to the river.

Crossing the river and its bordering railroad tracks over a bridge, the highway would follow the present Verdugo Canyon route of the county good roads system for some distance, thence going by an almost direct line through a sightly valley, past Occidental College, and cutting across a corner of Eagle Rock. The rest of the route would be over the county road lying through the Annandale golf links, the Arroyo Seco being crossed on the magnificent new Colorado-street bridge. The boulevard would run into Orange Grove avenue and Colorado street in Pasadena at the point of juncture of these beautiful thoroughfares.

The distance by actual measurement is about the same as that by way of Huntington drive and the Arroyo Seco route, but, unlike these ways to Pasadena, the new boulevard would avoid all railroad crossings, as well as all the cross-currents of traffic tending to halt travel. It would also miss the industrial districts that mar a part of the course of the other routes, going through residence districts and sightly wooded hills. The boulevard, it is declared, would bring an immense volume of travel to Los Angeles, not only from Pasadena, but from the whole of the San Gabriel Valley.

Mr. Lockwood has had a large and varied experience in the carrying out of public improvements, and has played a most important part in the development of the better class of residence subdivisions in his home city. He was the father of Orange Grove avenue, probably the best known of all Southern California streets.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES.

"The possibilities of this new boulevard are wonderful," said Mr. Lockwood yesterday. "It would undoubtedly be the most scenically beautiful of all the highways close to Los Angeles, not even excepting the new Glendale line through the wooded hills back of Edendale and past Silver Lake. Best of all, it would open directly into Orange Grove avenue, having the finest approach imaginable.

"Although of practically the same distance as the present routes to Pasadena, it would be a great time saver, missing, as it would, all dangerous grade crossings and busy intersecting thoroughfares. These are considerations that have real weight in modern boulevard development.

"The relation of such a boulevard to the projected open cut through Bunker Hill will be apparent to anyone who will study a map of the territory. Through such a boulevard would flow an enormous volume of automobile travel from Pasadena, the San Gabriel Valley and Eagle Rock and York valleys. That travel would move down Figueroa street to the open cut, pouring, like that from the new Glendale boulevard, through Second street into Hill, Broadway, Spring and Main. If no direct outlet is provided through the hill it will join the Glendale traffic in a great stream going on down the west side of the barrier.

"I am firmly convinced that the projected open cut is the natural and logical entrance into the business district, not only for the traffic of Northwest Los Angeles, including much of Hollywood, but for all the present and future traffic of the San Fernando Valley, the Beverly Hills district, Brentwood and Santa Monica, as well as the whole of the Glendale, Tropico, Burbank and Pasadena districts. The West First-street boulevard and a connecting boulevard extending to the city limits of Los Angeles and on to Santa Monica are now practically assured, and will certainly be put through soon because of the public necessity for such improvements. The Glendale route is a thing of the immediate future.

URGES OPEN CUT.

"To oppose the Bunker Hill open cut is, in my opinion, a most serious error, indicating short-sightedness and ignorance of the true traffic situation. The open cut would double the usefulness of each of the boulevards named, and I am convinced that the boulevards themselves will result in a wonderful development activity in the sections through which they pass.

"For any of the property owners of the established business district of Los Angeles to oppose the cut is nothing short of suicidal. The open cut would bring the combined traffic from all the sources I have named through Bunker Hill on First and Second streets into the north and south shopping and business streets. It would place the established business district in the comfortable position of being absolutely certain of all this traffic and the trade and business it would represent.

"If the open-cut plan fails of adoption, I do not believe that that same traffic would continue indefinitely to pour down the west side of Bunker Hill through Sixth and Seventh streets and then back north again into Broadway. Shoppers seek the line of least resistance, and the owners of the established retail district would do well to provide a brand-new line of least resistance through Bunker hill with the least possible delay. Otherwise a volume of traffic of absolutely incalculable future magnitude will be claimed by the new and experimental business district that is now springing up so rapidly south of the hill."

PLAY BY JAPANESE.

A play written, staged, directed and acted by Japanese students will be presented this morning at the University of Southern California. The play is in English, and is the work of Rev. M. Furuya, pastor of the Japanese Congregational Church, No. 831 South Hope street.

It is called "The Man of Faith," and deals with the life of the famous Japanese, Joseph Hardy Neeshima, who was the first oriental to be graduated from an American college—Amherst—and was the founder of the Doshisha, the greatest Christian university in Japan.

Neeshima was trained as a son of a Samurai, but in his youth he saw a Dutch battleship, read a history of the United States and found a copy of a Chinese Bible, which interested him in western civilization. He escaped from the country at the risk of his own life, since going abroad was then punishable with death, came to America, and, after suffering great hardships, returned to his country to be greeted with high honor, and spent his life in the university which he founded.

The play will be directed by Katsuma Mukayeda, a student in the university. K. Ogawa will play the chief part, that of Neeshima, and other players will be M. Sato, N. Shimizu, K. Yamamoto, S. Unoura, K. Mukayeda and K. Tsuda. Japanese music will be provided by Mrs. Yayeko Tawewawa. The scenery and costumes will be strictly Japanese in character, and the traditions of the Japanese stage will be followed so far as possible.

The students who take part are all members of the Niju-Shichi-Nichi-Kai, an organization of oriental students. The "Man of Faith" will be repeated in an enlarged form, with five acts instead of three, at the Gamut Club on the evening of March 31.

TO GIVE HOLLYWOOD LOWER WATER RATE.

SERVICE BOARD RECOMMENDS SALE OF BONDS.

Propose Early Completion of Purchase of Union Company Plant, When the District will Enjoy Advantages of City System—Special Inducements to Industries.

Of special interest to the Hollywood district was the action taken by the Public Service Commission yesterday afternoon, in recommending to the City Council that the $1,020,000 bond issue recently authorized by the Hollywood district be issued at once.

It is recommended that these be thirty-year bonds, to be dated June 1, 1916, and the first payment to be made June 1, 1917; that they bear 5 per cent. interest, and that the interest be made payable in June and December of each year.

The declaration was made yesterday that as soon as the bonds are sold and the obligation to the Union Hollywood Water Company for the purchase of the plant is liquidated, the water users of the Hollywood district will have the 75-cent water rate, the same as in the major portion of the city.

The bond market is considered very favorable now for the immediate disposition of the entire issue of these water bonds.

The board authorized sending a statement to the Chamber of Commerce, to be used in connection with the campaign that body is making to secure new industries for Los Angeles, declaring that the municipality will be in a position to furnish very cheap water and electrical energy for industrial purposes.

Application was made by a lumber company, operating in Vernon, for the establishment of a fire hydrant at Forty-fifth and Alameda streets, as a protection to its enterprise. The board decided that, as the concern is located outside the city, it could not give the service.

COLLEGE ELECTION.

Annual Meeting at Occidental Retains Old Members of Board.

Trustees and officers were elected at the annual meeting, yesterday, of the board of trustees of Occidental College. Four trustees, W. E. McVay of Los Angeles and David B. Gamble, Henry S. Carhart and John Willis Baer of Pasadena, whose term of service had expired, were elected their own successors. James G. Warren of Los Angeles, recently elected a trustee, qualified and took his place on the board. The following officers were elected: Hon. Frank P. Flint, president; David B. Gamble, first vice-president; Rev. Robert Freeman, D.D., second vice-president; Rev. W. S. Young, D.D., secretary, and W. E. McVay, treasurer.

Review of the recent ten-day public campaign for funds was made. The official and detailed report of Klink, Bean & Co., auditors of the campaign fund, was presented and approved. The total gifts reported by the auditors were $401,282. To this amount has been added $26,237, making a total to date of $427,519.

The preliminary sketches and plans for improving the new W. C. Patterson athletic field, prepared by Myron Hunt, architect for the college, were placed in the hands of the Building Committee, Dr. E. P. Clapp, chairman. Work on the field will be started as soon as the final plans are submitted by the committee and approved by the board. It is expected the field will be ready for use by next September.

Twofold.

TRUCK HIGHWAY A DOUBLE NEED.

Commercial and Military Uses Demand Harbor Road.

Associated Jobbers Urge that Construction be Resumed.

Ask Supervisors to Provide for this in Next Levy.

The Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles started a movement yesterday that it is expected will result in the construction of the long-discussed motor truck highway between the city proper and the harbor district. The association expects to have the strong co-operation of other business and civic organizations in its purpose to impress upon the Board of Supervisors the necessity for the immediate construction of the highway, both from a commercial and a military point of view.

The action of the Associated Jobbers was the sending of a letter to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in which the history of the motor truck highway was reviewed. The reasons which the association advances for urging the immediate construction of the road are concisely set forth, and the chamber is asked to take prompt action in indorsing the project and urging the Board of Supervisors to continue the work that has already been started.

It was under the initiative of the Jobbers' Association that the plan for a motor truck highway, separate from the present city-to-harbor section of the county highway system, was promoted. Through its activities the business organizations of Long Beach, San Pedro, Wilmington and Compton were directly interested, and rights of way were secured. The route runs in a line twenty miles in length from Seventh and Alameda streets to Wilmington, traversing Alameda street and then runs directly toward the harbor through Watts and Compton, and from thence practically paralleling the Southern Pacific to Wilmington.

CONSTRUCTION BEGUN.

A forty-foot right of way was provided, the route was surveyed, and was accepted. Actual construction work was begun and carried on a short time. Then came the agitation for the bond issue, which went down to defeat. The Board of Supervisors then took the stand that there was not a strong demand for the highway and funds that might have been used for the continuance of construction were diverted to other purposes.

The result has been that the county highway between the city and Wilmington has carried an enormous heavy traffic in motor trucks, as well as a vast traffic in other vehicles. Promoters of the plan for a motor truck highway are certain that the road now in use cannot stand up under the burden it bears. They say it is rapidly disintegrating.

As a means of giving direct service on the shortest possible route for commercial traffic, and as a means of use in possible military movements, the Jobbers' Association urges the importance of the immediate construction of the motor truck highway. It believes such a highway would be a great incentive in building up the harbor district, and would open up new areas for industrial development as well as being of great advantage in the wholesaling and general commercial interests of Los Angeles.

It is proposed that there be constructed a road with an 18-inch rock base, covered with eight inches of concrete. The route selected is practically on grade, there being not more than one-half of 1 per cent. grade at any point. There would be no bridges of importance required, and there is a special advantage in the fact that no streets are crossed in the central portion. The length of road through the county would have to be about eleven miles. Estimates that have just been brought down to date show that this would require an outlay of $440,000.

It is proposed that this road shall be constructed out of the general funds of the county. Because of its importance, the Board of Supervisors will be urged to make provision for its construction at one time, instead of making appropriations for two or three years for this purpose. The associations interested believe the project of such importance they will prove that this outlay be considered in fixing the county tax rate for the coming year. It is urged that the county can build the road cheaper now than later on.

Its importance from a military point of view has also been specially considered. With the probable location of a naval base at San Pedro and the increasing importance of Fort MacArthur demands for an adequate highway for speedy transportation of men and supplies can scarcely be overestimated. Inadequacy of railroad service for such possible movements has been set forth in the press within the past few days.

In its letter to the Chamber of Commerce, the Associated Jobbers set forth that an adequate motor truck highway from the port is an absolute necessity in the fight for terminal rates. In a recent decision the state Commerce Commission arbitrarily divorced the city of Los Angeles from its port, granting of the carriers a certain back-haul charge from the port in addition to the terminal rates, and these back-haul charges aggregate over a million dollars per annum to the shippers of this city. A considerable amount of traffic is routed from the East to Wilmington for Los Angeles, taking delivery at Wilmington, and is trucked to Los Angeles. The trucking service from the port has been the means of effectively driving at a compromise with the carriers, and instead of a general reduction, amounting to 5 cents per 100 pounds, they will receive in a short time an arbitrary of 2 cents per 100 pounds. This represents the difference in trucking from Wilmington to store doors in Los Angeles, and from the team tracks and depots in Los Angeles. While the matter is now in process of publication, which fact will save to the city over $300,000 per annum.

In addition to this saving, the completion of the road is absolutely necessary for the building of the harbor district. This district will not improve, warehouses and merchants and manufacturers will not come there unless there is a guarantee of a good motor truck road, as we must be entirely independent of the railroads which cannot perform the service so economically as a truck line.

Another reason, to which recent developments give emphasis, is the great advantage of a road such as this for military use, and its possible value in conveying supplies rapidly to the water transportation and fortification at the harbor.

Two Weeks More!

Times Auto Campaign Nears Close—Special Offer Now On Starts Keen Rivalry.

Eagerly grasping the present special offer of 80,000 bonus votes, with a big $75 gold prize to be sold, candidates in The Times automobile and prize campaign are marshaling their forces for the grand final effort that will land them among the forty prize-winners on March 29th.

Exactly two weeks from today the campaign will end. Exactly one week from today the special offer terminates. Realizing that the last club and gold offer is at hand, efforts almost speechless in their immensity are being made by candidates in their rush to build vote sums that will stand the test of battle during the final week.

Adding to the uncertainty of the outcome, new candidates are daily casting their lot with the older aspirants in the effort to tempt fortune in their direction. Yesterday two young women entered their race; the day before, three entered. But what strength these new candidates have is a matter of conjecture, and older candidates have announced their intention of taking no chances, but will establish themselves on a firm basis by way of the present special offer.

The free vote coupon appears today for the last time, but, in order to allow out-of-town candidates time to get their coupons in, they will be accepted until Sunday, March 19. Positively no coupons will be accepted after that date. After today, the only method of obtaining votes is through subscriptions to The Times.

New subscriptions count by far the most, for not only do they entitle a candidate to twice as many votes as an old subscription, but all new subscriptions may be used to build up five-year subs and incidentally may win the $75 in gold. Full appreciation of the magnificent liberality which offer extends is leading the ambitious candidates in every district to redouble and treble their former efforts. The word "failure" isn't in their lexicon. The only thing they keep before them is the necessity of accumulating votes, votes, votes!—for to get the most of these is to be a joyful winner.

Reports continue to come in to the Campaign Office of unprecedented enthusiasm on the part of outside towns for their favorite candidates. This keen rivalry promises a battle royal for votes ere the final day is over. There's a great element of pride in being able to say that Miss So-and-So, who won this or that prize, is "from our town." And friends of the candidates are doing everything within their power to make possible that assertion later on.

That isn't all, though. Los Angeles candidates have their forces lined up, too. They, in turn, are proudly forging ahead in a manner that recognizes no defeat. All of which is commanding the interest of the entire Southwest. As it stands, one candidate has as good a chance as any other. There are none who have made victory certain, rumors to the contrary notwithstanding. Remarks may be spread that certain candidates have a firm hold on the lead. Such statements are misleading, and emanate merely for the purpose of discouraging others, who otherwise would be dangerous competitors. To pass them by without attention, is to accord them their just due.

The fairness and equitableness of The Times campaign has, since it first commenced, been its greatest asset. The full realization of this is what leads most of the candidates to enter the campaign, and their confidence is safely placed.

The ease with which advancement can be made during the remaining week of the present special offer is readily apparent to one who will reflect a moment. One club alone is about enough to enable a new starter to equal the standing of the highest candidate. After that, a little scurrying about among friends will yield surprising results and—maybe an automobile.

Voting is daily on the increase, and new candidates who contemplate entering should do so before it is too late. The nomination period will soon close. The votes below, tabulated on the Burroughs adding machine, include all received up to noon yesterday.

Concerning "Old" and "New" Subscribers.

An OLD SUBSCRIBER is any person to whom The Times was being regularly delivered either by The Times or one of its route men or agents, or by mail, on the opening day of this campaign (January 13, 1916.) It makes no difference whether payment for the paper was being made by the month or for a longer period; whether at the beginning or at the end of any given period of time; whether to The Times office direct, to one of its agents, collectors or route men, or by mail.

Even though the subscriber may have stopped The Times since the opening of this campaign, and later renewed it, he is still an old subscriber.

A NEW SUBSCRIBER is any person who began to regularly receive The Times SINCE January 13, but was NOT regularly receiving it on and just preceding that day. Any person who has subscribed to The Times in the past, but stopped the paper BEFORE January 13, and renews SINCE that day, will be considered a new subscriber, just as would any person who has never taken The Times before.

ALL NEW subscribers, having ordered the paper during this contest for a short period, who desire to lengthen their subscription by making a second payment, will still be classified as new subscribers. Once new, always new, so far as the purposes of this campaign are concerned. On the other hand, an "old" subscription likewise will always continue to be old.

Persons buying The Times at newsstands or on the streets are not considered regular subscribers.

Subscribers to The Sunday Times only, who change to The Daily, or Daily and Sunday Times, thus become new subscribers, regardless of when they began taking the Sunday only paper.

Candidates must make a thorough investigation of every subscription they secure, before marking it either "old" or "new." Out-of-town candidates can verify subscriptions by consulting The Times agent in their territory. When you mark a subscription, BE SURE IT IS RIGHT.

Under no circumstances will the practice of "switching" subscriptions be tolerated, and attempts to thus gain extra votes will prove utterly useless in the end. Some candidates are under the misapprehension that, if The Times is going to a certain address and is merely changed to another member of the family or household or any other person at the same address, such procedure will make a new subscriber out of an old one. It is utter fallacy.

The object of adding New Subscribers is to increase the number of names to which the paper is sent. But, if you have three apples, and eat one, replacing it with a fresh apple, you still have three apples, haven't you?

Business: Money, Stocks, Bonds—Trade—Local Produce Market—Citrus Markets

WALL STREET MARKS UP BEST BUSINESS OF YEAR.

Greater Strength, Breadth and Activity Attend Session and the Upward Trend is Unchecked Until Near Closing. War Shares, Rails and Industrials are All in Demand for Investment—German Exchage Drops Again.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 14.—Greater strength, breadth and activity attended today's market, dealings amounting to 1,100,000 shares, or a record for the year to date. The movement began at the opening and continued with little interruption until the final hour, when some specialties, notably Crucible Steel, yielded fractions to several points from maximum prices. All important branches of commerce and industry, as well as railroad earnings, are proceeding at an almost unprecedented rate of activity while prices of most products and commodities are steadily mounting. War shares and industrial and equipment issues coming with that category were today's most prominent features, American Locomotive, Crucible Steel and Westinghouse Electric leading that division with gains of 2 to almost 6 points, while a score of semi-war descriptions, including oils, sugars and shipping shares, recorded similar advances. United States Steel assumed its old place as active leader, with a total of 140,000 shares, or about 15 per cent. of the day's turnover, at an extreme gain of 1 to 80⅛. Bethlehem Steel added 25¼ to yesterday's spectacular rise, touching 550. Rails were in excellent demand, particularly Reading, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Grangers and some of the Eastern trunk lines. Reading's advance of 3⅜ to 87⅛ presented a record price for that stock since its quotation in dollars on the local board. There were a few backward features, including express and tobacco issue and United States Industrial Alcohol. A new low record of 71⅜ for marks featured the foreign exchange market, with light trading in sterling and francs. Bonds were irregular at first, but hardened later in response to an inquiry for investment issues. Total sales, par value, were $2,650,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

BIG JIM ACTIVE ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

MINING STOCKS MONOPOLIZE ATTENTION OF INVESTORS.

Higher Prices Paid for Boundary Cone—Interest Revives in Ivanhoe, with Resultant Heavy Sales—Union Oil Sells Firm—Home Telephone Common in Demand.

Continued heavy trading in the mining list was the dominant factor at yesterday's session of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Big Jim was in constant call and prices had a tendency to advance, although the majority of sales were at the firm price of 1.70. Boundary Cone was the next security to show the greatest advance during the day, the stock opening in the morning at 54⅞ and closing in the afternoon at 55¼ bid, 56 asked. For the first time in several weeks, a good demand for Ivanhoe was exhibited on the part of speculators, and buyer options were in demand by the professional element. Transactions were registered in Arizona Tom Reed, Gold Dust and Tom Reed at strong prices and 500 shares of United Eastern changed hands at the better figure of 4.15. Renewed interest in the oil list brought out many sales, Union selling firm at 71.00 and 3 of the bonds of the same company bringing 88¾ off board. One fairly large sale of 140 shares was registered in Amalgamated at 83.00 and both Columbia and Central attracted attention at unchanged quotations. Less interest in National Pacific resulted in the stock weakening a trifle. Among the industrials Los Angeles Investment was steady and 50 shares of Home Telephone Common were traded in at 26.00.

BUYING BY SHORTS ADVANCES PRICES.

Liverpool Continues to Actively Demand the Actual Goods and this is Reflected by Strengthening Tone on this Side—Damage by Drouth Reported from Two States.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 14.—Another advance took place today with cotton shorts furnishing the greater part of the buying power. The confidence of those entertaining constructive ideas was strengthened by the upward tendency displayed in southern spot markets, and the augmented demand for the actual at Liverpool. Sales for the day amounted to 10,000 bales. Complaints were heard that drouth in Oklahoma and Texas had retarded crop progress. Clearances for the day were fairly liberal, amounting to 25,642 bales. Supplies in foreign markets are down to a low ebb, and it is reported that buying for this amount is growing larger daily. Liverpool cables due 12½ higher on March and May, 13 higher on July and 11½ higher on October, came 2 lower than due on March, and ¼ lower on May and July. Spot cotton was active; prices steady; sales, 10,000; receipts, 14,000; American, 13,000; middlings, 7.66; futures opened firm.

FEARING DEFEAT, LAWYER GIVES UP.

NO CHANCE TO WIN CASE, HE TELLS THE COURT.

Client Ready to Proceed When Attorney Announces His Cause Is Hopeless and Asks Leave to Retire—Suit for Damages for Death of Boy Crushed by Oil Trucks.

"I don't think I ever heard of a case of this kind. It is the first time I have had to deal with one since I have been on the bench," was the comment of Judge Wellborn yesterday, when Attorney J. W. Hocker wanted to withdraw as the attorney for Hugh McInerney, because he did not believe he could win his suit, and Mr. McInerney wanted the suit to come to trial.

The action was against the Amalgamated Oil Company, Charles E. Houston and Thomas E. T. Cary, drivers. Hugh L. McInerney, 15 years old, son of Mr. McInerney, was crushed between two of the Amalgamated trucks, and the father asked $40,650 damages for the loss of his boy, alleging that the drivers were negligent. The accident occurred on Seventh street, October 14, 1914.

Four lawyers, six witnesses and the defendant drivers were in court, ready to take part in the trial when Attorney Hocker dropped the bomb. He said he had visited the scene of the accident, obtained the evidence of witnesses, and quite frankly told the court he believed he could not win the case. He wanted to withdraw, and if Mr. McInerney retained another lawyer, he was quite willing to give him all the information he had.

"I won't quit unless Mr. McInerney wants me to," said Attorney Hocker. "I have told him frankly I did not see a way to win the case. I consulted a lawyer of twenty years' practice, and his opinion agreed with mine."

"No court can compel a lawyer to try a case when he does not believe in it," said the court. He said he would require Mr. McInerney to procure a lawyer before the case is reset for trial. Before it is reset, Mr. McInerney will be required to pay to Attorney McFarland, one of the defendant's counsel, $25.20 witness fees.

GOES TO IONE.
BETRAYS A TRUST.

Howard Main, the boy bank messenger who ran away with $4000 in gold belonging to the Commercial National Bank, was brought to a full realization of his folly when given practically a two-years' sentence to the Preston School of Industry at Ione, yesterday, by Judge McCormick. When he arrives at his majority he is to report back to the local court for final disposition of his case. Judge McCormick intimated that if his conduct at Ione is exemplary and he applied himself industriously to the study of a trade, he would be given freedom upon return.

Young Main had been with the bank only a few weeks when sent to the United States National for $4000 in gold. Becoming possessed of the dream of what this wealth might bring him in the way of immediate pleasures, he caught a car for Redlands, where he bought a motorcycle.

He drove to Indio and there took a train to El Paso. After a week of pleasure in that city, during which time he spent approximately $1000, he was captured. He confessed his guilt, then repudiated his confession, when arraigned in the Superior Court, and finally plead guilty a second time, asking for probation.

PROOF LOST.
DENIED ESTATE.

Holding that the evidence was insufficient, Judge Rives of the Probate Court denied the petition of a foster daughter of Mrs. Helen McCombs to distribute the estate to her, and ordered the estate distributed to Frank J. Nuttall, who was named the chief beneficiary in Mrs. McCombs's will. The foster daughter, Mrs. Helen McCombs Fairchild, declared that she had been adopted by Mrs. McCombs and had been ignored in the will. The adoption papers could not be produced, as they were destroyed, it was stated.

Mrs. McCombs left an estate of $9500, all but $500 of which was given to Mr. Nuttall. He was her companion on an automobile ride on Lookout Mountain when an accident occurred and Mrs. McCombs lost her life. Mr. Nuttall was charged with murder, but was acquitted.

Mrs. McCombs bequeathed in her will $500 to Mrs. J. D. Newcomb of Argenta, Ark., and $1 to any person who contested the will. Judge Rives, passing on the petitions before him, stated that Mrs. Fairchild was no doubt Mrs. McCombs's adopted daughter, but she had not been able to prove it.

TOO LATE.
NO FRAUD FOUND.

A land deal negotiated in 1911, which brought R. H. Edwards and Dr. J. M. Glaze into court, resulting in a vigorous legal battle, was won by Dr. Glaze yesterday, when Judge Finlayson held there had been no fraudulent representation at the time Mr. Edwards bought forty acres near Porterville.

Mr. Edwards, a neighbor of Dr. Glaze, claimed when he bought the ranch it was represented that there was sufficient water for irrigation for citrus fruit. He got water, but not enough, and he brought suit to recover $5425, of which $1223 was special damages. Dr. Glaze was represented by Attorney Emmet H. Wilson.

Judge Finlayson found that the action had been barred by the statute of limitation; also, he found that there had been a settlement in April, 1913, whereby Mr. Edwards waived any claim he might have for damages by reason of any fraudulent representations made at the time of the sale of the property.

BANK DEPOSIT
CLAIMED IN ESTATE.

Lillian Russell, not the actress, was joined as defendant with the Security Trust and Savings Bank by the children of John W. Fletcher, and the latter's widow, Elizabeth S. West, in a suit yesterday to restrain them from withdrawing or disposing of $5000 on deposit at the bank, alleged to have been deposited under the joint name of Lillian Russell and J. E. Russell. It is alleged in the complaint that J. E. Russell is no other than John W. Fletcher, that the $5000 is community property, and that Lillian Russell persuaded Mr. Fletcher to place the money in the bank in this manner. The children include Alfred Fletcher, Isabelle Coyne, Annie Cannon and Margaret Fletcher.

Alfred Fletcher is preparing to file a petition for letters of administration on his father's estate. The claim is made that it is community property, and the court is asked to keep the fortune intact until the matter gets into the Probate Court.

GOOD SOLDIER.
RECORD MAY SAVE.

Having been a soldier, C. B. Weber may receive another chance to prove his worth. He came up yesterday morning before Judge McCormick on a charge of forgery, to which he confessed.

Capt. Frank McReynolds, former National Guard officer, appeared on behalf of the youth and stated that he had been of exemplary character while in the service, particularly during the time he had been on duty at Calexico, about two years ago, when a crisis threatened with Mexico.

Judge McCormick did not grant freedom, but sentenced Weber to a month in the County Jail, while his habits were investigated and his past more thoroughly gone into. If he proves worthy during this time of probation he may escape a final penitentiary sentence.

EXHIBIT MODED.
SCENE OF ACCIDENT.

Damage suits for two of the four persons who were killed at Tenth and California streets, Long Beach, August 15, 1915, when a Salt Lake train struck a jitney bus owned by Leon Hoyst, came on for trial before a jury in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday. The suits of Henry Wellenman, whose wife, Rebecca, and daughter, Gladys, were passengers in the jitney bus, were consolidated. He asks a total of $50,000 damages for their deaths, alleging negligence on the part of the Salt Lake and Mr. Hoyst, the latter being joined as defendant.

For the benefit of the jury in gaining a clear idea of the scene of the accident, the Salt Lake produced in court a miniature of that portion of the city intersected by Tenth and California streets. Thus, while the witnesses are being heard, the jury may, by glancing at the houses and tracks, see exactly the course the railroad train and the jitney bus took and how the accident happened.

AGAIN DELAYED.
MISS CLAYBURGH'S CASE.

"Continued in our next," would be quite an appropriate sign to attach to the writ of habeas corpus proceedings involving the release of Miss Isabel Clayburgh, alleged associate in the Seattle blackmailing conspiracies. When the matter came up before Judge Wilbur yesterday morning the handsome young woman again had opportunity to express disappointment at having to remain in the County Jail for a few days more. Her attorneys stated to the court that the certified copy of the conspiracy statute of the State of Washington had not yet arrived, although supposed to be on the way, according to advices from the Secretary of State. Judge Wilbur granted a continuance until tomorrow morning, the tenth continuance since Miss Clayburgh has been brought before the court.

PLEAD GUILTY.
CHARGE OF ARSON.

Albert Jones and Sarah Warnock, accused of arson in connection with an alleged attempt to destroy a rooming-house which they operated at No. 101½ South Wilmington street, appeared before Judge McCormick yesterday and pleaded guilty. They asked for probation. The hearing on this and the sentence will be decided tomorrow, unless continued to a later date.

APPRAISAL MAPS ARE STORM CENTER.

COUNCIL AND CITY ASSESSOR IN ROW OVER PURCHASE.

Superintendent of Joint Appraisal Bureau Says City Official is Out of Line with Modern Thought and Progress and Pays Some Added Compliments to Him.

The City Council's skirmish with City Assessor Mallard over the purchase of maps, representing the work of the Joint Bureau of Appraisal, was continued yesterday until a truce was declared, with honors about even. In the meantime, James G. Stafford, superintendent of appraisals for the bureau, was asked to present his side of the controversy to the Council today.

The maps in question, according to Mr. Stafford, are practically the only record of the work of the Joint Appraisal Bureau that can be available to the taxpayers for future study and comparison will be a set of complete maps. Some time ago, City Assessor Mallard says, copies of these maps were offered for $100 or less, and now the price asked is $342. This is explained by Mr. Stafford, who says the work could have been done for much less while the organization of the bureau was intact.

The Council appropriated the money to purchase the maps and thus far the City Assessor has refused to buy them.

Mr. Stafford issued a statement saying:

The establishment of a uniform method of land value appraisal and furnishing the Assessor's offices and the Board of Equalization with the machinery necessary for the continuation of such work was, as I understand it, the central idea about which the organization of the Joint Bureau of Appraisal revolved. Apparently Mr. Mallard does not wish to have his methods standardized in any modern efficient way of making tax valuations. He is merely continuing his course of last year, throwing impediments before the progress of the Joint Bureau of Appraisal, which has attempted to establish a common-sense method for making an equalized tax assessment.

Should the work of the Joint Bureau of Appraisal be concluded without such a set of permanent records being left readily accessible to the tax-paying public I would consider the expense to which the city and county have gone in doing this work in the last ten months, largely thrown away. Such cities as New York, Cleveland, Chicago, Portland, Or.; Phoenix, San Antonio, St. Paul, Denver and dozens of other smaller places have such sets of assessment records readily available to the tax-paying public.

These maps assist greatly in bringing equity into the tax assessment, and result in a wider understanding of the basis upon which the tax assessment is made.

Mr. Mallard is entirely out of line with modern thought and progress in tax valuation work. He does not care to let the tax-paying public know the basis upon which his tax assessments rest, nor permit it to have any more information than that which he has given them in the past, when assessing methods have been hidden under a cloud of mystery and little or no satisfaction granted the members of the community which through their contributions in tax money make possible the continuation of municipal activity.

VOTE IS DEMANDED
ON TELEPHONE PURCHASE.

Representatives of the Campaign Committee seeking the purchase by the city of the Sunset telephone lines announced yesterday that the initiative petition, seeking to place the question of a bond issue for the purchase of the Sunset lines before the people at the next election, is ready. The bond proposition calls for issuance under the provision whereby the bonds used to buy a public utility will be a lien only upon the property of the public utility.

As a part of the programme, the Campaign Committee will present to the Council today a formal demand that the Council take a stand on the question of whether it will submit the bond question to the voters.

Postcard Canvass.

The postcard canvass to ascertain the sentiment of property owners in the assessment district who are for or against the Bunker Hill open cut will be started today when most of the 3500 postcards will be sent out by the City Clerk. Each notification will bear the amount of the tentative assessment against each piece of property and the owner will be asked to state whether he favors the improvement.

City Hall Notes.

The Police Commission yesterday denied the application of Eugene G. Mason for a billard half license at Culver City after a petition was presented, signed by 90 per cent. of the registered voters in the precinct, asking that the license be granted.

The hearing of Schaffer & Schaffer, proprietors of a saloon at Fifth and Central, charged with making false affidavits in their application for a license, was postponed for two weeks yesterday by the Police Commission.

Formal notice was taken by the Council yesterday of the movement for annexation of the Westgate district north of the Palms and west of Sawtelle, when a resolution was adopted pledging the call of an election for annexation when the residents of that district vote to join the city.

The Public Utilities Board yesterday ordered the Pacific Electric Railway to stop for passengers at the point where Lake Shore boulevard passes under Sunset boulevard. The city has recently completed a flight of steps from one street to the othe and transfers may be made hereafter at the point.

The request of City Assessor Mallard for overtime salary allowances for men in his department was denied lard was permitted to protest before yard was permitted to protest before the roll was called and he was answered by Councilman Conwell, who said that the men who work overtime three months of the year have very little to do the other nine months.

TO VISIT SCHOOLS.

County to Send out Advisers for Children and Parents.

For the purpose of encouraging greater activity of county school students at home, the Board of Supervisors yesterday decided to appoint a committee of five student visitors, who are to visit the schools as well as the homes of the boys and girls. The visitors are to assist in the advancement of the pupil, both at home and in the school, suggesting methods of domestic improvement, to both parents and children.

The student visitors are to work for a period of six weeks without pay, after which they are to receive $50 a month, which is supposed to be spent principally for expenses incurred while traveling about the rural districts. They will be chosen under civil service regulations.
